INDIA'S MOSLEMS VERY RESTLESS

Peasantry at Fever Heat, Believing Sultan Imprisoned and Constantinople Burned

By GEORGE PILCHER

(Copyright, 1926, by Public Ledger)

Caserta, India, Sept. 14.—A great part of India is now in the throes of another agitation not widely differing in inspiration nor ultimate object from that which all but caused a general rebellion in this country in the spring of 1919. The ostensible grievance on this occasion is the imprisonment to the prestige of the Khalifa—the successor to the Mahomet—of the Moslem world, imposed by the peace terms on Turkey.

It is true the Allies have scrupulously avoided any interference with the spiritual functions of the Sultan of Turkey, who is the Khalifa of the vast majority of the Moslems, but it is asserted by some of the Indian followers that the heavy restrictions on his territorial authority following on peace must make him a less efficient defender of the faith. The total withdrawal from his authority over the holy places of Arabia, now under King Faisal in the case of Mecca, or about to be placed under a new Mesopotamian ruler in the case of Kerbala, does amount to definite reduction of his spiritual authority.

Many Not Worried

Personally, I should say that the vast majority of the intellectual Moslems in India are not in the least sorry to see the reduction of the authority of the Sultan of Turkey. The Sultan's historical claims to the Khalifa are very shadowy, and the association with the religion of Islam—of a temporal power indelibly associated with mass and chronic misgovernment, has done Mohammedanism no good. Reflections such as these, however, are useless in estimating Indian political movements. The responsible portion of the public is invariably a few while the agitating class seizes on any and every opportunity to cause inconvenience and irritation to the British authorities.

During the war, when the more dangerous agitators were interned under the special war powers, no complaint was heard when the king of the Hedjaz rebelled, shook off the Turkish yoke and assumed sovereignty over Mecca, the holiest Moslem shrine. Now that the war is over and the agitators are free to do their worst, the extremist Gandhi, a devotee of the Hindu faith, and Shaukat Ali, the Moslem extremist are touring the entire country inciting the uneducated classes to boycott the government and emigrate to Afghanistan, the pretext being the allegation that the British and Indian Governments have invaded the Moslem faith.

Raised to Fever Heat.
The lamentable part of the affair is that peregrinations of these two extremists and the inflammatory addresses delivered by them and their supporters have raised the temper of the peasantry of the most backward of the Moslem areas to fever heat. In response to the stories that the British have burned, massacred, bombed Mecca, imprisoned the Khalifa and so forth, no less than 30,000 wretched peasants have been induced to sell their all to financial vultures who lurk round the villages and then set out on a trek for three, four or five hundred miles to Afghanistan.

The Amir of that detestable country becoming alarmed, has now closed his frontiers to all Indian immigrants, and pathetic scenes are resulting from the congestion of the pilgrim on and behind his frontier. The main road through the Khyber Pass is said already to be lined with the graves of old men, women and children. Disappointed travellers are turning in fury on the Khalifa's committee whose dupes they have become. Ultimately the majority will have to be repatriated and resettled in one of their little properties at public expense. The experience in the case of the Sikh emigrants to the Pacific coast, whom the Canadian Government refused to admit to the Dominion, suggests that before long the sense of baffled hopes which the emigrants will bring back with them will not be without its serious consequences.

Meanwhile Gandhi, the Hindu, and his Moslem co-operators are 1000 miles from the affected areas, spreading the spark of revolt in the southern province of Madras. The inaction of the British authorities is inexplicable except by reference to the habitual weakness of the Indian Government. The ultimate object of both Gandhi and Shaukat Ali is, of course, to make the country impossible for the British. No sane Englishman or American believes for a moment that India is yet within a measurable distance of doing without the British.

Brooklyn Increased Lead in National Yesterday to Five Ball Games by Winning Double-Header — Ruth's Homer Won Game for New York — Leaders in American League Both Won.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Brooklyn, Sept. 13.—Brooklyn increased its lead in the National League pennant race to five full games today in winning a double-header from Chicago 7 to 3 and 7 to 2, while Cincinnati lost to Philadelphia. It was the Dodger's tenth straight victory on their home grounds since returning from the West.

Brooklyn continued its hard extra-base hitting and virtually knocked Alexander out of the box in the first contest for their first victory over the star borman this season. Twelve hits for a total of 21 bases were made off Alexander and Carter, who relieved him after the fifth inning. Pfeffer was in good form and received sensational support.

The Cubs' ragged fielding in the second game made it easy for Uncle Robbie's men to win. Four double plays stopped the visitors' whenever they threatened to rally, except in the fourth inning when two doubles and a single accounted for two runs. Marquard, who is credited with the victory was taken out in that inning for a pinch hitter.

Too Many Cooks

Spoiled Chances

Nicholson Blames the Crew and the Crew Blames Nicholson.

Southampton, Eng., Aug. 31.—When Mr. Nicholson, the designer of Shamrock IV, arrived in England, he placed the superior seamanship of the Resolute's captain and crew among the reasons for the challenger's failure to lift the America's Cup.

Members of the Shamrock's crew, who have returned to England, resent the slur which they consider Mr. Nicholson has thrown upon their efficiency as yachtsmen and declare that the Shamrock's faulty handling was largely due to the interference of Mr. Nicholson.

Arthur Diaper, one of the crew, said in an interview with The Associated Press correspondent it was a case of too many cooks. What upon their efficiency on the only occasion Captain Burton was free from interruption and advice the Shamrock won. Diaper said all of the crew felt convinced that had a professional skipper been in full command Shamrock would have won the first three races. He claimed that the work of the men was made extremely difficult by the fact that they had 36 men on the halliards and could not move the sail.

He declared that Shamrock was very awkward to handle, and her canvas was about three times as heavy as that of the Resolute. The halliards were arranged in such a manner that the work of the men was made extremely difficult. What could be done by ten men on the 23-meter Shamrock required 30 to do on Shamrock IV. On one occasion in setting the mainmast they had 36 men on the halliards and could not move the sail.

"In fact," said Diaper, "I have never before seen such heavy canvas on a racing yacht." And then, on return of the yacht to City Island, after the races, they found a complete set of light racing canvas for Shamrock IV stored in Jacob's yard.

"Another fault," continued Mr. Diaper, "is the constant changing of sail which was in progress throughout the period of the races. The topmast was changed no less than seven times in the course of three weeks, and eventually they finished with the original one."
