"CONQUEST OF QUEBEC" WONDERFUL PICTURE

Imperial Crowded With Enthusiastic People of All Ages — Of Historical Value

Wolfe, or the Conquest of Quebec, was the pictorial feature that packed the Imperial Theatre from top to bottom all day yesterday and sent the people away keyed up to a high pitch of enthusiasm and patriotic fervor. It was a remarkable film, too, in many ways. It was contained in 5,000 feet, depicting the final stages of the struggle that won Canada for the British crown and with faithfulness to detail and recorded history quite surprising. Thousands of men were employed in it, hundreds of horses, scores of old-time sailing craft and every phase of the warfare that was waged at that time seemed to be re-enacted with the effect of real strife, disarming criticism and eliciting wonderment. The principal roles such as Wolfe, Montcalm, Lieut. Arleigh, Mademoiselle Mars and others were counterparts of the originals as we see them in the picture books and all through the five reels it was noticeable that the Kalem Co. paid particular attention to the little details which in the eyes of keen observers might spoil the whole production. The lack of a noisy sentiment and love scenes—which are often introduced in real stories to satisfy certain classes—was another thing that helped make the picture a true masterpiece, a vivid portrayal of an actual and serious event. Applause punctuated the picture throughout and the Imperial's orchestra certainly did not do anything to detract from the film with its patriotic music.

Mellor & DePaula, the new singing team, proved a highly meritorious attraction, rivaling the best the Keith people have brought here. They sang solo duets, the chief of their numbers being Carissima (Pena) and that sweet old ballad Answered. On the whole the Imperial offers a most extraordinary bill, something the old, the young, the man of letters and the untutored can enjoy and understand. It is a patriotic programme and a musical treat par excellence. The Wolfe and Quebec pictures are scheduled for today and Wednesday and doubtless those who saw it yesterday will prove its best advertisement. It was produced by the Kalem Co. of New York on the actual scene in Quebec, introducing splendid views of Montmorency Falls, the Citadel, the heights which Wolfe and his men climb and the historic Plains of Abraham.

"THE ACCUSING EYE"
AT GEM THEATRE
Two Part Romantic Drama—Northwestern Story and Bollicking Comedy—Good Music by Orchestra.

At the Gem Theatre yesterday a two part story of a crime romance trend was presented in "The Accusing Eye," a drama of spilted action and appealing love scenes. It told the story of an undying love in the heart of a young man whose sweetheart died through the scheming of his rival, and showed how he cherished the affection for her to his death. The Gem orchestra had a delightful programme, while the picture pieces were of leading interest. Ford Sterling, who is the star of the picture, a comedian in the motion picture business, with his "funny faces," appeared in a bit part, entitled "His Wickedness," which was a veritable scream, and which provoked great roars of laughter, while the Selig players in story of the north-west, with the Royal Mounted figuring prominently, "Northern Hearts," gave a most charming production. A feature of particular interest has been billed for the Gem for the mid-week show in "The Cherry Pickers," a story of British-Indian life.

TRUTH

EDWARD MOTT WOOLLEY has written a little book which every business man should read. It describes that wonderful organization of 127 clubs and 10,000 members, the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, whose emblem is shown above. It tells how these earnest and hard working clubs have fought with successful vigor against fraudulent and unfair and unsound business conditions. It also tells of the plans for the Tenth Annual Convention of the A. A. C. of A., to be held in Toronto, June 21-25. COMPLETELY BROKEN DOWN

Another Lady Thinks "Fruit-a-lives" Greatest Tonic in the World

Hagersville, Ont., Aug. 26th, 1913. I can highly recommend "Fruit-a-lives" because they did me an awful lot of good. About four years ago, I commenced taking "Fruit-a-lives" for a general break-down and they did me a world of good. We bought a good many dollars' worth, but they did all that your advertising claims for them, and as I said before, I cannot speak too highly for them. Their action is so pleasant compared with other medicines, that I am glad to say so and I trust that some other woman may start taking "Fruit-a-lives" for I know the results will be all that you claim.

ADVENTURES OF A FREE LANCE AT THE UNIQUE.

For some time past the Blue Book magazine has been running a series of stories exploiting the adventures of a diplomatic Free Lance, who is a man with modern times, and in an endeavor to bring before the picture public these wonderful stories of adventure, the series in magnificent style, as testified by the first production, entitled "The Cat's Paw," presented at the Unique theatre yesterday. Mr. Cruze, as the Free Lance, brings out a new phase of his character, his acting calling for much praise. The method in which the plans of the Japanese fort were stolen was one of the most intensifying scenes presented in film for some time. The second of this series will be shown at the Unique in the near future.

EL NINO EDDY AT THE LYRIC.

Jumping about with the dexterity of a school boy, turning somersaults and performing many feats several in number, young Eddy, who is just seventy years old, created what one could term a mild sensation at the Lyric yesterday. Mr. Eddy has traveled all over the world in his fifty years of stage experience, and his feat was a rare one to John over forty years ago. To see him on the street one would never imagine that he was a school boy, but his exhibition of rope jumping as given by him at the Lyric. He is well worth seeing.

The pictures, too, this week are a tiny little better than the average. The Mystery of the Black Cat, a Romance drama in two parts, with Henry Watthall as the villain of the piece, supported by a capable cast, is an intense story of life in the west. The Weekly News contains many interesting items.

DEATH AND RUIN IN PARIS STORM

Streets Cave in and Many Perish — Taxicab Engulfed — Terrible Downpour Lasted Three Hours

Paris, June 15.—A thunderstorm of phenomenal violence raged over Paris for three hours this evening. It caused loss of life and enormous damage to property. The great volume of rain flooded the streets and caused the bursting of sewers. In the central business district of the city, a street caved in, engulfing several pedestrians. The immense pits resulting from the collapse of sidewalks and roadways. The police estimate the victims at seven at least.

About the same time a large section of the road in the Place St. Augustin suddenly collapsed. A passing taxicab was engulfed. Eye-witnesses saw a woman's hand and the head of the vehicle, as the head of the chauffeur, as the taxicab disappeared. Almost immediately a large wagonette just missed the same fate, the hind wheels sinking axle deep in the soil, but the occupants made their escape.

REMEMBER THE ELDEST GIRL

"No, I never want Janie to leave us," said an elderly woman as she glanced fondly at her eldest daughter. "I don't know what I should have done without her, with all the children to look after." Younger sons and daughters had gone out into the world, married, and settled down. But Janie had always been mother's right hand at home in the cooking, cleaning and mending. The brave, good girl, doing her work willingly and Locomotor Ataxia, Heart Trouble and Nervous Spells Yielded to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

It would be easy to tell you how Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cures locomotor ataxia and derangement of heart and nerves, but it may be more satisfactory to you to read this letter:

Mrs. Thos. A. R. F. D. 3, Sombra, Ont., writes: "Five years ago I suffered a complete breakdown, and frequently had palpitation of the heart. Since that illness I have had dizzy spells, had no power over my limbs (locomotor ataxia) and could not walk straight. At night I would have severe nervous spells, with heart palpitation, and would shake as though I had the ague. I felt improved after using the first box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after continuing the treatment can now walk, eat and sleep well, have no nervous spells and do not require any medicine. I have told several of my neighbors of the splendid results obtained from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Why Not Learn How To Play?

As a nation we Americans do not know how to take pleasure—to amuse ourselves. We take our pleasure, like our work, too seriously. We go to the theatre, we make hard work of our vacations. If we can't play terribly hard, and after the same fashion of our neighbors who are better off, we won't play at all. Some of us are so afraid we won't play in the right way—in the fashionable way—that we just give up trying altogether. Then our bodies and our minds, and our souls—pay the price of being denied relaxation and pleasure.

A clever Englishman said to the writer one long ago—"You make haste, even in your amusements, so they lack spontaneity and gaiety. You really can't enjoy a dinner, don't you know, when you race to it in a taxicab because your own watch in your hand. You are so afraid of missing something at a dance that you never sit out a dance. You work just as hard as the paid musicians. When I ask an American woman to sit out a dance with me, that I may enjoy her conversation, she accedes graciously, but she thinks I am not getting my money's worth."

We can't take the pleasure nearest our hand. We reach out for the pleasures which some other fellow can afford better than we can. We try to find pleasure in the things we can't pay for. Now, there's Bill Graham. You may not recognize him by this name, but he lives in your town. Bill loves the water, so does Bill's wife. When Bill was courting her, he used to hire a rowboat or a canoe, and she would steer their craft into shadowy corners of the lake.
