
The Italian Political Situation

Mr. Amintore Fanfani was sworn in as Prime Minister and President of the Council for the sixth time in his career on April 17. However, the government has not obtained Parliamentary approval and is therefore officially dissolved. Mr. Fanfani will act as Prime Minister until the next general election, planned for June 14, and will host the Venice Summit.