Want Leather Upholstered Chairs and Baths Installed at C. N. P. Construction Camps

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 15 .- That the striking I. W. W. men are in absolute control of the Canadian Northern Pacific railway construction camps between Yale and North Bend, was the statement made at the C. N. P. head quarters here this afternoon. It was stated that the strikers had practically cleaned out the 12 camps at which work was again started last week.

Mr. W. K. Gwyer, the division envancouver this afternoon and left by vancouyer this afternoon and left by the evening express for Yale. He re-ported that the disturbances had at-tracted a number of thugs and sneak thleves to the country. He returned after a very brief visit to headquarters in order to superintend the protection of the company's arguerty. of the company's property.

On Mr. Gwyer's division 560 men had started work and from 200 to 300 had promised to commence this morning. The strikers are said to have come along to the number of nearly 1000 and completely cleaned out the division camps. It was stated by one of th engineers that most of the I W W n were armed with revolvers. On of them is reported to have remarked to a constable: 'Any policeman who puts a hand on my shoulder will go to his gravevard."

Mr. Gwyer said that several hundred strikers crossed the C. P. R. cable to Yale, and, proceeding eastward, cleaned out every camp. Yesterday morning there was practically not a man working in his division. Among the many demands made by the strikers was one for a seven hour day and a minimum wage of $5. One of the leaders said that the men would refuse to go back to work until leather upholster chairs and baths were installed at every camp.

'We are going to tie up everything in the country until our demands are satisfied," one striker is reported to have

The company say that it is the duty of the police to clear out the strikers. Superintendent Colin S. Campbell of the Provincial police yesterday reported personally to the Attorney-General that the situation in the strike zone along the line of the Canadian Northern Pathe line of the Canadian Northern Pa-cific construction on the maintaid is less satisfactory than during the past week. The strikers, it appears, are now showing in certain places a disposition to be ugly and to make trouble for the potice as well as residents of the local-ities affected.

On Sunday last three hundred of them came down the grade to a point between

On Sunday last three hundred of them came down the grade to a point between Spuzzum and Yale, where they forced out a number of those who had returned to work. The strikers are reported to be closely watching the movements of the police. Where the constables are, there is no sign of disorder or trouble of any sort, but where the malcontents have the field to themselves, they are inclined to adopt distinctly aggressive tactics.

Superintendent Campbell took in nine additional officers from here on Sunday evening, with three more from Vancouver, and will reinforce the squad with others from points along the line carte blanche having been given him to engage as many as the situation appears to him to demand

As to the complaint made here on Sunday evening at a public meeting, by the I. W. W. speaker Floyd Hyde, the Provincial Health department has on file a letter received last November from the L. W. W. executive expressing from the I. W. W. executive expressing their thanks for the prompt attention paid to their complaints regarding the sanitation and general condition of certain camps, and also specially thanking the departmental inspector, Dr. Davis, and complimenting him upon the efficient manner in which matters complained of had been remedied. plained of had been remedled.

Montreal School Teacher Loses Her Life When Boarding House is Dam-

MONTREAL, April 15 .- Miss Annie Gingras, a school teacher, lost her life in a fire that practically gutted the interior of a boarding house at 133 Met-calfe street on Sunday morning. District Chief Mann and Foreman O'Neill obtained an entrance to the the back. Finding the door of one of the rooms locked they broke it open and discovered Miss Gingras lying on the bad with her doubters. the bed with her clothing on fire. They extinguished the fire in her clothing and carried her into a rear room where er, before an ambulance arrived.

Miss Gingras had evidently been arned of the fire, for she was found ressed for the street, and it is suposed she went back to save some beangings and was overcome by smoke.

While Chief Mann was rescuing the woman, Disfrict Chief Martin was told was a woman on the top floor. there was a woman on the top floor. With a couple of men he fought his way to the top floor through the flames, all three having their hair singed, only to find that District Chief Mann had found the woman.
