PEACE AND HARMONY IN ORGANIZED BALL Judge Landis Accepted by Majors and Minors for Seven

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Ail is peace today in organized baseball. Peace agreements vere signed today not only between the major and minor leagues, but between mulvidual chus owners who have quar-individual crito owners who have quartered in the past.

By the agreements major and minor leagues alike recognize Judge Kenesaw M. Landis basebari commissioner with supreme powers. The agreement as drafted read that the commissioner might "recommend such action as he deemed advisable." Judge Landis asked that this be change to "take such action as he deemed advisable." The major leagues concurred, and it is understood that the minors will also agree to the change. Individual cub owners agree not to publicly criticize or talk about one another, and to accept any decisions made by Judge Landis, regardless of their own personal views. personal views.
Tonight the major leagues signed the contract with Judge Landis, making him a year.

New contract forms with players were approved by the majors. Under these the player pledges loyalty to his club and a square deal to the public.
