

limitations of a three-week stay or less and the size of the country, to travel by plane than by rail or road.

One often travels by plane in this large country.

Travelling in Canada

What to expect, accommodation

The hotels chosen for you along the way have been selected for their convenient location, comfort and reasonable rates. Custom and practice differ in hotels from one country to another. You will find in Canada, for example, that shoes should not be left outside your room for overnight polishing. There are shoe-shine stalls in some shopping plazas and hotels and in some shoe repair shops. There are no concierges in