Shekespeare has been praised has sometimes produced reaction, even in Euglish literature. Dr. Johnson always refused to regard Shakespeare as beyond or above criticism. All the early commentators were moderate in their praise; so it will be remembered was Voltaire. Our modern critics, both English and German, have adopted the opposite tone of unbounded eulogy. Now comes German protest. Roderick Benedix, the dramatist lately dead, has left a MS against "Shakespearomania." He rates the Bard of Avon somewhat lower thin Goethe and Schiller, and has no patience with the idea of Shakespeare's "supremacy" and "unattainable poetical sovereignty."

THIS convenient and economical preparation is recommended for all purposes in which a firm curd is required, and obviates the uncertainty of making whey from the Rennet Bag. It is applicable especially for making cheese-cakes, and other articles of confectionery.

The Whey is recommended by the Faculty for Infants when milk will not stay on the stomach sweetened with sugar.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE: To every quart of milk, made blood warm, add two large tea-spoonfuls of the Essence; then stir and cover it over. Place it at a little distance from the fire, in any convenient situation of moderate temperature, avoid disturbing it, and in an hour a fine curd will be produced. A larger portion of the Essence will produce the curd in a shorter time.

Also, hourly expectd—a cargo of WILKES-BARRE HARD COAL, in egg, nut, and
