VOL. XXVII

REMEMBER, I remember The house where I wasborn, The little window where the sur Came peeping in at morn; He never came a wink too soon, Nor brought too long a day, But now. I often wish the night Had borne my breath away I remember, I remember, The roses, red and white, The villets, and the lily-cups Those flowers made of light! The lilacs where the robin built, And where my brother set The laburnum on his bitrhday,-

> The tree is living yet ! I remember, I remember

That is so heavy now,

The fever on my brow! I remember, I remember The fir trees dark and high ;

Where I was used to swing, And thought the air must rush, as free

To swallows on the wing ; My spirit flew in feathers then

And summer pools could hardly cool

lused to think their slender tops

To know I'm farther off from heav'r

MY UNCLE

Were close against the sky:

It was a childish ignorance,

But now 'tis little joy

That when I was a boy.
