392

off, but we could not advise a largér quantitij till the fall. Oit es a slippery article; glue sticks on our hind's; frindstones are coming round again; grates are at astand; stoves unsaleable; paint, however, looks well; guns are expected to go off when the ducks come down; some report about powder, but we think it will all end in smokes: lead a dead weight on our hands; Glauber salts and Jrsuits' bark are mere drugs.

Yoür quedient servants,
RANDOM, SPEC&CO.

EXPECTED NUPTIALS:

'The Chevalier de Bellevne, it is reported, is shortly to lead to. the altar of Hymen, Mademoiselle des Neiges, with a fortune of 10,000 crowns.

Archy M'Fergus Esq, to the amiable Miss Rumpledale.
The Countess of Cork, whose residence in the Heymarket is well known as $\beta$ "cheap atore," lately purchased at a recent anction in St. Antoine suburbs, a haudsome carriage. It is said her ladyship means to take unto berself a husband, and to pass the honey moon at Saratoga spririgs.

Drowned. Lately, Tony Crouch, an illegitimate son of Lord Goddamnhim, to the great grief of that noble lord, and of the other relations of the yonth.

Printed and published by Dicky Gossip at the sign of the Tedotable.

A Member o' the Kirk's complaint from Quebec shall be attended to. John Brinl is too prolix, bat part may edme in. A Beanek is thanked for his information. Tramper's prérent' oommonication will not do, bat as he, with unaffected humility; Tequests that "if be is undervaluad a hint may be given as modestJy as possible," he is informed any deficiency of talent, gramizar, or writing, will never be an objection to the receival of any comb munications, the substance of which may be admissible. Tris' TUGMidTrox's anecdote of Miss Loverule, J. H. P. Z. R. and F. F. ${ }^{2}$ lines to the violet, rejected.

Two pence a piece woill be given for every copy of the following numbers of the Scribbler that are, not soilen or torn, by MIF. Alexander Downie, Grocer, Notre Dame Street, vjz. Nios. $5,9,11,12,13,14,15,16,17,18,19,20,21,25,26,28,30$, 31, and 32.

