be able to give an answer on Monday.
Toronto May 2.—The attention of the government was attracted to a statement made at the Toronto May Day meeting of workmen that "we are in the first throes in Canada of a world-wide revolution. We are governed here by orders-in-council issued by the financial interests of this country. You must arise in your might and defy this government which has taken away the right of free speech."
Mr. Archambault asked if the government intended to take steps in the matter.
Sir Thomas White replied, amid some laughter, that he should think the speaker at Toronto must have been influenced by argument put forward by the opposition to the effect that the country was being governed by orders-in-council.
Mr. Nicholson called the attention of the minister of militia to the fact that Canadians who enlisted in the imperial army are being discharged in England with no means of returning to Canada.
Maj.-Gen. McWhirer replied that ten days ago he requested the overseas minister of militia to make arrangements with the war office for the repatriation, at the expense of the Dominion government, of all Canadians in the imperial army.
Trust Company Liability.
The house then continued its consideration of the bankruptcy act. In committee, Hon. Hugh Guthrie agreed to eliminate that portion of clause which provides for the appointment of trust companies as trustees without compelling them to give security. The house as amended, therefore, provides security from trust companies as well as other organizations and persons appointed as trustees.
After private bills were disposed of at the evening sitting the house went into committee of supply on the estimates of the postoffice department.
Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux brought up the question of requiring the proprietors of newspapers and periodicals to publish their names so that the public would know who was actually in control of the publication. The press of the country, he said, exercised a very great power which was beneficial just so long as it remained uncorrupted. As an example of how a newspaper might sail under false colors Mr. Lemieux instanced The Montreal Herald, which he said had originally been the accredited organ of the Liberal English-speaking minority in Quebec. Unfortunately it had fallen into the hands of certain Mr. Briereley, and this gentleman, Mr. Lemieux had made a deal with the Tory party whereby the paper, while still appearing as a Liberal organ, was really under Conservative control. Finally the paper passed into the hands of Mr. McGibbon, who sold it to Lord Atholstan.
Lord Atholstan, said Mr. Lemieux, was a wide-awake business man, and realized the value of keeping out rivals by continuing to run this paper under the guise of a Liberal organ. Therefore he continued to publish The Herald as well as The Montreal Star, but while the latter would perhaps have from 20 to 40 pages, the former came out with about four. The latter was pointed out as the Liberal organ, and the Star as the organ of the Conservative party. It had been proven in court that both were the property of Lord Atholstan. Mr. Lemieux said that he understood The Herald was now in the hands of the hands of Lord Atholstan, and he was informed that it was now an independent paper.
Mr. Lemieux said it was a scandal that a man should be in the elections in Canada in 1917 the whole of the Liberal papers, with a few exceptions, made a right-about turn.
Mr. Hocken asked if Mr. Lemieux wanted the house to understand that there had been corruption. The latter replied that corruption was a mild term. He went on to say that the candidates in certain constituencies were obliged to pay to have reports of their meetings published in the newspapers, which the whole of the press was placarded with advertisements. In the late Liberal leader and the province of Quebec. Who paid for these advertisements? The amount expended by the government on newspapers advertising from August 4, 1915, up to 1918 was $2,099,048. Of this $622,391 was spent by the immigration department and over $710,000 by the finance department. But he said they did not yet know half of the truth as to the amount spent.
In reply Mr. Nicholson, who was asked for specifics, instances Mr. Lemieux said he had kept a collection of placards, and if Mr. Nicholson read these placards today he would blush with shame. He said he was making this statement fearlessly as a public man, and he expected to receive as he had received, an avalanche of attacks, however, he considered it to be his duty to do so.
Hocken is Criticized.
He referred to Mr. Hocken as not only writing editorials in The Orange Sentinel, against the French Canadians, and the Roman Catholics at the last election by preaching sermons in the pulpits, involving the aid of the Lord to keep in power the masters of the administration, Sir Joseph Flavelle, Sir Clifford Sifton, and his associate, Mr. Mann.
Mr. Sinclair declared he would not like to say that the press was mercenary. At the same time there had been some very sudden conversions, which should have been more clearly explained. Last election there was a "slush fund" available to any newspaper in Nova Scotia which would publish Union propaganda in its editorial columns. A good many yielded and accepted the money.
Mr. Sinclair understood that the "slush fund" was not confined to Nova Scotia. He was told that it was common throughout the Dominion. It would be very interesting to know where the "slush fund" came from and how much it amounted to.
Large concessions, Mr. Sinclair added, had been made to the press, and that was all the more reason why there should be publicity as to ownership.
Mr. Sinclair also complained that when questions as to amounts paid by the government for advertising in certain newspapers were asked in the house they were passed as orders for returns, involving delay.
Here Mr. Burrell interposed with the remark that in passing the questions as orders for returns, the government was following the usual procedure. Furthermore, in several of the cases cited by Mr. Sinclair, the returns had already been tabled.

DANFORTH
G. W. V. A. DANCE.
A well attended dance was held under the auspices of the Riverdale branch G. W. V. A. in Playter's Hall, Danforth, last night. A most enjoyable time was spent by the large number of guests present.
REPAIRING VIADUCT.
The works department are busy repairing the Rosedale viaduct, bus-trade and adjusting the tracks at the head of Parliament street where the accident to the Bloor street car occurred last Saturday.
No attempt has been made to complete the new roadway between the head of Parliament and Sherbourne streets up to the present by the works department.

ENTERTAINED CHILDREN.
St. Margaret's Camp, Daughters of Scotland, entertained over 200 children of war veterans to a supper and concert in Playter's Hall, Danforth, last night. A most enjoyable time was spent by the little folk who were each presented with packages of fruit and candy at the close of the proceedings. Mrs. Foxborough, president, and a committee of the camp superintended.

RIVERDALE
BUTTER INVESTIGATOR
WAS ONLY A JOKE
Says Vice-President Horticultural Society, Discussing Present Prices.
A well attended meeting of the Riverdale Horticultural Society was held last night in Frankford School, Logan avenue. A. J. Smith, president, occupied the chair.
A communication was read from the provincial government, agricultural department with reference to the amended act, allowing three horticultural societies in Toronto, and including the Riverdale Society among the number, which was heartily approved by the meeting.
It was decided to ask the agricultural department to supply a lecturer for the June meeting to speak on the preserving and canning of fruit and vegetables.
The high price of butter was discussed at considerable length. C. Honeyman, vice-president, stated emphatically that the investigator recently sent from Ottawa to Toronto was only a joke. "He investigated the market and not the butter, and his visit was a wasted effort," he said.
The chairman suggested that the man must be a shareholder in the butter combine, and it would be interesting to know how many shares he held.
W. Howard gave an interesting lecture on fertilizers and their uses, and the kinds best adapted for roots and foliage.
The prize list committee submitted their report which was adopted.

TODMORDEN
SCHOOL BUYING LAND.
An important school meeting will be held in Todmorden on Monday, May 5, when a public discussion will take place regarding the extension of the school grounds of ordered by the inspector. There will be two propositions placed before the ratepayers, namely the consideration of the purchase of the land on the east and the west of the school building. The Mowbray property on the west is offered for $15,000 and the Mortimer land on the east can be secured for $10,000.
The comparative value of merits will be discussed and decided.
THREE HUNDRED ENLISTED.
Over 300 men from the Todmorden district enlisted for overseas service during the war according to the report of the war auxiliary school section 27, Todmorden.

CONCRETE SIDEWALKS.
In connection with the petitions received by the York township council from the residents of Torrens avenue for a concrete sidewalk on the south side from Don Mills road to Leslie street, a bylaw was passed at the last meeting of the council. The estimated cost will be about $100 a foot; payment to be spread over a term of 10 years.
A concrete sidewalk will also be laid on the north side of Westwood avenue from Don Mills road to the westerly limits. The sidewalks will be 4-1-2 feet wide in each case.
A petition was also received from the ratepayers on Holborn avenue for a concrete sidewalk, on the north side from Woodbine avenue easterly.

GARDEN LECTURE.
George Baldwin, provincial government lecturer, gave an illustrated lecture on backyard gardens cultivation at a well attended semi-annual meeting of the Todmorden Poultry, Pet Stock and Backyard Garden Association in Torrens avenue school last night. J. P. Joel, president, occupied the chair.
A full report of the progress of the association was given since its inauguration, and many new members were received.

NORWAY
RATEPAYERS DISCUSS
INADEQUATE SERVICE
A slimly attended meeting of the Ward Eight Ratepayers' Association was held last night in St. John's parish hall, Norway. W. Adams, president, occupied the chair. The question of school accommodation was discussed at some length and a letter was read from the board of education giving particulars of the number of schools in the district east of Greenwood with the number of pupils in attendance. Walter Adams pointed out that the information requested from the board was not given to the association, namely, the probable number of children of school age which accommodation will have to be provided for during the next three years, and if the board were making provision for the increased number, he decided to ask the school board to furnish the information required at the earliest convenience.
A member pointed out the danger to the community from the large amount of potato-ivy growing in Norway Road Park. The secretary will write the parks commissioner requesting that the menace to the public be removed.
The neglected condition of Main street bridge was also discussed, and the attention of Works Commissioner R. C. Harris will be drawn to the matter.
Ald. Baker requested the association to discuss the inadequate service of the Toronto Suburban Railway in connection with the Norway section, and suggested that the tracks should be extended along Water street to Gerard street to meet the large amount of traffic. The alderman pointed out that the residents of the district are considerably inconvenienced through inadequate service. The matter will be further discussed at the next meeting.

EAST TORONTO
Y. M. C. A. WELL PATRONIZED.
The Y. M. C. A. on Main street, East Toronto, which since its opening a short time ago has been of such great benefit to the railway men from the nearby G. T. R. yards in furnishing them with excellent sleeping and dining accommodation, is well patronized. Upwards of 20 men are accommodated every day.
The management are a present fixing up a baseball ground for the men's amusement. The ground has been laid with a layer of cinders one and a half feet deep which will be covered with loam. The ground adjoins the Y. M. C. A. building.

G. T. YARDS ACTIVE.
Much activity is prevalent around the Grand Trunk yards at Little York. The big round house which has been closed for the past ten years is now in use and 13 of the 25 stables are occupied. It is rumored that extensive alterations are being contemplated and that the machine shop will be moved to East Toronto. At the present time a gang of men are busy fixing the rails and roadbed.

Alex Dowley, a Russian, appeared in police court yesterday morning, charged with distributing Bolsheviki literature in the east end of the city on May Day. A remand of the case was made by Magistrate Denison until May 9.

"For over three years, I was confined to bed with Rheumatism. During that time, I had treatment from a number of doctors, and tried nearly everything I saw advertised to cure Rheumatism, without receiving any benefit.
"Finally, I decided to try 'Fruit-a-lives.' Before I had used half a box, I noticed an improvement; the pain was not so severe, and the swelling started to go down.
"I continued taking this fruit medicine, improving all the time, and now I can walk about two miles and do light chores about the place."

EARLS COURT
FOR VETERANS' HALL.
The Great War Veterans of Earls Court attended Massey Hall in a body last night in support of the repatriation drive of the Y.M.C.A. and in which the veterans are to participate to the extent of $400,000. For its share the Earls Court branch is expected to get $10,000 towards the building of their new hall at the corner of Elmwood and West St. Clair avenue.

MAKES HOUSES DEARER.
Since the passing of the new city by-law raising the rates on water service and drain service the builders in this section are very busy. The cost of this material has become almost impossible to build with any profit, and now with this added cost extra charges will have to be put on to the houses and the public will have to pay. Houses that sold for $3,000 before the war are now bringing $4,000.

SHORTAGE OF BRICKS.
One of the new stores to be constructed on West St. Clair avenue is held up for the want of bricks, which are difficult to obtain through the Province of Ontario.
There is plenty of land suitable for brick making north of Earls Court, and it only needs an enterprising manufacturer to get busy.

ONE THOUSAND OBJECTIVE.
Rev. C. A. Williams, Timothy Eaton Memorial Church, and Rev. Archer Wallace, Berkeley Street Church, will be the special preachers on the occasion of the anniversary services at the Earls Court Central Methodist Church on Sunday. A choir of forty pieces, led by Norman March, will be a special feature. One thousand dollars is made the objective of this 13th anniversary of Rev. Peter Bryce's ministry in Earls Court, to be used in general church work.

G. H. TIDMAN BURIED.
Rev. E. A. Vesey of St. Edmund's officiated yesterday at the funeral of G. H. Tidman, whose death occurred on Wednesday. He was the son of W. S. Woods, decorated the hotel for the occasion and Willis orchestra provided the music. The York Radial Railway furnished a side car for the visitors from the city which was much appreciated by the committee: T. Rodda, E. Robinson, P. Hall, R. Tucker, I. Hall, E. Hewlett.

THE DAY IN OTTAWA
BY TOM KING.
Ottawa, May 2.—Ontario Conservatives howling themselves hoarse as they cheered a fervid eulogy of The Toronto Globe and The Toronto Star as it falls from the lips of Hon. N. W. Rowell, was the spectacle in the house of commons tonight that reminded one of the strange bedfellows brought together by the formation of the Union government. Mr. Rowell spoke from the heart out, and he may have been saying a word for himself while he sang the praises of The Globe and The Star.
The occasion for the speech was furnished by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux. The postoffice estimates being under consideration, Mr. Lemieux proposed as a rider to the appropriation bill that newspapers having the privileges of the mails should be required from time to time to disclose the names of their editors, publishers, stockholders, bondholders and others financially interested. He thought we should have the same law in Canada as they have in the United States, and gave some striking reasons why this would be in the public interest. to the well-known case of The Montreal Herald. That paper was ostensibly fighting for Liberal principles, and opposed to The Montreal Star. The public for a long time was not let into the secret that Sir Hugh Graham (now Lord Atholstan) was the owner of both papers.

to withdraw after nomination day, and thus elect their opponents by acclamation. To pull it thru it became necessary to buy up La Presse, the chief Liberal newspaper of Montreal. That was done, as we all know, but the paper was repurchased and the plot failed. Mr. Lemieux claims that Mackenzie and Mann bought La Presse to defeat Laurier, but as a matter of fact if they figured in the transaction at all it was in the repurchase, and to help Laurier win.
Then Mr. Lemieux ran amuck, and charged that all the Liberal papers in Ontario, with a few honorable exceptions, had been bought up in the elections of 1917. There was no need to explain their sudden turn-about-face. They all jumped, he said, on the same day, and it was upon that day that Sir Clifford Sifton and Sir William Mackenzie stung the Borden government to club thru the house by closure the bill to purchase the Canadian Northern Railway.
Mr. Lemieux further claimed that the papers of the country generally were debauched by the lavish expenditures for advertising by the Dominion government. They were kept in line for the government because they knew on which side their bread was buttered. The public, he said, should know the owner of every paper, so that it would be impossible for a paper like The Winnipeg Free Press to ardently support reciprocity while its owner was stumping the country against reciprocity.

H. C. Hocken, Unionist member for West Toronto, and editor of The Orange Sun, took up the cudgels for the press. He said the government got good value for all the money they spent on victory bonds and other advertising. He knew that the Montreal newspaper stung was discredited and that things might be bad in the west, but he knew that all the Ontario newspapers were owned and directed by men of unimpeachable honor and integrity. Having said this he was ready to support the motion of Mr. Lemieux.
Hon. Mr. Rowell was more generous than Mr. Hocken to the press. He eulogized not only the newspapers of Toronto, but also the newspapers of Montreal. He saw no great harm in the Jekyll-and-Hyde performance of Lord Atholstan, because he said everybody knew that The Montreal Star owned The Montreal Herald long before the fact came out in the criminal court. But it was in defending the Liberal papers of Ontario that Mr. Rowell rose to heights of eloquence. He hauled back into the teeth of Mr. Lemieux all charges and insinuations against the Liberal newspapers that supported the Union government in 1917.

These papers at great financial risk had sacrificed circulation and advertising in order to stand by their principles and win the war for liberty and civilization. The debt the country owed the press could never be paid in dollars and cents, and the government very properly carried the papers thru the mails at considerably less than cost.
Coming down to the question before the house, Mr. Rowell suggested that it intruded upon property and civil rights, and should therefore be dealt with by provincial legislation. It might be, however, that the federal government would decide to pass some legislation similar to that in force in the United States. Meanwhile, he dared Mr. Lemieux to repeat outside the house the charges he had instigated against the Liberal Unionist press of Ontario.
