LONDON, Feb. 28 .- Great Britain France and their allies have advised neutral countries that they hold themselves at liberty to stop all shipping to and from Germany and the countries of her allies.

Public announcement of this action will be made early this week, probably Monday. The text of the declaration will set forth that this decision is necessary because of German submarine attacks, but that Creat Britain and France will resengers in any steps they may take. the American representations lookmarine activity and the admission of food to Germany for civilians. cargoes shipped before the date of this advice to neutrals.

The exact date carried by the declaration has not been announced No special articles of commerc will be mentioned in the British-French declaration. Cotton and foodstuffs, for example, will not be general. The situation created will be entirely justified, according to the English view, because of Germany's unprecedented action in attempting a submarine blockade, regardless of danger to the crews and passengers of Effect in the Baltic. Shipping in the Baltic will not be affected, except as Great Britain and her allies prevent supplies from entering Norway, Sweden and Denmark, for re-exportation to Germany. Holland, by making its prohibited export list conform with the British contraband list and by the creation of Netherlands inter-seas trust-to which virtually all car-goes entering Holland are now conantee that they will not be exported to Germany-has put its shipping in a position which will be affected little by the declaration. It is believed here that the Scandinavian countries, doubtless, will take similar action to insure continuation of supplies from America and elsewhere for home use. While Denmark, Sweden and Norway have repeatedly medified the lists of prohibited exports, their regulations for the prevention of re-exportation apparently have been unsatisfactory to Great Britain or the administration of the regulations has been unsatisfactory, as cargoes have not moved to the Scandinavian countries with the same freedom as to Hol-
