

CONTENTS

VOLUME I.

	PAGE
Letter of Transmittal - - - - -	1
General conditions underlying study - - - - -	4
Conclusions - - - - -	10
Recommendations - - - - -	13
Estimate of Cost - - - - -	15
Homeward movement during evening rush period, mid-week conditions, August, 1915 - - - - -	17
Conditions arising from the confinement of Toronto Railway Company within, and the growth of Toronto beyond the City limits of 1891 - - -	21
Effect of car lines on real estate values - - - - -	25
Past and probable future growth of Toronto, and its occupancy - - -	26
Street traffic - - - - -	30
Analysis of population distribution - - - - -	33
Growth of street railway traffic in relation to population - - - -	47
Past and probable future growth of population - - - - -	55
Volume and distribution of daily passenger traffic - - - - -	67
Time Zones - - - - -	73
Analysis of passenger movement during morning rush period - - - -	75
Riding habit of the population - - - - -	79
Radial Railway Entrances - - - - -	82
Radial electric railways and their importance - - - - -	84