

Amatite ROOFING

For Mine Buildings.

AMATITE is exactly suited to mining buildings because:

1. It can be laid by unskilled labor.
2. It has a real mineral surface which requires no painting.
3. Its cost is lower than that of other roofings of less weight.
4. It comes in rolls ready to be unrolled on the roof and nailed down.
5. The necessary nails and cement are supplied free, packed handily in the centre of each roll.

The mineral surface of Amatite is somewhat of a novelty; and the fact that it obviates the old painting nuisance, is giving to this roofing the leadership of the ready roofing industry.

The surface consists of mineral particles embedded under great pressure into a tough plastic matrix of pitch.

A sample of Amatite will be sent free on request.
