HE DROPS DEAD WHILE AT WORK

George Chandler of Kingston, Kings County, dropped dead while working in front of his home yesterday morning. He was doing some work in front of his door, and while wheeling a wheelbarrow about nine o'clock he was suddenly seized with what was apparently an attack of heart failure. He fell to the ground and died almost instantly. The people of Kingston were greatly shocked when they received the sad news of his sudden death, as he had been in excellent health and was able to be at his work every day.

The deceased was about sixty years of age and is survived by his wife and one brother, both residing in Kingston.
He has no children. He was the postmaster at Kingston, and also conducted a grocery store. He was well known in Kingston and vicinity and also in this city. Being of genial disposition and upright character, he was well liked by his many acquaintances.

BUTTERMILK VALIANT FOE OF OLD JOHN BARLEYCORN

Regular drinkers of "hard" liquor in New York have suddenly discovered that buttermilk is a beverage which gratifies and satisfies but does not inebriate, and have adopted it to such an extent that it takes all of one man's time in the Waldorf-Astoria to carry jars of buttermilk from the cellar to the bar. Fifty quarts is below the daily average consumption of buttermilk at the Hotel Knickerbocker bar. Brown's Chop House has put in a big porcelain churn to keep buttermilk handy for its devotees of the Haldi. Three or four hundred drinks of it is the daily average consumed by the sporting element which frequents the Union Cafe, in Broadway, and the House and other saloons in the financial district sell more buttermilk than malt liquor.

Philip Kennedy, manager of the Waldorf-Astoria bar, explained the popularity of the homely beverage.
"Buttermilk satisfies thirst, has an agreeable after effect and does not make you want another drink, as milk, water and beer do," he said. "Doctors tell everybody that it is the most healthful drink one can take, and who have an international reputation as consumers of champagne are drinking more buttermilk here this summer than an ordinary farmer's son will consume in a lifetime."

"Eight hundred to a thousand drinks was the average daily sale of buttermilk here up to the early part of July, when large proportion of the class which patronizes this bar went away for the summer. We had one man doing nothing else than bring in buttermilk.
Now its sale is equally large in proportion to the whole amount of business done here. When we first put it in here three or four years ago we were laughed at, and we did not sell as much in three months then as we sell in a day now."

Buttermilk appeals to the "hard" liquor drinker more than to the consumer of beer, according to statisticians of the crooked elbow. They also assert that whiskey and wine drinking go with speculation and malt liquors do not, pointing for proof to the popular saloons in the Wall Street district, where consumption of beer and ale is whimsical and whiskey is going across the bars in a steady stream from ten to four o'clock.

Only a few years ago big and little lights of wall street made a daily pilgrimage in hot weather to the little booth in Battery Park, opposite the Barge Office, the only place in that region where buttermilk was sold. Within two blocks of that booth yesterday the German proprietor of a saloon was almost hysterical at the sight of the white fluid his bartenders were unloading while the beer pumps were almost silent.

Buttermilk served in New York's saloons is not the by product of the old time dairy farm, which it was too much trouble to market at three cents a gallon and was fed to the pigs. It is a specially prepared fluid retaining in modified and ripened form nearly all of the components of the best fresh milk.

The small amount of butter extracted from the milk in this process is of very low grade and among the dealers themselves is most frequently referred to as "axle grease." It is sold only to the poorest classes of foreigners from Southern Europe and brings ten cents or less a pound.

"Fifteen to twenty thousand quarts daily is the average of our sales of buttermilk," said an official of a milk company. "The increase has been enormous, especially this summer. We have had a large, steady demand all the year round for several years from those who drink it under advice of their physicians. When the weather gets particularly hot the demand takes a big jump. We make it from the fresh milk which is set overnight and carefully kept at a certain temperature.
Then the whole liquid goes through a butter making process. Ordinary buttermilk, such as one gets on farms, is what is left after the cream has been churned and the butter washed and removed. The buttermilk sold in New York is a much higher grade."

"Buttermilk has an excess of lactic bacteria which seem to be the germ-seeds of the bacterial world. The other microbes they meet have no chance against them. They are harmless and beneficial in driving out other bacteria of the alimentary system, and give to buttermilk a slightly laxative property which other forms of milk are entirely devoid of. The slightly acid taste, which I believe has had so much to do with making buttermilk popular with barroom customers, and which makes it a grateful assuagant of thirst, is due to the slight amount of lactic acid in it."

CANADIAN NEWS TOLD IN BRIEF PARAGRAPHS

LONDON, Aug. 16.—The Canadian Associated Press learns that one of the results of the Imperial Defence conference will be a provision for the sum of $2,250,000 for the further development of the coast defences of Canada.
It is understood that the Canadian delegates have submitted to the imperial authorities a comprehensive scheme in this regard.

Permission was given to the Hon. L.
P. Brodeur, Canadian Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and Admiral Kempthorne of the Canadian fisheries protective service, to visit the naval establishments and ships in port. Mr.
Brodeur will be present at the trial of the fisher, Earl Grey, at Barrow-on-Furness, on Aug. 25.

A survey was held yesterday afternoon on the steamer Jeanara which was ashore at Cranberry Head, Friday night. On an examination of her bottom by a diver, it was found to be only slightly damaged. After bunkering at the Dominion Coal Company's pier tomorrow morning she will proceed to Buenos Ayres for which port she has three million feet of lumber.

CANB, N. S., Aug. 16.—The arrival of the schooner J. W. Mills, Captain Hiltz, this morning, with flag at half mast, tells another story of the loss of two of her crew.

the vessel on Wednesday, as usual, and did not return. A heavy fog shut in early in the day and although the schooner lay by for two days, making search in every direction, no trace of the missing men could be found.

On Wednesday night a heavy gale developed and blew almost a hurricane all day Thursday, so Captain Hiltz does not think it possible for the dories to have weathered such a high wind.
Both men were unmarried. Hiltz belonged to the Narrows, and Hyson to Pleasant Point, Lunenburg county.
Captain Hiltz reports very good fishing and has 1,000 quintals.

The Easy Meal

Has Grape-Nuts as its foundation.

Ideal these hot days because Grape-Nuts food requires no cooking and is at the same time a perfectly balanced food.

Try a hot weather breakfast of Grape-Nuts with cream,

Some fruit,
Soft Boiled Eggs,
Slices of crisp toast, Cup of well-made Postum.

Such a meal starts the day right, keeps the blood cool and the body and brain well nourished.

Compare the cool, contented Grape-Nuts fed man or woman with your meat-fed neighbor who is sweltering and miserable.

Grape-Nuts is fully cooked at the factory, ready to serve from the package. The cooking is done on scientific principles, so that the starch of the grains is transformed and ready for quick digestion.
