Fun at Hamilton's.

One of the most amusing and meritorious entertainments that Manager Conner has put on at the Point this season is being presented this week. Last evening, notwithstanding the dampness, several hundred people were present to be amused.

The program was an entirely new one, and original acts on a stationary trapeze bar by La Motte and Maynard. After many new and novel feats they brought their act to a close by a very sensational flight swing around the bar, holding on with their feet and apparently diving out into space head foremost. They were followed by Harding, Harding being a very large man, while Al Sid resembled a half pint of milk half drunk. The lively manner in which these gentlemen represented the scenes in a Chinese laundry made many a side ache with laughter.

Architects Tully and Langley continue to receive receipts of our communications of the 22nd and to report as follows: "On receipt of the above we requested permission of the architect to examine the work in order to compare it with the plans and specifications and to confer with him on the matter when the construction has been made. On July 4 we made an examination of the work with your firm and we were accompanied by Mr. Lennox and the architect, Mr. Hunter. The latter accompanied us to the examination of the work."

"The principal matters in dispute appear to be the quality and workmanship of the work with your firm and we were accompanied by Mr. Lennox and the architect, Mr. Hunter. The latter accompanied us to the examination of the work."

"After examining practical men engaged on the work, we have also examined the original plans and a small broken specimen of the work with your firm and we were accompanied by Mr. Lennox and the architect, Mr. Hunter. The latter accompanied us to the examination of the work."
