The August Programme.

The programme this month is the prompt clearance of everything that belongs to summer to make room for new fall goods, and because of that fact we're able to anticipate bigger sales for August, with better values than were ever known before. Within four weeks we must be ready at every point for fall business, and stocks for the new season are coming in with a rush. That makes it imperative we sell everything now we don't want to carry over, and if shoppers accept our statements regarding the goods the growth of sales will surpass our largest hopes.
