JIM FEARS HOODOO

Refuses to Train in Ring Once Used by Jack Johnson.

Lomond, Cal., April 26 .-Whether or not Jack Johnson's former use of the roped arena had anything to do with the matter, it is a fact that Jim Jeffries fought shy of the little ring recently installed at his training gymnasium, and it has been removed. The reason officially given for its passing is that it was not big enough for Jeffries' purpose, but the fact remains that from the moment the big fighter learned that Johnson trained in it for beach, replaces Lajole at first; Lajole his fight with Flynn at Emeryville, he gave it a wide berth, and expressed his preference for boxing in the hand-Jeffries' purpose, but the fact remains his preference for boxing in the hand- ham rest.

With the uprooting of the old ring, one-half of the gymnasium has been roped off, and the floor resined for a bounded on three sides by walls, is about 40 feet square. The floor will not be mattressed, it is said, and it is the belief of many that training on a hard floor will militate against Jeffries' speed when he meets his negro adversary. The big pugilist himself is not worried over the possibility however.

Morning bouts though, it is said, will be held as usual in the hand-ball

RIVAL IN LANGFORD

Bout Between Powerful Punchers This Evening Causes Widespread Interest.

[Special to the Advertiser.] Philadelphia, April 27.—The six-round bout between Sam Langford, the Boston negro, and Stanley Ketchel, of Grand Rapids, which will be held at the National Athletic Club here tonight, is causing widespread comment, and is awaited with unusual interest.

Ketchel is recognized as the middleweight champion, but in Langford he weight champion, but in Langiord in meets one of the most formidable fighting machines of his weight and inches in the world. Able to make 153 pounds at any time, Langford has gone out of his class and whiped a number of heavyweights.

Slips on Floor of Handball Court and Falls Heavily-Perspires But Little Now.

Jeffries Training Camp, Rowardennan, Cal., April 26.-With two days of light training and one day of almost complete rest behind him, Jim Jeffries awakened this morning full of ginger and eager for a day of heavy toil.

He planned on the biggest day of the eason up till the present time. The programme was carried through to the letter until noon. Then the fighter found that the big amount of exercise had irritated the boil on his back, and at his trainer's request decided upon a layoff for the afternoon.

Road work was resumed this morning and Jeffries set a fast pace for his folprogramme was carried through to the letter until noon. Then the fighter found and Jeffries set a fast pace for his followers on the 10-mile run. No more than two or three of the bunch of runners came in anywhere near together. Farmer Burns, Bob Armstrong, Joe Farmer Burns, Bob Armstrong, Joe Choynski, Dick Adams and Billy Papke Were the starters, with Jeffries in the Corcoran of 0

Gymnasium work followed. fellow went right down the line in the gymnasium, including in his morning's workout nearly every sort of exercise the gymnasium apparatus afforded. He used all the weight machines, skipped rope and lambasted the punching bag. The latter work was not entirely satisfactory. Jeff said the punching bag platform was dead. A maple surface will be put on and the platform weighted so as to give it more life.

more life. Perspired Little. But little perspiration poured off Jeff. The coolness of the weather no doubt was partly responsible, but each week there is a decided lessening of perspira-tion. The punching bag work was followed by three fast games of handball, and it was 1 o'clock before the big fellow came out of his rubbing room after his bath and rub down.

That there is no absolute surety of Jeff and Johnson facing each other on July 4 was forcibly impressed upon the gymnasium watchers this morning. As accident that would be trivial ordinarily may postpone or end the greatest ring event in history. And Jeff was not far from such an accident this morning when in the handball court in running for a difficult ball his right foot slipped out from under him and the big fellow crashed to the hard floor in a nasty fall that brought the spectators to their feet in alarm for his safety. His foot slipped at least four feet.

KETCHELL READY FOR SAM LANGFORD

Stanley Is On Edge and in Pink of Condition But a Little Grouchy.

HE BLAMES MOTOR CAR

Michigan Lion Will Cut Out Autoing on Crowded Thoroughfares Till After Fight.

New York, April 27. - Stanley Ketchell has established to his entire satisfaction that driving an automobile through crowded city streets while traning for an important fight is a bad thing for the nerves.

No more phlegmatic youth stepped through the ropes than this same Ketchell, yet he has found himself nervous and petulant for the last few days. He blames the big red machine he has been sending through small openings on trips from Woodlawn Inn to Manhattan's congested thoroughfares So Stanley has put the car aside, and will not handle it again until after his bout with Sam Lang-ford next Wednesday night at Philadelphia. Stanley Is Peevish. Ketchell came down town to take a load of newspaper men up to his camp Saturday afternoon. By the time he had cleared the streets where traffic policemen held sway, the fighter was as cross as a bear. He answered questions in monosyllables and declined to make merry with the rest. It was some time after he had stripped and gotten down to the regular business of boxing and wrestling before the grouch wore off. It is no unusual thing for an athlete to get "touchy" while conditioning, but Ketchell lays the entire blame on his motor car.

Cuts Out Motoring. "No more for me," he said, "until I am through with Langford, Every time 143 I left the car for the last week I have been all of a tremble. It's a grea sport all right, but no good for a man when he is on edge."

And Stanley certainly appears to b on edge. His eyes are bright and his skin clear. Foolishness has been cu out since he arrived in New York. Late hours and little nips of strong waters have been cast aside for hard work and plenty of sleep. If condition and con-fidence count, Sam-uel Langford will have his own trouble with the Micle igan Lion.
