

The Order for Morning Prayer.

The Service shall be the same with the usual Office for Holydays, except where it is in this Office otherwise appointed.

Let him that ministereth read with a loud Voice these Sentences of Scripture; and after them the Exhortation, Dearly beloved Brethren, &c.

TO the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses, though we have rebelled against Him: neither have we obeyed the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in His laws which He set before us.
O Lord, correct us, but with judgement; not in Thine anger, lest Thou bring us to nothing.

The beginning of the Psalm.

O COME, let us humble ourselves, and fall down before the Lord: with reverence and godly fear.

For He is the Lord our God: and we are the people of His pasture, and the sheep of His hand.

Let us repeat and turn every one from his evil way: and the Lord will turn and repent, and turn away from His fierce anger, that we perish not.

For Thy Name's sake, O Lord: be merciful to our sin, for it is great.
Have mercy upon us, O Lord, after Thy great goodness: according to the multitude of Thy mercies do away our offences.

Think not lightly from our wickedness: and cleanse us from our sin.
O remember not our sins and offences: but according to Thy mercy think Thou upon us, for Thy goodness.

Help O God of our salvation, for the glory of Thy Name: O deliver us, and be merciful unto us, for Thy Name's sake.

Behold, the eye of the Lord is upon them that fear Him: and upon them that put their trust in His mercy.

To deliver their soul from death: their eyes from tears, and their feet from falling.

Thou art our King, O God: send help unto Jacob.
Deliver us from the noisome pestilence: let Thy sanctification and truth be our shield and buckler.