Mr. Piccott in presenting the petition stated that last summer those using trawls secured good catches while very little was done with traps, and added that as the fishermen themselves were the best judges of what they required, it gave him much pleasure to ask the Government to accede to their request to be up and doing that makes the healthy child so much of a nuisance to the people who wish to have everything quiet and "orderly." The first thing to do when a child shows symptoms of "laziness" is to have him examined by a competent physifound that the cause of juvenile inactivity is impaired health, if not actual disease.

When the child sits or lies about without caring to do anything, without even getting into mischief, there s generally something wrong.

There are many modest men extant, but owing to the said modesty, most of them haven't been discovered. Almost all men are modest in one ceased leaves three brothers, Thomline or another. Some men are so modest that they will not allow the newspapers to publish pictures of Angela and Katie to mourn a dear their magnificent new residences; and some are so modest that they write whole articles about their unwillingness to spend money for pretentious living. Many financiers are so modest that they make as much as $10,000,000 in a year, and nobody knows it until the grand jury roots it out; while some statesmen cannot do their best work, and are nervous as cats when they think anyone is listening through the keyhole.

Obituary. MR. JOHN J. FINN. To the Trade! Death's icy hand has claimed another Carbonear young man in the person of John J. Finn, whose soul winged its flight to the Great Beyond on the 20th April, before he had completed his twenty-first birthday he was at Labrador prosecuting the fishery with his father and brothers

Not feeling well, he returned from the coast a little before the conclusion of the voyage, hoping that with home comforts and the loving ministra-tions of an affectionate mother he would soon regain his wonted good health. However, he did not seem to make that progress towards health that his family and friends so much desired. About November last he had an attack of peritonitis which kept him in bed for a period of forty days.

He apparently recovered during Xmas and it was thought that with extra care and attention the fullness of health would once again be his.

For some weeks after his acute illness, he appeared to be improving and was able to be about. About the middle of February he caught a heavy cold which undoubtedly caused serious trouble in a system by no means strong, after some months of indifferent health. Notwithstanding the unremitting attention of loving parents and skilled medical attendance poor John gradually became weaker. In his illness he was com forted by the religious ministrations of the Rt. Rev. Mgr. McCarthy, who imparted to him the last rites of the Catholic Church. In his dying moments he had the consolation of having by his bedside those nearest and dearest to him. His funeral which took place on Thursday, 22nd inst.

was one of the largest seen in this town for a long while. The services
