SERTOR BOYD ON RECIPROCITY.

An admirable "er from Sonto Journal or reciprocity between the United States and Canada, a subject in which every intelligent man in the Dominion feels and Canada, a subject in which every intelligent man in the Dominion feels and Canada, a subject in which every intelligent man in the Dominion feels and Canada, a subject in which every intelligent man in the Dominion feels and Canada, a subject in which every intelligent man in the Dominion feels and Canada, a subject in which every intelligent man in the Dominion feels and Canada, we are unable to reproduce the letter and the Journal's editorial comment on its full, but as footh appear in the Sun there is no doubt this both will be widely read. Wh. Boyd, going into the historical view of the quesc ion, describes the doings of the Detroit convention of 1856, which requested the president of the United States to enter into negotiations with the government of the United States to enter into negotiations with the government of the United States to enter into the feel of the United States to enter into the feel of the United States to enter into the feel of the Canada in the Unitor," and all subsequent attempts on the part of Canada in the Unitor, and all subsequent attempts on the part of Canada in the Unitor, and all subsequent attempts on the part of Canada in the Unitor, and all subsequent attempts on the part of Canada in the Unitor, and all subsequent attempts on the part of Canada in the Unitor, and all subsequent attempts on the part of Canada in the Unitor, and all subsequent attempts on the part of Canada in the Canada in the Canada in the Canada in the Unitor, and all subsequent attempts on the part of Canada in the Canada in the Unitor, and all subsequent attempts on the part of Canada in t
