Many Small Boats With Their Occupiants Missing.

Peoria, Ill., July 13.—Peoria Lake was last evening the scene of shorrible catastrophe. A cyolone struck it about 10:30 p.m., and capsized the Frankie Folsom, an excursion steamer, with a party from Pekin. There were about 40 persons on board. All but eighteen of them have been accounted for. It is believed that these are dead. It is positively known that fully a dozen perished. No one scaped from the cabin. Almost every rowboat on the lake was out at the time of the storm, and it is feared that many Peorians have gone down.

MORE BODIES RECOVERED.

Up to 2 colock this morning nine bodies had been recovered from the wreck of the Frankie Folsom, and the search continues. The list of casualties so far is as follows: Mrs. Frank Fisher and daughter Cora, Mrs. Henry Durdicker, John Ahrends, Miss Corey, Mrs. M. Wiles, Maud Ford and two unidentified, one a man and the other a woman. It is believed six more bodies will be found. Capt. Loesch, master of the boat says: "A party of about 40 from Pekin went to see Pain's 'Last Days of Iompeli.' After the exhibition they pulled out, and when in the middle of the river the storm struck them with great fury. The captain attempted to head the steamer toward the shore, and as he did so a terrific gust of wind struck the with great fury. A SECOND STORM.

A Second storm blew up. It was not as severe as the first, but memories of the catastrophe caused men to work with greatest cantion.

Miss Heppler, of Streator, was rescued in an insensible condition, and it is impossible to tell whether she will recover or not. James Thomas was badly injured and is in the hospital. Mrs. Kate Eeebe, of Pekin, is known to have been lost. Her father, Henry Zuckweiler, was dragged out of the water as he was going down the last time. John Smith is also believed to have perished. When the boat capsized the women were mostly TEN YICHMS.

Another body has been recovered, making a total of ten. It is that of Lottie Reitler, a young girl whose home is in Pekin.

This FILOTY'S STORY.

It is said the accident was caused by the pilot becoming seared when the storm struck them. Had he kept the boat headed for the Willows, on the apposite bank, there would have been no danger of it capsizing. His description of the scene is realistic. When the storm struck the boat there was the wildest scene imaginable. Men and women haddled to the side from the shore, and when the boat careened over many wereswept off. The vessel settled rapidly to the bottom of the river, and every gust of the tornade would sweep some poor unfortunate off into the waves. The wind was blowing directly off shore, but the screams of the women and the hoarse shouts of the men could be heard above the fury of the terrible storm.

When the storm broke the lake and river were filled with boats of every description. There are over 200 pleasure boats at the yards, and this morning only 96 of them had been accounted for.

Peoria Lake is an expansion of the Illinois River, is 22 miles long, three miles in maximum breadth and very deep. It abounds in fish and is a popular resort for summer outing and excursionists. Large steamers are maintained on the lake and river and Peoria city is connected with places on the Mississippi by several excellent lines of river boats. There are men who tire themselves almost o death looking for an easy place.

It takes more religion to make some men mile than it does to make others shout. SIZE:

DYING OF SMALLPOX.

DYING OF SMALLPOX.

Serious Epidemic of the Disease in victorie, B. C.—Forty-Seven Cases and Five Doaths.

TACOMA, Wash, Jály 13.—Victoria officials admit that at present there are 47 cases of smallpox in that city, but it is thought that the number of victims is much greater. All Sound ports, including Tacoma, Seattle, Fair Haven and Port Townsend, yesterday established stringent quarantine regulations against Victoria and Vancouer, which latter place is the terminus of the Canadian Pacific.

Last night six cases were reported at Whatcom, on Bellingham Bay, they being the first oates so far announced at a United States port. Six cases were also reported last night at Seattle, but this is denied by health officers of that city.

In addition to ports on the American side, cutting off communication with Efritish Columbia ports, travelers by 1... are also subject to inspection to prevent British Columbia ports, travelers by tall. Officers are stationed at Blaine, between British Columbia and Washington, with orders to compel all incomers to proye they do not haif from Victoria or Vancouver. Health officers at Victoria last night reported five deaths.

HORSES FROM CANADA

Cannot be Taken Into the States Without a Bond. Without a Bond.

Washington, July 13.—The Secretary of the Treasury has written Senator McMillan declining to allow horses to be brought over from Canada to Detroit or Port Huron for racing or exposition purposes unless a bond is given that they shall be returned to Canada within six months or the duty paid on them. For some time these horses have been brought over without a bond, and a treasury agent who investigated reported that the practice resulted in many irregularities by which horses were brought over to Detroit and Port Huron ostensibly for show purposes and never returned. No bond was taken to compel their return. Now, however, Secretary Foster will insist upon the strict to compel their return. Now, however, Secretary Foster will insist upon the strict letter of the McKinley law, which requires

The Postoffice of Cyrus.

Harper's Young People tells us where and by whom the postoffice was invented:

The invention of the postoffice is ascribed to Cyrus, king of Persia, who lived about 600 B. C. Cyrus required all of his governors of provinces to write to him exact accounts of everything that occurred in their several districts and armies. The Persian Empire was of vast extent, and some means had to be provided to render that correspondence sure and expeditious. Cyrus therefore caused postoffices to be built and messengers appointed in every province. He found how far a good horse, with an experienced rider, could travel in a day without being hurt, and then had stables built in proportion, at equal distances from each other. At each of these places he also appointed postmasters, whose duty it was to receive the letters, from the couriers as they arrived, and give them to others, and to give fresh horses in exchange for those that had performed their part of the journey. Thus the post went continually night and day, rain or snow, heat or cold, and Cyrus received speedy news of all occurrences, and sent back whatever orders he considered necessary. Darius, the last king of the Ancient Persians, was superintendent of them before he came to the throne.

"I have received the greatest benefit from the use of Diamond Vera-Cura, having for years suffered from indigestion and nerveus prostration. Before using it I was unable to reach my home, two blocks distant, without the aid of an attendant. I now rest well at night and pronounce Diamond Vera-Cura a great panacea for any one in the condition I was in." FERDINAND F. REMPEL. At druggists or sent on receipt of price, 25 cents. Address E. A. Wilson, Toronto.
