Magic Lantern Entertainment.

An idea for an entertainment is a magic lantern with slides dealing with subjects of local interest. In every settlement, no matter how far in the country, there is sure to be one of the community interested in photography; that is all that is needed.
The amateur photographer can easily print the photos on the lantern slides, and so you can get your friends shown splendidly by the magic lantern. Great fun is caused if the photos are taken quietly, and the unsuspecting subjects are confronted with themselves at the entertainment.

Every duty we omit obscures some truth we should have known.—John Ruskin.

Ian Maclaren has closed his pastorate at Liverpool, England, at 55 years of age, leaving 723 names on the membership roll, with an annual expenditure of $15,000. He hopes to begin live anew in another field, where he can do better work with his accumulations and experience.

SLEEPLESSNESS.—When the nerves are unstrung and the whole body given up to wretchedness, when the mind is filled with gloom and dismal forebodings, the result of derangement of the digestive organs, sleeplessness comes to add to the distress. If only the subject could sleep, there would be oblivion for awhile and temporary relief. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will not only induce sleep, but will act so beneficially that the subject will wake refreshed and restored to happiness.

The Woman who Would
And Grocer who wouldn't.

Every day from five to fifteen letters are received by The Ogilvie Flour Mills Co. from women living in the smaller towns throughout Canada, saying they have asked their grocer for Royal Household Flour but can't get it. One writes—"I told my grocer, Mr.----, that I would buy 'Royal Household' regularly if he would always keep it on hand, but he said he wouldn't take on another brand of flour until he was obliged to." Another says—"My grocer is an 'old fogie' and never gets the newest or the best things until the year after." A third says—"We haven't an enterprising grocer in our town and are obliged to send to-----for 'Royal Household' or take a poorer flour."

Write direct to Ogilvie's.

If you can't get "Royal Household" from your grocer, write to us direct—we will immediately give you the name of the nearest grocer who keeps "Royal Household" and send you also the "Royal Household" recipes. There is no good reason why your grocer should compel you to use inferior flour—no first class grocer will hesitate to order "Royal Household" for you, and even the smallest dealer will get it if you insist upon it.
