

A BACK UP

of representation by facts is the thing demanded by the public. Come and see the prices at which we are selling wall paper, window shades, picture frames, etc., and be convinced that when we say we save money by buying from us, we mean it.

E. N. HUNT
190 DUNDAS STREET.

FAITHFUL—TILL THE END

"Look here, we're awfully late," says Cecilia, tossing about the things on her dressing-table to find something for her. "We must hurry. Peter has knocked twice. Do you know, Nell, I think fancy balls ever so much cheaper than other ones? Look at us, now, we don't want gloves. Such a savings!" Her dress had cost $20, but she is so delightfully happy in the idea that she has saved money over this affair, by choosing a costume that she can wear many times, that she is almost laughing. And indeed, laughter would have been out of place, for now Cecilia has changed her mind again.

"After all, I'll take a pair of gloves with me," decides Cecilia. "Later on I may be glad of them. I hate dancing without gloves, one feels so undressed. Where is my pair? How light! Oh, there's Peter knocking again. Come in, Peter. Come in and look at me. How do I look?"

She runs up to him, her face radiant. But a little way from him she stops.

"Oh, Nell, come and look at Peter! Isn't he perfect? A very dream."

Indeed, Cecilia has a very good reason for her idea suggested by his wife on account of his name, is looking extremely handsome, more so, even than he should be. The long flowing robes, the white hair, the sternness imparted by the whole costume makes him, if idealized, certainly older than he is.

"And how do I look, Peter? Good enough to be your wife. Though I do not believe Peter the Hermit had one."

"What a lovely saying! She has evidently forgotten the doll acting as her heart that has troubled her for many days—everything. She is standing right in the middle of the room—look—adored—the admirer!"

"Do you know," cries she, putting her milk-pail behind her, and giving herself a graceful little bow, "I think we are all beautiful, specially."

With a happy gleam in his sister, "Nell! No, Peter! Not so much as a glance!"

"Come," she catches his arm and pulls him gaily to the door. "Not so much as one, if I let you look it would upset your belief in me."

"What's my belief in you?" Gaveston has entered into the spirit of her fun.

"That I am the one glorious creation on earth."

"Such conceit!" says Nell, putting affectedly. After which they all go down to the ball-room, ten o'clock having already struck, and hours in the country being, as all people know, strictly kept.

Indeed, people are already arriving. Gaveston, indeed, has just come from the First, a Henry the Eighth, and a Johnny Green. Tommy Stout—evidently of the same family as Johnny Green—follows at his heels, with a sister who, most erroneously believing herself to resemble Marie Stuart, has copied that lovely and most unhappy lady very closely. The string of pearls in her cap, however, has unfortunately got broken, and now the beads are tumbling down her cheeks one by one, giving the startling impression that she is weeping copiously.

Miss Wood, the famous tennis player of a decade since, a gaunt, but dauntless being, has come as "Tennis" and she insists on making imaginary strokes with her racket whenever she moves. Her sister, who couldn't walk mile to save her life, has come as Golf, and quite bristles with brasses, bashes and clocks, and is hung with patriotic ties and balls. The only thing she hasn't, indeed, is a caddy. So she bristles a young nephew to take her, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Mickey, as an Irish peasant, is one of the successes of the evening. From his old "caubeen," to his coat all patched and torn, to his knee-breeches, he all he could do was to leave the party, but at the last moment he had developed mumps, and was put to bed.

Western Ontario.

Charges of Forgery and Perjury Against J. S. Reiner, at Berlin.

A Barford Township Man Offered
$150 a Barrel for His Apples—
Huron Sabbath School Teachers and Epworth Leaguers
Convene at Clinton
This Week.

The farmer who has a lot of wheat this year hit it about right.

E. R. Ingram has sold the Aylmer grist mill to Stephen and Lewis Pierce for $5,000.

The Lambton county convention of the W. C. T. U. will be held in Sarnia on Sept. 29 and 30.

Mr. Salmon Parks has sold his beautiful farm for $7,000, and will move to his Aylmer residence this fall.

The Tilson Company intend moving their place into their new meal building, and will have both mills under one roof.

The ordination and induction of Rev. Hugh Cowan as pastor of the Dawn Center and North Dawn churches took place the other day.

This week the convention of the Sabbath school and Epworth Leaguers of Huron will be held in Clinton. About 300 delegates are expected.

The bowling tournament that has been on the go at Godfrey's, has come to a conclusion Friday, Mr. M. D. Allan carrying off the prize of a pair of bowls.

Mr. Frank Watts, eldest son of Capt. Wm. Watts, clerk of Vienna, and Miss Nellie Gagen, youngest daughter of Mr. Thomas Gagen, were married last week.

Camp Sterling, Sons of Scotland, St. Thomas, youngest daughter of Mr. Stanley on Thursday next.

The Twenty-fifth Battalion Pipers' Band will be in attendance.

W. T. Parkhill, of Burford township, was offered $1.50 per barrel for his apples in the orchard for shipping.

The buyer, who is a Brantford man, has already contracted for 1,500 barrels in his neighborhood.

Mr. Ernest Bennett Miller and Miss Carrie Watterson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Watterson, were married on Thursday.

Rev. Mr. Charlesworth performed the ceremony at his own residence.

The West Kent Farmers' Institute has decided that some time in December they will have Prof. James W. Robertson, Dominion commissioner of agriculture, to lecture in Chatham to the farmers of the district on dairying.

The flour mill at Tilsonburg has been set in motion after being shut down several weeks for repairs and improvements. It will be necessary to run night and day in order to overtake the large number of orders now on hand.

The Clinton Horticultural Society have decided to hold their annual floral exhibition in Aug. 31, and Sept. 1, 2 and 3. A programme has been arranged which will be very interesting, and a very successful exhibition is anticipated.

Mrs. Libbie H. Williamson, wife of Mr. Martin Williamson, of the M. C. R. St. Thomas, died on Monday at the residence of her father, Henry Hindley, con. 1, Yarmouth, east of Port Stanley, after three days' illness. In the 28th year of her age. She leaves one son 8 months old.

Game Warden Qualls has notified the different clubs along the Detroit River, Lake and River St. Clair, that this year no foreigners will be allowed to shoot in Canada until they have paid their license fee. Heretofore sportsmen were allowed to shoot without paying a license fee.

One of Tilsonburg's oldest and best known residents, Mrs. W. S. Law, passed away on Thursday evening after a lingering illness of several weeks. Mrs. Law's maiden name was Miss Jane Lang. She was born in the old city of Quebec in 1833, and had been a resident of Tilsonburg for upwards of 40 years. A husband and seven children survive her. The children are William, of New York city; Charles, of Guelph; Wallace, of Victoria, B.C.; John J., proprietor of the Tilsonburg Observer; Edward, and two daughters, Elsie and Jessie, residents of this town.

A very sudden and peculiar death occurred in Ingersoll on Sunday morning. Thos. Bean, a young married man, was working several miles out in the country on Saturday, and late in the night he was taken sick, and Dr. Williams was summoned. When the doctor arrived he found the poor fellow suffering terribly and applied powerful emetics, leaving him about 4 o'clock in the morning. About 6 o'clock word was sent that he was unable to breathe, and the doctor found him dead, which the doctor found to be true when he arrived.

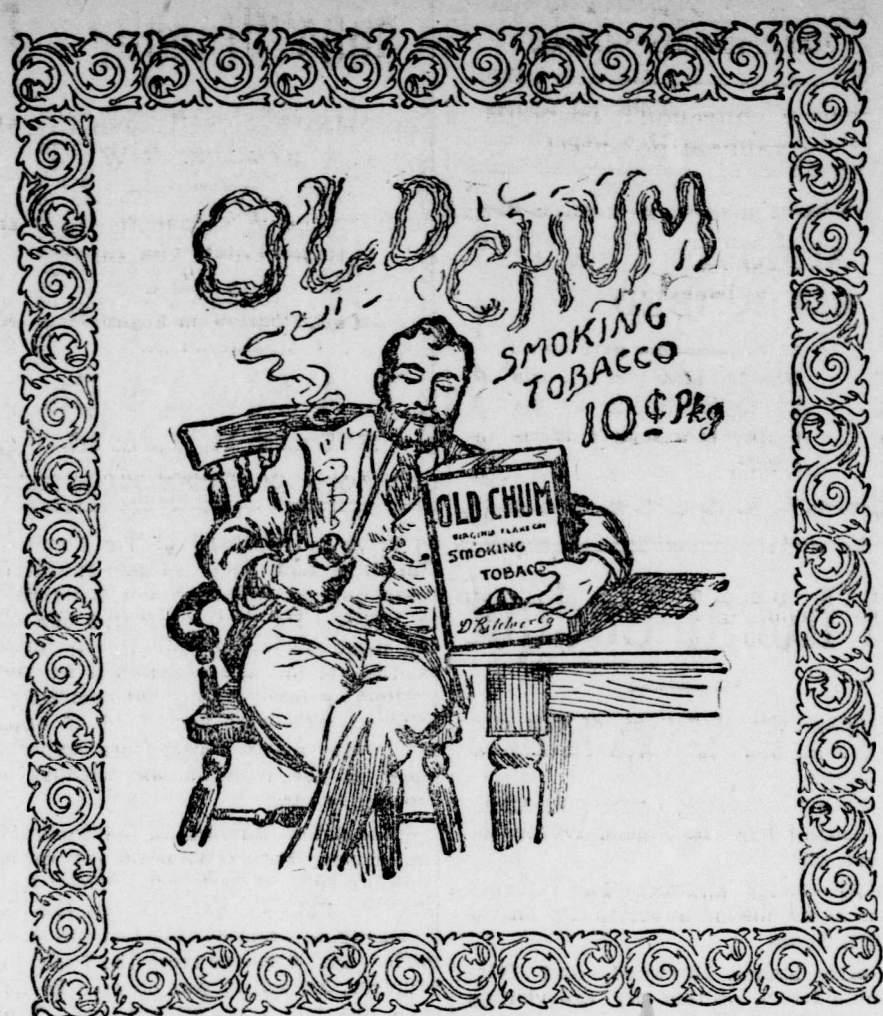

Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, widow of Mr. Wm. Smith, of Lawrence, died Friday at the residence of her son, Police Constable Smith, St. Thomas, aged 83 years. She had been well until Wednesday, when she was attacked with peritonitis. The deceased lady was born in the Shetland Islands, and with her husband and family came to Canada 53 years ago, settling in Toronto. She leaves four sons—Reuben, of Tilbury, William, of Manistee, Mich.; James, police constable, St. Thomas; and John, of the M. C. R. bridge department. Her only daughter is Mrs. Tederington, of St. Thomas.

Jacob S. Reiner, of the Bridgeport road, was arraigned before Judge Chisholm, at Berlin, Saturday afternoon, on three charges—two for forgery and one for perjury.

The alleged forged notes are against John G. Reiner, of Wellesley village, a relative of the prisoner, and were for $250 each, at three and six months respectively. The prisoner is said to have committed perjury at his trial in Berlin, at the judge's criminal court on June 21, when he first became connected with the forgery. He pleaded not guilty to all charges, and elected to be tried by the judge on Friday, the 27th inst.

On Friday the residents and cottagers paid their last tribute of respect to the late Postmaster Johnstone, who was one of the celebrities of the Port Carling district. He came to Canada in his youth, worked on the St. Lawrence canal, and afterwards settled in the London district. When Muskoka opened Mr. Johnstone was one of the first in 1864 to seek a home in that district. He returned subsequently to the London district, but again returned to Muskoka and took up land near the present Lily Pond, which he named "The Wild Goose Lodge." Mr. Johnstone was the first postmaster of the village, and was 83 years old at his death. His funeral was very largely attended, among those present being Rev. Senator Sanford, the reeve and council of the village, the Methodist minister, Mr. Snapple, and others. Three sons survive the deceased.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, cholera, and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

WONDER AND EXCITEMENT INCREASES.

Galley's Doctors Performing Miracles in the Way of Curing Diseases Thought to be

INCURABLE.

Many Wonderful Cures Reported Which Will Not Allow of Publicity.

IT IS CONCEDED

That the Cure of Disease as Made Under the Gal-ley's Homeopathic System Is Marvelous.

THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONIAL SPEAKS FOR ITSELF

J. Wilson Jones, a well-known gentleman, says: Ordinarily I have serious objections to giving testimony of any description, there being so much of this thing done, that people have lost faith in the average testimonial; but my case is so truly remarkable that I have decided to make an exception, and think I should wrong the public if I held back the true history of my case. I have suffered for so long a period I am only too thankful for the opportunity I have of giving my story plainly and simply, in the hope that others who suffer from this dread disease may know where to obtain relief. (Signed) J. WILSON JONES.

Do Not Hesitate to Call at Galley's Homeopathic Institute, Where You Will Receive Medical Advice Absolutely Without Charge.

Eminent Doctors at Your Service Free.

Personal Letters Answered With Free Medical Advice for Any Disease—Send for Galley's Guide to Health, and Doctor Yourself.

Galley's Homeopathic Remedies

Sold by all Druggists.

GALLEY'S MEDICAL INSTITUTE,

Cootes Block, Market Lane, London, Ont.

erty and one for perjury. The alleged forged notes are against John G. Reiner, of Wellesley village, a relative of the prisoner, and were for $250 each, at three and six months respectively. The prisoner is said to have committed perjury at his trial in Berlin, at the judge's criminal court on June 21, when he first became connected with the forgery. He pleaded not guilty to all charges, and elected to be tried by the judge on Friday, the 27th inst.

On Friday the residents and cottagers paid their last tribute of respect to the late Postmaster Johnstone, who was one of the celebrities of the Port Carling district. He came to Canada in his youth, worked on the St. Lawrence canal, and afterwards settled in the London district. When Muskoka opened Mr. Johnstone was one of the first in 1864 to seek a home in that district. He returned subsequently to the London district, but again returned to Muskoka and took up land near the present Lily Pond, which he named "The Wild Goose Lodge." Mr. Johnstone was the first postmaster of the village, and was 83 years old at his death. His funeral was very largely attended, among those present being Rev. Senator Sanford, the reeve and council of the village, the Methodist minister, Mr. Snapple, and others. Three sons survive the deceased.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, cholera, and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

'PHONE 1,046.
208, 210,
210½, 212 RUNIANS & BUTLER Dundas Street.
LONDON'S ONLY DEPARTMENTAL.
Store Open Daily From 8 a.m. Till 6 p.m.

The Monster Building Sale a Huge Success.

THIS Store's constituency is by no means limited, and it is becoming more and more a shopping place with fashionable people. That means we're selling more rich and exclusive things.

The choicest things are sure to be where the power of collection is the greatest. This store is pre-eminent in DRESS GOODS and STAPLES, GLOVES and HOSIERY, in fact everything that goes to make a lady's costume complete. Everybody knows we have special value in these things.

We are also Men's Clothiers and Furnishers in the most complete sense. Stock are new and up-to-date. If men would only be as particular in buying Clothing as women are in choosing a dress, the balance of trade would decidedly be in our favor.

Suppose we jump the track for once and emphasize newness and novelty instead of bargains. This list tells of some things we have in our Clothing AND Furnishing DEPT.

MEN'S SUITS—In fine all-wool Tweed, light and dark colors, Italian linings, etc., for..... $8 45
MEN'S SUITS—In extra fine all-wool Tweeds, newest patterns, Italian linings, lovely goods, only..... 10 63
MEN'S SUITS—In black and blue Tyke Serge, best Italian linings, beautifully made and trimmed throughout. See them, at..... 11 22
MEN'S SUITS—In fine fancy worsteds, plain and checks, blacks, etc., equal to any custom made garments, for..... 15 00
Boys' Two-Piece Suits—Just unearthed another lot of Boys' Two-Piece Suits, in extra-fine all-wool Tweeds, regular, at $35, going at... 2 19
MEN'S SHIRTS—In our white dress comfort brand, at 45c, 65c, 75c to $1.25 and $1.40. Just see these Shirts and you'll buy.
MEN'S NECKWEAR—In Knots, Four-in-Hands, Bows and Strings, the cream of the markets, regular 35c to 50c, sale price..... 21
MEN'S FINE UNDERWEAR—In Double Thread Balbriggan, etc., up-to-date reliable goods at..... 34
MEN'S FINE UNDERWEAR—In Superfine Natural Wool, all sizes, regular price $2.50 suit, mid-week sale price..... 1 71

Mail Order Department.
All orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

Runians & Butler.

IMPORTERS

Navigation and Railways.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY

ANNUAL EASTERN EXCURSIONS

From all Stations in Canada to

Kingston, Ottawa,

Montreal, Quebec

—AT—

Single FIRST-CLASS Fare

FOR ROUND TRIP.

Aug. 27, 28, 29, 30. Good to return Sept. 20, 1907.

Full information at "Clock" corner Richmond and Dundas streets, or G. T. R. depot.

FOR Labor Day

Will sell return tickets for Single First-Class Fare, good to go on Sept. 4, and 5; good returning until Sept. 7, between all stations in Canada. Windsor, Sault Ste. Marie, Fort William and east.

HARVEST EXCURSIONS

To Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest