

WCIAA golf championships set for Edmonton in October

Don't put away the clubs yet. There's still a few more competitions left before the snow flies.

The WCIAA Golf Championships will be held in Edmonton this year on October 13 and 14 at the Windermere Golf and Country Club.

Tryouts for the U of A teams will begin this weekend at the Windermere. The girls will tee-off at 11 a.m. on Saturday and again at 1 p.m. on Sunday in a 36 hole elimination tourney.

The four low qualifiers will be named to the team by Coach Pat

Austin. Three of the girls will be defending the crown taken by last year's threesome, with an alternate standing by.

Dr. Austin believes in plenty of practice before the tourney under any and all weather conditions. Last year in Winnipeg the Championships were held in almost near blizzard conditions.

The following practice schedule has been set up for the team members:

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 3-5, down at the Victoria Driving Range at 5 p.m. Saturday, Sunday, and Monday, October 7-9, three rounds at the Windermere course and Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, October 10-12, back to the driving range.

Kathy Galusha, who led the team to victory last year, is the only returnee. Kathy, one of Canada's top women golfers, was the Canadian Junior Champ in 1964 and 1965. Earlier this year she was the top Alberta representative in a national tourney.

Marianne Machlam, who was on the team in 1965, Heather Jesperson, who just missed the team last year, and Jean Wilson head the list of probable team members.

But the field is wide open. All interested women are asked to register at the Women's phys ed. office or report to the phys ed. parking lot by 10 a.m. Saturday morning. Rides out to the Windermere course leave the parking lot at 10 a.m.

Steve Mendryk has scheduled the men's tryouts for October 7 and 8 at the Derrick and Windermere courses.

The first 18 hole round tees-off at the Derrick at 10 a.m. next Saturday. On Sunday the action moves over to the Windermere for another 18 holes at 10 a.m.

The team will consist of the four low qualifiers, three members plus an alternate. All interested men are asked to register at the phys ed. office before October 6 to find out what their individual tee-off times will be.

Dr. Mendryk is looking forward to upsetting last year's champions from the U of M with a strong team.

You've got a week to brush up on your play before the eliminations. Coach Mendryk is looking forward to a large turnout.

Men's intramurals need officials for all sports

What is the biggest problem facing the men's intramurals program each year? You guessed it—recruiting enough officials for all the activities.

Why? Possibly many feel they are too inexperienced or that players will "get on their backs" for a bad call. Some may feel they haven't got the time, or the pay isn't good enough.

Believe it or not, previous experience is not an absolute essential as clinics are held prior to each sport. No one expects an official to be perfect anyway. It is fair to say that 99.9% of the intramural participants are reasonable and in most, if not all cases, do not question an official's judgment.

No one, if he decides to be an official must referee every night of the week. If only one night a week is possible this is fine, and helps make the program a success.

The intramural department pays well. For example, a 40 minute flag-football game will net a man

$1.50. Should a game be defaulted by one of the teams the official gets an automatic $1.00. A student can make up to $65 before the middle of November if he refs flag-football.

Last year one fellow even managed to earn $73 as a flag-football official. The success of the intramural program depends on having enough officials. One referee for a flag-football game, as occurred last year, isn't enough. There should be two for each contest.

Why not make some pocket money this year and at the same time make this year's program a success. Be an official for men's intramurals.

If you don't want to be a flag-football official we also need officials for basketball, volleyball, hockey, waterpolo, swimming and some minor events.

Come on in today to the Men's Intramural office, Room 150 phys ed. building and sign up. You will be welcomed with open arms.

—Neil Driscoll photo

I DON'T WANT TO LOOK

... Al Scott sharpens up his game

Record number of teams expected for football

By all indications, the traditional first major intramural sport, flag-football, will involve more teams this year than in '66. Last fall, 60 stout-hearted teams—a total roster of over 900 individuals, fought it out on the grid-iron with the frat men of Phi Delta Theta copping the silverware. However, the rumblings from the Deke house and Dutch Club indicate that any chances of a Phi Delt repeat performance are mighty slim! St. Joe's, Upper and Lower Residence also loom as potential spoilers.

Good news for flag-football enthusiasts—3 more fields behind Lister Hall are now playable. This brings the overall total from 6 up to 9 grids and hopefully this increase will do away with tossing the pigskin in 10 inches of the "white-stuff" in mid-November.

All unit managers should now be hard at work recruiting players. There is no limit on the number of teams a unit may enter and the leagues will be set up so that everyone will play with "equals".

In Division I, there will be only one team from each unit—its best team. Any unit entering only one team in flag-football automatically goes into Division I unless a special request is made to the contrary.

Division II will be made up of two teams from each unit—the 'B' and 'C' teams.

Should a unit have more than three teams, its D, E, F, etc. teams will be put into Division III. The intramural department hopes the Engineers don't have more than 26 teams—the alphabet won't allow it.

The deadline date for flag-football entries is Thursday, October 5th at 1:00 p.m. The first kick-off goes at 4:30, Tuesday, October 10th. Take it easy on that Thanksgiving turkey!

CORRECTION

The U of A rugby team is at home this weekend to the U of C. Game time is 1 p.m. tomorrow at the Varsity Grid. The team goes to Calgary next weekend.

$ $ SAVE $ $

BUY USED TEXTS

AT

V.C.F.

BOOK EXCHANGE

October 2-6

9:00-5:00

ROOM 142, S.U.B.