

ROCKINGHAM, Ont., Dec. 8th, 1894.

I enclose $1.00 to renew my subscription to CANADIAN BEE JOURNAL for the ensuing year. I am glad to say, it is a very great improvement, in every way, over the old C. B. J., which used to be issued a month behind time; and when issued was a paltry affair. I am sorry I cannot, at present send any new subscription along, as the few who keep bees in this neighborhood are old brimstone box hivers, but I will try to get some to subscribe.

Yours very truly,
DR. JOS. KINDER.

I was so much interested in the description of your visit to Mr. Post that when I came to the end of it, I fully expected to see "To be continued."

For 50 years The Weekly Globe of Toronto has had an enviable reputation as the one great Liberal weekly of the Dominion. It has always been a high-class journal, and a welcome visitor in thousands of homes. It was never better as a newspaper than it is to-day. The Globe's enterprise is proverbial. Its correspondents have traversed and written up almost every section of the country. All great events have been fully reported. The speeches of leading politicians, whether on the floor of Parliament or on the stump, have been presented as they were uttered, and all are fairly treated, whether Liberal, Conservative or Patron. The Globe is the only weekly paper in Canada that gives such full and fair report of Parliamentary proceedings, great church meetings, and other similar occurrences of Provincial and national interest. Among leading features of recent numbers may be mentioned speeches by Mr. Laurier, Sir John Thompson, Sir Richard Cartwright, Mr. Marter, Mr. Haycock, members of the Ontario Cabinet, and others; letters from members of The Globe's editorial staff who travelled through the Province of Quebec and over the route of the Trent Valley Canal, interviews and letters on that most important question, the reform of the law system, long reports from the scene of the Jessie Keith murder, the McWherrel trial, and other sensational events. The aim of The Globe is to be trustworthy. The Globe has the best cable and telegraphic service obtainable; its foreign, American and Canadian dispatches are unexcelled, and every week the whole world is brought under review. The agricultural department is right up to the times; the crop and market reports are full and reliable. Reasonable space is given up each week to lighter reading, and good stories is one of The Globe's attractions. Another popular feature are the weekly contributions from the Khan's political pen. As a family newspaper The Weekly Globe is unrivalled.

To those who are interested in good farming and stock raising, THE CANADIAN LIVE STOCK AND FARM JOURNAL is becoming quite a boon. The cutting down of prices, and bad times generally, make it necessary for our agriculturists to exercise the greatest care in order to secure the proper returns for their labor, and THE CANADIAN LIVE STOCK AND FARM JOURNAL contains just the kind of information necessary to assist them in the work. The subscription price is one dollar per year, and an investment of this kind is one that should prove profitable.

THE JOURNAL'S address is 20 BAY STREET, TORONTO,

THE CANADIAN BEE JOURNAL is excellent under its present management.

A LIBERAL OFFER.

The enterprise of the publishers of the Youth's Companion, Boston, Mass., has steadily advanced the paper year by year, keeping it always in the front rank of the best periodicals. It fills to-day as no other publication the popular demand for a practical family paper, one that is equally valued and enjoyed by old and young, and free from all objectionable features.

The best writers of all lands are engaged to write for its columns. Among the famous contributors for the volume for 1895 are two daughters of Queen Victoria: Mr. Gladstone, the most eminent living statesman, who has for the third time written an article expressly for the Companion; Sir Edwin Arnold, W. Clark Russell, Charles Dickens, Frank R. Stockton, J. T. Trowbridge, Mark Twain, Cy Warman, the famous locomotive engineer, and more than a hundred other writers who are known the world over.

The Companion appeals to all, whether in the home, in professional or business life, to the educator and laborer in every department of work. Its sound, practical editorials deal frankly, fairly and concisely with the questions of the day. Every utterance may be accepted without reserve. Full prospectus and specimen copies sent free on application.

New Subscribers will receive the Companion free to 1895 if they subscribe at once, sending $1.75, the year's subscription price. It comes every week, finely illustrated.
