SHOOTING ACCIDENT.

Two Young Men Injured at Cole's Island -- One Seriously.

Another accident through handling a revolver which, it was thought, was not loaded, occurred Sunday at Coles Island, Washademoak. Two young men named Frank Strong and Edward Gilbert were examining a revolver, the weapon being in the hands of the former. Apparently, neither knew that any of the chambers either knew that any of the chamber neither knew that any of the chaincers was charged, but one was. The pistol became discharged when pointed in the direction of Gilbert, who received a bullet in his side, the ball also passing through the hand of Strong.

Dr. Armstrong was at once called, and later a summons was sent Dr. Earle, of Young's Cove. Both physicians consider Colbect's income.

MARKETS.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York, June 24.—The stock marker maintained its waiting attitude today. The attendance of the members in the board room was very small and many brokers have gone away on vacations to the country or to Europe. The smaller class of traders were disposed to sell the market on the disappointing showing made by the Saturday bank statement, St. Paul and Union Pacific were most conspicuously affected by this selling. But little success was had in dislodging any holdings of stocks and covering by the bears was in evidence later in the day. A small number of stocks had considerable movements on individual lines but in those also the professional hand was seen in the quick realizing. Norfolk & Western was sold down after the opening on the score of the damage to the property by the West Virginia floods. Illinois Central was confidently bought on the general consideration that it was low in proportion to other grain carrying roads. The rise in sugar was due to the adjustment of prices of the product to a parity by the different companies. Manhattan was a feature on reiterated rumors that it will be leased to Metropolitan, Minneapolis and St. Louis dropped back 4½ on realizing. It was such individual causes that induced any considerable price movement anywhere in the list. Commission house business was at a standstill and brokers' offices were deserted. The money market failed to reflect any constriction of supply such as was indicated by the bank statement and money on call loaned as low as 3½ per cent. Business in railroad bonds was also of very moderate proportions and prices moved narrowly either way. Total sales par the previous week, demonstrates an easier condition of affairs in the European money markets and lessens the probability of gold exports. The moderate amount of gold sent to Germany this week revived attention to the unsatisfactory business conditions in that country, but these are unlikely to have any immediate effect here. No important demand upon our stock of gold is in prospect, and with increasing supplies from the klon-mike and me Transivani, the question of our money market being seriously disturbed by gold shipments need not yet be seriously discussed. The continued heavy excess of exports over imports is a factor highly favorable to us in the international exchanges. Indications point to a continuance of these conditions, for we are approaching the export season and both grain and cotton bills will soon be in better supply. Just now the will soon be in better supply. Just now the United States is in a posstato of wonderful financial stength; being fully able to meet notwolly its own unprecedented requirements, but also to afford Europe the helping hand and so stave off disaster.

As soon as the present efforts for depresson of values are over the market may be expected to enjoy a reasonable recovery in the event of easy money. While this is not the season to expect activity under ordinary conditions, still the situation is such as to require close watching, for sharp fluctuations in the leading stocks may occur when least expected. Values are still chiefly under control of the "community of interest," idea which is yet in process of evolution. The closer relations developing between St. Paul and Union Pacific place the market where it was when led by the Northern Pacific Great Northern and Burlington deal and remove it from the panic disturbance whoth followed the latter. The "community of interest," idea is now stronger than ever; for the Northern Pacific quarrel simply showed the strength of both sides and effectively demonstrated the mecessity for harmonious relations. By this process of unification three great transcontinental routes are being developed; the Great Northern-Northern Pacinc and Burlington roue; the Union Pacinc St. Paul and Missouri Pacinc with ther Vanderbilt connections, and the Pennsylvania-Atchison and Rock Island route. These arrangements make permanent through connections between the Atlantic and Pacific ocanas; and, with the great future development of commerce with the Orient, where two-thirds of the world's population is to be found, not to speak of our own growth, the Pacinc Oast and its demands upon American industry and capital.

For an indennite period, therefore, the market is likely to be annuenced by these negotiations, rising and falling according to the prospects of success and failure. As these gentiemen are not likely to show their hand, except at their own convenience, all reports of their doings and con it is impossible to calculate, but everyone knows that the supply of desirable invostments is exceedingly limited except at almost prohibitive prices. If this condition is not relieved, speculative activity will be forced into other and probably less desirable channels; but this is a situation that can be met when it comes. At present the general market is in good condition and with heavy July disbursements close at hand the prevailing influences would be favorable to a higher market were it not for the monetary situation. This, as intimated above, may prove to be the controlling feature. Tight money would debar any important prolonged bull campaign.

UNITED STATES AND EUROPE

M. DeWitte Thinks Secretary Gage is Poorly Informed--All Europe Against Uncle Sam.

London, June 24-A despatch to a news agency from St. Petersburg, dated today purports to quote M. Dewitte, the Rus sian finance minister, as saying that the statement issued by Secretary Gage in explanation of the United States treasury department's action in imposing counter vailing duties on certain Russian products shows the question is not fully understood by that statesman. M. Dewitte cannot imagine that Mr. Gage would intentionally mislead the people of the United States and therefore he can only conclude that Mr. Gage is not possessed of all the facts in the case.

The Times publishes an article from its Vienna correspondent dealing with the scheme of a pan-European combination against the United States. The writer says the probability of the realization of the idea is remote, but that it would be a mistake to ignore it altogether, considering its popularity in industrial and commercial circles.

Newly Discovered Metals Which Are Used in the Arts.

A number of newly discovered metals are now used in the arts. A short while agr they were only laboratory curiositics, owing to their high cost and the fact that no industrial application had been found for them.

$400 a pound, are used in the manufacture of fireproof curtains. Vanadium, worth, $600 a pound, is used in colored glass and certain aniline dyes. Uranium, which costs $90 a pound, is much more extensively used in the man-ufacture of glass and porcelain. It is also added to steel, which it makes extremely hard.

The hardest metal known is iridium, which is used for the points of gold pins. It is often found in connection with gold Palladium, worth $500 a pound, is remarkable for its small expansion by heat, on which account it is used in making standards of length and measuring instruand its price is $800 a pound.

Lithium in the metallic state is worth $1,200 a pound. It is used, however, only in combination. Its salts, which are comparatively cheap, are well-known remedies for rheumatism.

Selemium, worth $90 a pound, is employed in some electrical experiments and apparatus. It possesses the singular property of conducting electricity well in the dark, and losing its conducting power instantly in exposure to light. instantly in exposure to light.

From these facts it will be seen that many metals are now more valuable than gold, which is worth only $288 a pound.—
