Horrors of a Sea Battle.

Few people, even naval men, realize what fighting on an ironclad means. Capt. Mc-Giffin, who was an officer on board a Chi-nese man-of-war at the battle of the Yula river, gives an English exchange, however, a most vivid description. He tells, among other things, that the din made by the impact of heavy projectiles against the metal in so large quantities. Sawdust makes clean, in so large quantities. Sawdust makes clean, it is bedding, but the impression is quite strong among farmers that its effect upon the tion. He wore cotton in his ears, but in of that is still deaf from the noise. Walking is the Best Exercise.

What is the exercise nost conducive to physical beauty in women?" replied very ecidedly, "walking."

Tennis is declared to be too violent, and

We May Live a Hundred Years.

Sir Benjamin Richardson, M. Take Care of Your Eyes.

The way people abuse their eyes is amazing. They try them, strain them and over-tax them in all manner of ways. And when their eyes begin to weaken with ill-usage and age they are too proud to give them the aid of glasses, which they crave. Furrowed cheeks, sallow complexion and white hair can be hidden under enamel and rouge and dyes, but there is no fashionable that can cover up weakness of eyes. The Good that Onions Do.

THEY PURIFY THE BLOOD AND EVEN CURE THE CROUP AND EARACHE. One of the healthiest vegetables, if not the healthiest grown, is the onion; yet strange to say, but few people use it as liberally as they should. Boiled onions in a family of children will ward off many of the diseases to which the little ones are subject. The principle objection to the promiseneur use principle objection to the promiscuous use of this vegetable is that the odor exaled it. Mr. and Mrs. Collis P. Huntington were after eating is offensive. A cup of strong coffee taken immediately after eating is claimed to be excellent in counteracting this effect. in goose oil until soft, then putting them on the child's feet and breast as hot as they can be borne. Except in very obstinate cases, when taken in time, the croup readily yields to onions. This although an old-fashi remedy, is a good one, as any mother who has brought up a family of children can TUTTLE'S ELIXIB

Onions are excellent blood purifiers, and or eradicating boils or any of the blood humors are very efficacious. They are good for the complexion, and a friend who has a wonderfully clear, fine complexion attributes it to the liberal use of onions as a food. People suffering from nervous troubles are much benefitted by using these vegetables frequently either cooked or raw. When troubled with a hard cough, if a raw onion eaten the phegm will loosen almost immediately and can be removed with very little effort. Those troubled with wakefulness may ensure a good night's rest often if, just before retiring, they eat a raw onion.

There are few aches to which children are subject as hard to bear and as painful as earache. One of the best remedies we know of is to take out the heart of an onion (a red onion is the best if it can be had, although lacking this kind any other can be used) and roast it. When soft put it into the affected ear as hot as can be borne. Unless the of a way. cause is deeper than ordinarily, the pain will cease in a very short time and will not Sthe unequalified approval of every customer. Our fence has won at every Fair or Exposition where entered. But what does a practical farmer care for that! The fighting qualities of a soldier are proven on the field of battle, not on dress parade.

Don't fail to keep it before the people that ours is the only perfectly self-regulating fence offered. Don't loose sight of the greaf saving in posts, as with some other fences the posts alone costs as much as our fence complete.

I believe we have the self-time for the money on earth. I base my belief on the fact that one string of fence selfs lots more. Page fence has proved itself by far the best for farmers' use, and we know from the orders already received that our business will boom with that of the farmers.

Trembling with excitement, Louise stood in the parlor and waited for her lover. It seems an age since he had gone to see her father in his office. The young man was so impulsive, so easily betrayed into an impul-sive action, and papa was so grave and stern. At length the door opened and Louise's sweet-heart stood before her. He was unarmed, his cheeks glowed, a strange expression gleamed in his eyes. "Have you spoken to papa?" she asked, in

"Yes, my dearest." "And what did he say, Hans? Quick tell me what he said. He said 'No' to thee; oh! I see it written in thine eyes. But I will be thine—I am thine! His cruel harshness has no terror for me. I—I will fly with thee." He gazed down at her face in a dreamy sort

A young gentleman at church conceived a most sudden and violent passion for a young lady in the next pew, and felt desirous of entering into a courtship on the spot; but the place not suiting a formal declaration, the exigency suggested the following plan: He politely handed his fair neighbor a Bible, open, with a pin stuck in the following text: Second Epistle of Jonah, verse 5, "And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment into thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another." She returned it with the Second chapter of Ruth, 10th Do not keep him so warm that he cannot verse. "Then she fell on her face and bowed sleep.
