EVERY ESSENTIAL TO CANADA'S PROGRESS

Wall Street Journal Reprints Long Article on Canada's Growing Time.

I have visited both western and eastern Canada and am convinced that this country has entered upon a long period of prosperity. From time to time there will doubtless be checks to the prosperity, but these always come at stages which make rapid progress and the reactions are necessary to prevent inflation. But here is not likely to be even a check to the expansion for several years.

The most disastrous thing that could come to Canada at this time would be an outbreak of war in Europe which would check the inflow of British capital and of immigrants. With peace maintained nothing will be lacking to assure to Canada a period of great progress, of active trade, of increasing wealth and a growth of population proportionately greater than that of any other country in the world.

The primary factor making for progress is the possession by Canada of great undeveloped resources, of natural wealth—agricultural, mineral, forestal and piscatorial. The greatest of these natural resources is the vast tracts of undeveloped and virgin lands that are merely waiting for farmers to produce a supply of foodstuffs sufficient to support a great population.

The second factor making for growth is the willingness of Great Britain to find all the capital that Canada can profitably employ, and to supply it at a low rate of interest in comparison with the rates of interest usually required from young countries.

A third factor of great import is the ability and foresightedness of Canada's statesmen. They recognize that the essential thing to be worked for is to open up the country and to admit population on the country and to admit population of the settlement of the entire country, Dominion and Provincial, and at the same time directed to the extension of railways. This is the plan of the government and it is this policy that is being carried out.

A fourth factor of great moment and weight is the world's special need of new sources of food supplies at the present time and the high prices that are now current for food of all descriptions. The condition of affairs is such that the world is in a great need of sources of capital and of the skill of the farmer and the statesman.

One of the great failures which prevented the development of Canada in the past has been the inability to attract capital and to attract labor and to develop the natural resources of the country.

A SURPRISING MINISTER

For many years there has been a sad failure to develop the resources of the country and to attract capital and to attract labor.

But the time is favorable for Canada to obtain the large numbers of immigrants that are necessary for the development of the country and for the attraction of capital and for the attraction of labor.

Whence the Wonderful Bread-Life in Five Roses

DO YOU know, Madam, that blowing from the Lake of the Woods clear to the snow-peaked Rockies are the finest wheatlands that ever threw back golden kisses to a smiling sun?

Our selection of a birthplace was indeed most judicious. We cannot too fervently congratulate ourselves over being born Canadians, can we?

All the infinite resources of Provident Nature have concentrated to produce in our own Northwest a perfect bread berry.

Just listen to the explanation of Sir James Grant, a real C.M.G.: "The intense winter frost penetrates deep into the ground. In the spring when the soil is ploughed, harrowed and planted, the lower depths are not greatly disturbed; but in the warm summer months this soil storage chamber of nature imparts warmth to the roots of the grain, keeping it cool during the intense heat."
