The banquet was tendered by these two classes to the Ladies' Progressive Bible class. The room was tastefully decorated. The four nicely-appointed upper tables were arranged with roses of pink and red roses and candles of the same colors in silver candlesticks. Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald are to leave soon for Needham, Mass., to reside. The silver cup has a gold lining and has a mahogany pedestal. It is over 16 inches in height and nine inches in diameter, and has the following inscription engraved on it: "To the Pioneer class, Rev. G. B. MacDonald, from the Pioneer class, March 28, 1932."

Rev. Mr. MacDonald, feelingly thanked the members of the class. All joined in singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds."

Social Notes of Interest

Charming in every detail was the successfully arranged sunshine tea and sale, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of Saint Andrews church, in the lecture room yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. T. Kenneth Raymond, the president, was the general convener. The decorations were effectively carried out in yellow and white. In front of the platform an arch was erected which was beautifully decorated with clusters of spring flowers. Over the central serving table was a canopy from which yellow ribbon streamers led to the corners of the room. The table was decorated with yellow candles in silver candlesticks, and had in the center a silver basket of jonquils.

The hall windows were daintily curtained in yellow, and tall vases of spring flowers adorned the window sills. Mrs. L. G. Crosby and Mrs. J. B. Bonnell presided over the tea cups and tea was served at small tables which presented an attractive appearance with central decorations of jonquils. Mrs. Annie Melick and Mrs. A. Nelson were conveners of the tea tables, and Mrs. George Bishop, Mrs. Royden Thomson, Mrs. Alexander Wilson, Mrs. Palmer Kinsman and Mrs. Theodore Cushing were the replenishers. The following clipping from the March number of The Fettesian, the magazine of Fettes College, Edinburgh, is of interest to many friends of the late Lieut.-Col. Maurice Forbes White.

"Lieut.-Col. Maurice Forbes White, who died at Bombay on Dec. 4, came to Glenora in 1891 and left in 1896 to graduate in medicine at Aberdeen. At Fettes College and throughout his life elsewhere he made innumerable friends through his charm of temperament, and an obvious staidness which readily inspired confidence. He was commissioned to the Indian medical service in 1894, and served in India, Burma, and the Persian Gulf. Later he was posted to the foreign and political service, and became state surgeon in Al-Bah, Bahrein, where he was placed in command of the 121st Indian Field Ambulance in Palestine, where, in the intervals of the strenuous and rapid campaign, he found time to drain a malarial swamp on a tributary of the Jordan and to make a large collection of local wild flowers, many of which later found a welcome at the British Museum. With health impaired by war service, he returned to India in 1924 as residency surgeon in Rajkot, Kathiawar, where his early and unexpected death cut short the fine work for which he was admirably suited."

"The official gazette of the West India States reads about his skill as a physician and his qualities as a man, he earned the respect and affection, not only of his brother officers, but of all classes of the community. And an Indian surgeon, writing to deplore his loss, says: 'It was a proud privilege to serve under him. So good and noble. Always kind and forgiving, ready to help everybody. He will always remain in my memory as the best of the British race.'"

"Maurice White had a surgeon's hands, a healer's character, a gay humor and inflexible loyalty. A friend so easily loved is hard to lose."

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Waring and Miss Josephine Waring, West Saint John, have returned home after a three month's trip in the West Indies.

The Argosy Weekly, of Mount Allison, Sackville, has the following of interest: "Following the recent last week Miss Ida M. Leslie was the hostess at a formal reception in honor of Miss Muriel Curren. The guests, among whom were members of the University and Ladies' College faculties, as well as the debating team assembled in the common room, where conversation, coffee and cake were the order of the evening. Music was supplied by Miss Alice Lushy at the piano, accompanied by several talented students on the violin. The out-of-town guests included Dr. and Mrs. Curren, Saint John; Mrs. and Miss Thompson, Hillsborough; William Curren (ex-25), and Charles Curren, Saint John."

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kye have arrived in Ottawa from their home at St. Peter's, N. B., and with their daughter, Miss Muriel, who has been here for a few weeks, they have taken up residence at 322 Frank street.

Mrs. R. L. McLaren, of Hamilton, is sailing from New York on April 24 by the Goedic, to spend several months travelling abroad.

Mrs. James McMenemy, Moncton, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Roy S. Davis, Truro.

Mrs. J. K. L. Ross, Montreal, who spent the winter abroad and is at present in Paris, is leaving there on April 1 for London, and will sail for Canada on April 14.

Charles L. Cavell, of Upper Campbell, who was brought to Victoria Hospital, Fredericton, on Thursday night and operated upon for a serious attack of appendicitis, is progressing favorably as can be expected.

Mrs. M. B. Dixon, Fredericton, returned on Saturday from Montreal, where she underwent treatment at the Royal Victoria Hospital. Her condition will be pleased to learn that she is very much improved in health.

The Right Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, Premier of Canada, entertained on Saturday night at Laurier House, Ottawa, at a dinner party of twelve for seasonal visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Curson Dobell, who returned from their wedding trip by the Montserrat after spending two months abroad, were welcomed in Montreal Monday, where they were to take up their residence at 608 Lansdowne avenue.
