

RURAL PUBLICATIONS,

BY LUTHER TUCKER & SON, ALBANY, N. Y.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN—A Weekly Journal,

for the Farm, the Garden, and the Fireside, embracing every subject of practical interest to the Farmer and Country Resident, and very generally conceded to be "the best Agricultural Weekly in the country." New volumes commence the 1st of January and July, in each year. Price, $3 a year.

THE CULTIVATOR—Published Monthly, and is well known in every part of the Union, as a Standard Agricultural Periodical, to need commendation. It is now made up from THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN, and furnished at the very low price of 50 cents per annum. All subscriptions begin with January. A New Series was commenced in 1853, and every new subscriber should procure the volumes for 1853-4-5-6, so as to have the set complete. Bound volumes sent by mail, prepaid, at $1 each. Single, in printed covers, 75 cents. Specimen copies will be cheerfully sent to all applicants.

Relations of Chemistry to Agriculture, and
