

Prairie Howell has been with the Camerons since they went into action. He has acted as stretcher bearer in almost every engagement in which his unit has fought. He has fulfilled his duties called to do and without fail.

He has at all times conducted himself in a creditable manner and been conscientious in his attitudes to his work. His superiors have nothing but praise for him, and it is only through an unfortunate mistake, for which he is only partly responsible, that he is here under these circumstances today.

He did not want to absent himself - certainly not for the length of time that he was absent
