VICTORIAN PARLIAMENT DISSOLVED.

Premier Issues a Manifesto to the Electors.

Melbourne, Victoria, Sept. 16.—Following the dissolution of the Victorian parliament to-day, in consequence of an adverse vote recently on the government schemes for retrenchment, the Premier, W. H. Irvine, issued a manifesto to the electors appealing to them to prevent their own servants from paralyzing the administration. He said that in order to avoid a serious deficit the government decided on a graduated reduction of the salaries of public servants, and that thereupon the mass of the state employees became rebellious, a strike on the state railways was openly organized, and in consequence of the pressure brought to bear on them by the malcontents, the assemblymen voted against the government.

To Dismiss the Case.

Detectives Neal and Colby of Lynn, Mass., who have been watching the Clark extradition case here, have returned home somewhat disappointed that they were not taking young Clark back with them. Clark's whereabouts are still unknown to the officers of the Detective Department, who hold warrants for his arrest.

Judge Morgan, when spoken to regarding the case on Tuesday night, observed that it was just in the same position as it was on Friday, the last time it came up in court. "Counsel have since come to me, and I apprehend it will be my duty if some move is not made very soon to dismiss the case."

On Tuesday morning Crown Attorney Curry, who is acting for the State of Massachusetts, found the following unsigned note on his desk at the City Hall. It was written with a lead pencil:

"Mr. Curry, I am satisfied your purpose was to annoy me by having Mr. Douglas imprison the boy and refuse bail, and you did not succeed and you can go to."

The Crown did not succeed in proving that Michael O'Connor stole $6.50 and 30 car tickets from Frank Mulvihill. The case of Alex. Shaw, charged with highway robbery, was dismissed.

FANCIES FOR THE FAIR SEX

Opening of Autumn Styles and New Goods at Catto's Claims Much Attention.

CREDITABLE WINDOW DISPLAY

Latest Patterns in Imported Materials and Headgear for Fall Season.

The preparations that have been going on at Catto's for some weeks past focused on Tuesday in the grand opening of autumn styles and new goods imported by this well-known King-street emporium. Keeping in line with the grand hotel building just nearing completion, Messrs. John Catto & Son have anticipated the fine architecture to be on full view, and have had their front and windows greatly improved to late show some extensive alterations, which afford not only better light and show space, but give an additional attractiveness to this section of the city.

All departments in this interesting establishment are working at full pressure, for never before was there so much to show the visitors, who, eager for the latest tips, thronged the building from morning till evening. The fine style suits for ladies' and misses' suits, the exquisite silk and lace and gowns, the silk and wool gowns, the rich black grenadine dresses, the satins, the silks, all make a display which occupies one-half the ground floor, and is interesting to all, whether interested in purchasing or otherwise. The well-known lines of linen damasks and bed-linen carried by this house are symbolic of purity and goodness whenever the handsome make and finish shown by this house form a veritable pleasure ground for those who have the opportunity. Incidentally it is something for Scotchmen in Canada to be proud of that in their midst is the largest display of Scottish goods shown under any one roof in the world. The information was elicited from this department that the fine corps of lads who appeared yesterday at the Western Fair in London were outfitted by Messrs. John Catto & Son.

Proceeding by the electric elevators to the best floor, the visitor finds there a dazzling display of new millinery, new coats, cloaks, wraps, skirts and costumes, all showing their particular style and yet carrying distinctively characteristic marks of their own.

The ladies' tailoring and dressmaking occupy the second floor, and it is here the ladies may have styles and requirements studied out for them by experts in this line.

TO FIGHT THE MEAT TRUST.

Germany Backs Project to Supply Europe From Africa.

Berlin, Sept. 16.—The national campaign for the election of the Reichstag has been formally opened. The social democrats have seized eagerly upon the "meat famine," and are making the most of it. Petitions are being presented by the large cities where liberal votes predominate, protesting against the exclusion of foreign cattle, beef, pork and mutton.

The Chicago Meat Trust receives particular attention in the pending agitation. Tabular statements are issued showing that the price of pork has increased in Chicago since 1900, thirty-two per cent., while in Berlin it has increased twenty-three per cent. In Paris several per cent. In Vienna sixteen per cent. Recent figures, gathered by the United States consular agencies in Germany at the request of the State Department in Washington, show that since the rigid exclusion of American canned meats, sausages, beef and lamb, the consumption of cheap and unwholesome meats, as well as of horse meat, has increased in the German provinces.

There is a strong movement for the repeal of the obnoxious agrarian anti-American meat laws. It is not unlikely that a reason for the action of this action will be presented at the coming session of the Reichstag and shared by one of the liberal parties.

The German government is preparing to fight the American Meat Trust. A movement is on foot to organize a large company with German capital for the export of meat to Germany and cold storage houses in the German Southwest of the colony. Mr. Lewin speaking to a correspondent, said: "Climate conditions are excellent for the colony for raising cattle. The project is to erect slaughter houses and cold storage houses similar to those of Armour and Swift, in Chicago, and to supply canned and other products to Germany and other parts of Europe. The German government supports the movement by contracts for the supply of the German army."

The Hague, Sept. 16.—Queen Wilhelmina opened the States General (parliament) in person to-day. She appeared to have completely recovered from her illness. Her Majesty was accompanied by her husband, Prince Henry, and the Queen Mother. The Queen's reference to foreign relations in her speech from the throne was confined to the statement that the relations of the Netherlands with foreign powers continued very friendly.

The rest of the speech was devoted to domestic matters. Her Majesty said that since the Dutch shipping trade had been affected by the crisis which had arisen elsewhere, the conditions of commerce, and industry of the Netherlands remained satisfactory, and that of agriculture was not unfavorable. Labor conditions were improving, but there was much room for betterment.

MR. CHARLTON SPEAKS.

Believes Tariff Policy Should Be Governed by Practical Considerations.

Lynedoch, Sept. 16.—John Charlton, M.P., discussing the recent utterances of Hon. J. L. Macdonald, in a speech made at Halifax, Montreal and other places, stated that he had given careful attention to Mr. Macdonald's utterances, and that he deemed them to be of very great importance, and to possess much significance, coming as they did from a man who had been a member of the government, and one of the most pronounced personalities in public life in the Dominion of Canada.

Mr. Charlton then turned to his own efforts in making known the true trade conditions of Canada, and declared that his efforts had not been without success. He said that he considered reciprocal trade in natural products between the United States and Canada, and in perfect command on the part of Canada, and that he was very much in favor of the condition that the United States should have the advantage of minimum Canadian tariff on natural products. He said that the United States should have the advantage of minimum Canadian tariff on natural products.

He deemed it advisable to meet present conditions by suitable tariff reductions, and to apply to the process of legislative strangulation to the importation of at least $45,000,000 annually of American manufactures. He said that he was in favor of a nation that he was in favor of self-protection, and the requirements of self-protection, and the requirements of self-protection, and the requirements of self-protection.

AFTER THE COMMISSIONER

On What Authority Does Mr. Fleming Allow Building on Bar Near Keating's Cut?

PROTEST FROM A DEPUTATION

Who Could Not Come to Terms—Meeting of Property Committee—City Hall Notes.

Wallace Maclean, J. Lewis, P. F. Cronin and John A. Egan, on behalf of themselves and a dozen others, appeared before the Property Committee Tuesday afternoon, because they could not come to terms with the Assessment Commission in regard to obtaining from the city the use of some property on the lake front, west of Keating's Cut, just east of where numerous summer buildings of various kinds are now located. They want to erect summer residences.

The gentlemen said their objection was in a position to state that the minimum value of a new building on the property should be $1000. This they thought was too high and they desired that the committee should have it lowered, particularly owing to the cheap character of some of the nearby buildings.

There was a lengthy discussion as to what authority the Assessment Commission had to permit anyone to use the property and also upon what authority the present occupants of the land in the said lake front should be allowed to build. The City Solicitor said that the city could be disposed of by public auction. The committee should have it lowered, particularly owing to the cheap character of some of the nearby buildings.

THREE CHICAGO DOCTORS

Failed to Do for Miss Mabelle L. Lamonte What Was Accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

She Has Written a Faithful Account of Her Case to Convince Other Suffering Women.

The beautiful young lady whose portrait we publish in this article has only one object in view in allowing us that great privilege, and that is to help convince other young women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is surely as the sun shines.

MISS MABELLE L. LAMONTE, Leader Nielsen Singing Society, Chicago, Ill.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was in an awful state for nearly three years with a complication of female troubles which three physicians called by different names, but the pains were all the same. I dreaded the times of my monthly periods for it meant; a couple of days in bed in awful agony. I finally made up my mind that the good doctors were guessing; and hearing from different friends such good reports of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I tried that. I bless the day I did, for it was the dawning of a new life for me. I used five bottles before I was cured, but when they were taken I was a well man once more. Your Compound is certainly wonderful. Several of my friends have used it since, and nothing but the best do I ever hear from its use. Yours, MABELLE L. LAMONTE, 222 E. 31st St., Chicago, Ill."

If Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure Miss Lamonte—why not you? You cannot tell until you try it. If you are ill, and really want to get well, commence its use at once, and do not let any drug clerk persuade you that he has something of his own which is better, for that is absurd. Ask him to produce the evidence we do.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or distention), leucorrhoea, falling inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that bearing-down feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. No living person has had such a vast and successful experience in treating female ills. She has cured thousands of others, and she will cure every suffering woman who will simply ask and follow her advice.

REWARD.—We have deposited with the City Bank of Lynn, Mass., which will pay to any person who can find the above testimonial letter, not genuine, or who can produce evidence to the contrary, a reward of $5000. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Lynn, Mass.
