

our companies to go to Europe and take advantage of the opening of a major market representing over 320 million people.

4) Free movement of people

One of the present non-tariff barriers is the administrative procedure when one person needs to be transferred in an other country. With 1992, there will be easier travel and immigration, cross border recruiting and easier transfer possibilities.