home. The funeral took place on Thursday last, interment being made in the Church of England Cemetery, the Rev. W. R. J. Higgitt performing the last rites. We offer sympathy to the bereaved family.

We note the passing of two of our former townsman, the late Samuel Davis and George Hutchings, who had their homes in the city for some years, and where their deaths occurred. The family and friends of both have our sympathy.

Much has been talked off within the last month regarding the long proposed Hospital for Hr. Grace, and the chief question now seems to be: Can we not have a "Cottage Hospital?" That is if it is not possible to act on a larger scale, and which it seems so at the present time, and has been since the "Brae-Head Property" was so kindly donated by the Munn family for a Hospital site. This emergency idea would fill the bill until such time as suitable and opportune to go ahead as anticipated by the old Committee formed some time ago. There seems to be no reason why this "Cottage Hospital" to cope with emergency cases especially, should not interest the whole town, and, if everyone will do their bit towards furthering the project, we are convinced in time they will be amply repaid for any effort made to help the thing along. Maybe, it would be the means of saving many and perhaps, unnecessarily. The ball has been started rolling, and we be-lieve, the interest of the public is aroused, and we await to bear something further on the matter. The Rev. W. R. J. Higgitt indeed struck the right note when expressing his thoughts in our local paper, and it is: pleasing to note, others have responded to his remarks, but let us hope that something definite will be done

No doubt, the fact that Bell Island will resume operations was learned by all with much thankfulness. Although, on a very small scale business will be carried on and only deserving men employed, it will mean a matter of great importance to those depending on this as a means of livelihood.

Obituary.

CHARLES ANDREWS.

The death occurred last midnight o Charles Andrews, printer, at the age side her husband, she leaves, two of 38 years. For more than three former marriage, and Mary, by the distressful malady. At times he was able to be about and manfully strug gled to do a little work, but the fateful decree had gone forth and he knew the end was not far off. Charlie Andrews served his apprenticeship in the News Office, later joining the Free Press staff and subsequently working in other shops. A ew years ago when his health began to give out he found employment as onductor on the Street Railway system, but during the past couple of years was associated with his brother, Mr. George Andrews, in the Andrews printing establishment on Duckworth Street East. He was a faithful and steady worker, quiet and unassuming in disposition, a good citizen, and a man generally esteemed. His early passing is deeply regretted by his coworkers of other days, and his many riends. To the sorrowing widow, and little ones, as well as other relatives we offer deepest sympathy.
