CATLE

Last week's run at the stockyards was about even with the previous week, the number of cattle received being a trifle smaller. On the while the quality of the receipts was bettler than ever although a few head of very poor stuff were received. Prices held about steady except for some of the lower grades which showed a decline. This was caused by the shipping of some very poorly finished grass cattle. Most of the grain fed stock has been shipped and there is a great temptation for shippers to send in animals that have only been on grass for a short time, hoping to catch high prices for them. But they do not. The grass has only been in good shape for a short time, not nearly long enough to anywhere near finish the cattle, and all the poor grassers that are received are sold at a very low figure.

Winniped buyers state that they expect the quality of the cattle receipts will be low for the next three weeks or a month as their country shippers state that practically all of the grain fed stock has come forward and until the cattle have had time to fatten up on the grass thece will be no real good ones to ship. Shippers should not be in any hurry to ship the stuff they have on grass. There is no chance of them being in good shape until July 1 at the eacliest and the price they will bring at the yards will be small indeed, when a few weeks more on the grass would develop them into top notchers. Dealers state that there is no doubt but that the demand for light animals is poor and they will selllow.

This year has been a profitable one for the feeder of cattle. The price has been and they will sell low.

This year has been a profitable one for the feeder of cattle. The price has been high all spring or best quality stuff and the percentage of good stuff in the runs has been far ahead of any previous years. Western farmers have shown what they can do in the way of turning out first class grain fed cattle and most of this spring's run would compare with that from any district on the continent. Every branch of the agricultural indutry will benefit from an extension of feeding operations and there is nothing that will do so much toward insuring the continued strength of the market as the maintaining of high quality in the shipments.

tinued strength of the market as the maintaining of high quality in the shipments.

Last week, although near the closing of the grain fed stock shipping season, brought out some exceptionally fine butcher cattle, that sold for high prices. The top price of the week was seven dollars per cwt. which was paid for one bullock. This animal was a fine example of what proper feeding methods will do bullock. This animal was a fine example of what proper feeding methods will do. He was only ten months old and weighed 950 pounds, nearly a hundred pounds for each month since birth, and was perfectly finished. The balance of the butcher stock sold up to $6.75 per cwt., the bulk of the run bringing $5.30 to $6.25. Forty-five of the best were taken by eastern shippers. In striking contrast to these fine animals were some of the grassers that arrived. Most of them could be properly called "skins" and they sold as low as $2.50 per cwt. That's losing money for the shipper when only a few weeks more would have put the animals into such shape that they would have sold for at least twice as much. The sentiment of some of the traders seems to be toward lower prices for all but the best butcher grades, but it is not probable that any class will take any decided alump.

Only 183 head of the week's receipts were taken for export and most of these were in one consignment from Alberta the latter part of the week. Eighteen head that had been held over sent forward Monday of this week. The shipments of exporters have been very low this spring but the quality has been exceptionally high and good prices have been realized. However, a higger and better run of high class butcher stock has more than made up for the small runs of exporters. runs of exporters runs of exporters.

The demand for good stockers and feeders continues strong both from the East and the West but the supply is limited, most farmers seeming to prefer feeding their own stuff. 153 head of stockers received from local Manitoba points were shipped West but none went East. The holding of these animals on Western farms should mean a large run of well finished cattle neat spring.

Calves are coming more freely and are selling high, some having caught $6.00 per cwt. during the past week. Most of the calves sold above $5.50.

Hogs

Hogs

Hog receipts showed a slight increase over the previous week, 1791 head arriving against 1635, a gain of 156 head. Paices held strong and nearly all sold well above the $10.50 mark, the bulk of the run catching $10.75 per cwt., some few well graded snipments caught $11.00, and a great many $10.85. Prices quoted for choice porkers are $10.50 to $10.75 per cwt., but the price is strong at these quotations and the best of the shipments well higher. A large number of light pigs were docked twenty-five cents per cwt. There are too many of these coming and farmers are throwing away money when shipping them. They lose in both price and weight. Nothing under 175 pounds should be shipped. There is a decrease in the number of sows arriving but there are still too many coming. Think of what these will produce and hold them back to raise litters for future shipments. They are the best money makers on the farm.

Country Produce

Butter

Dairy butter prices have shown no change during the past week and wholesalers are still offering twenty cents per pound for the real Number 1 article. The market, in spite of larger receipts, is strong at the prevailing quotations. There are at prewnt no stocks of dairy accumulated at Winnipeg. The local demand is strong and there is a good inquiry from outside points. During the past week two carloads were shipped to New York. These consisted of both No. 1 and No. 2, straight runs and culls out, and hetted the producers on an average of 18½ cents per pound. 18½ cents per pound.

The full grass diet of the stock has made

The full grass diet of the stock has made an improvement in the quality of the butter in most cases, but there is a lot of poor stuff arriving. The chief faults are, poor care of the cream, poor methods in the churning, keeping in places that impart bad taste and lastly and probably the worst of all a lack of care in shipping. During the winter it is alright to ship dairy butter in bricks but during the warm meather take are much more desirable. During the winter it is airight to sup-dairy butter in bricks but during the warm weather tubs are much more desirable. There, is also much less danger of butter packed in tubs becoming contaminated than that packed in boxes. But if for-any reason the producer finds it desirable to pack the butter in bricks and ship in boxes great care should be taken in the selection of the boxes. No box that has contained anything that will impart a bad flavor to the contents should be used. Producers seem to exercise , but little thought in this respect. One wholesale house not long ago received a shipment packed in a match case. It is easy to imagine what that butter tasted like after it reached the city. Most of it was sold for soap grease at three cents per pound, was sold for soap grease at three cents per pound,

One dealer points out the great amount of money Manitoba farmers are losing through lack of care. Last year about five million pounds of dairy butter was received in Winnipeg. The average price to the producers for this was five cents under the price given for creamery butter. Dairy butter that has been produced under proper conditions will sell to within a cent of creamery. Thus the farmers lost about four cents per pound last year or a total of $200,000.

Dealers state that there may be some small reduction in prices but there is no danger of any great slump. Prices quoted are:

No. I dairy 19c. to 20c.

No. 2 dairy 19c. to 17c.

Eggs

Stocks of eggs are beginning to pile up, and reives have emerienced as dight

Stocks of eggs are beginning to pile up, and prices have experienced a slight reduction, dealers now offering 18½ cents per dozen, f.o.b. Winnipeg, subject to show shrinkage and those that do bring lower prices. This shrinkage can be greatly reduced by making frequent shipments. Eggs, during the warm weather, should be shipped twice a week if possible and in no case should they be held-over a week. Dealers state that unless an outside demand springs up there will probably be some further reduction in price.

Cheese

There has been but little change in cheese prices. Better stuff is now coming as the cattle get the benefit of good pasturage. One dealer stated that some o as the cattle get of the dealer stated that some of the older factories are turning out a product equal to that of the best Ontario. Others are not doing so well and some of their product only catches five cents per pound. Small cheese are docked about two cents per pound. Dealers are quoting 10½ to 10¾ for the factory product and about a cent lower to farmers.

The state of the potato market is as bad as ever and only the best kept tubers are in demand. These will bring 25 to 30 cents per bushel. Well kept carrots and turnips are in good deman
