MEMORIAL SERVICES IN LONDON ATTENDED BY IMMENSE CROWDS

Throat the United Kingdom People of All Creeds Paid Tribute to the Memory of the Departed Sovereign—St. Paul's, the Abbey and Chapel Packed.

London, Jan. 27.—Yesterday throughout the Kingdom all places of worship held services in memory of Queen Victoria. At St. Paul's Cathedral there was an unusual service. Before 9 o'clock in the morning an enormous crowd, wholly attracted in black, streamed from all directions to the vast edifice, and by 10 o'clock it was packed. Thousands, unable to gain admission, stood waiting on the steps and around the building. The low organ strains and muted peal. The service began at half-past 10. The Most Rev. Frederick Temple, Primate and Archbishop of Canterbury, presided at the altar. The service was a most touching one. There was a similar scene at Westminster Abbey, where all the services throughout the day were attended by enormous congregations.

The large assemblage in the Chapel Royal at St. James' Palace included Princess Frederica of Hanover, Prince Francis of Teck, a host of nobles, and many members of the Cabinet, and other distinguished persons. All the Roman Catholic and foreign churches in London held special memorial services. The members of the French Embassy attended the French Church and very elaborate services were held at the chapel of the Russian Embassy by command of Emperor Nicholas.

MEMORIAL SERVICES WERE HELD IN ALL THE TORONTO CHURCHES

Herbert J. Hallett and Misses Helen and Amelia Knight of Bowmanville Met Instant Death at a Crossing Near That Town—Train Hands Not to Blame.

Herbert J. Hallett and Misses Helen and Amelia Knight of Bowmanville, Ont., Jan. 27.—The Wharf road crossing on the Grand Trunk Railway southeast of this town was today the scene of an accident that terminated in the loss of three young lives. Herbert J. Hallett, son of the late W. H. Hallett, of Whiting; Helen Knight, who lives on the farm near the station, and her sister, Amelia Knight, were returning from making a call on their uncle, James Knight, on the lake shore, and, not observing the Montreal Express, locally known as the Sunday Flyer, coming down the steep grade, extending one and a half miles eastward from the station, they attempted to drive across the track. Before he got to the crossing the train struck the engine, severed from the horse and borne on the front of the train monster by the station. Hallett and the elder maiden, Helen, were thrown with such violence that they were instantly killed. Miss Knight's body was also terribly mangled. Amelia was not so badly injured, but had received an ugly wound on one side of her head. She was found lying in the ditch beside the track, about half way between the scene of the accident and the station, quite dead.
