VARICOCELE

The majority of men have varicocele in the first, second or third stage. In the early stages it may cause many symptoms which the patient may not recognize as arising from this disease. In fact, we have found on examination, varicocele present in hundreds of cases where the patient did not know he had it at all. In time it will produce such symptoms as the following: Nervousness, weakness in the back, unsteady limbs, tired and exhausted feeling, pains in the loins, irritation of the bladder and kidneys, sediment and loss in urine, emission at night with few dreams, sexual weakness and decline of many powers—these symptoms gradually develop into NERVOUS DEBILITY and IMPOTENCY. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT WILL POSITIVELY CURE YOU AND IT IS GUARANTEED TO CURE YOU WITHOUT OPERATION. Through its vitalizing influence the worn veins return to their normal caliber, the circulation of blood improves so the organs are properly nourished, and are restored to strength and vigor; the nerves become strong, ambitious and energetic; copious lactation and dependancy, all drains cease, the eyes become bright, the brain active, and you feel as a man ought to feel in perfect sexual and mental condition.

We Guarantee to Cure or No Pay.

All cases we accept for treatment are taken under a positive guarantee that they are curable or no pay. We refer you to several banks as to our financial responsibility, so you may know we are good for any contracts we make.

Reader. Are you a victim? Have you lost hope? Are you contemplating marriage? Has your blood been diseased? Have you any weakness? Our New Method Treatment will cure you. What it has done for others it will do for you. CONSULTATION FREE. No matter who has treated you, write for an honest opinion Free of Charge. Charges reasonable. BOOKS FREE. Why You Should Breed Belgian Hares

First—Because the continued high price of all meats, such as beef, pork, mutton, poultry etc., causes enterprising people to look for a substitute which could be raised cheaper.

Secondly—The fur bearing animals becoming more and more extinct, demands the substitution of an animal that can be reared in domestication.

The Belgian hare meets these two demands to a nicety, as the meat, which can be produced at a cost of 3 cents per pound, is shown by Dr. Heath, of New York City, to contain 85 per cent nutriment against 53 per cent of chicken, 55 per cent of beef, 65 per cent of mutton, or 75 per cent of pork, and while growing this amount of choice meat the hare is putting on a fine coat of fur which is used for gloves, trimmings, linings and wraps.

The large furriers of to day are plucking and dyeing the hides, making a very choice quality of Electric Seal. The meat is also put up in the United States as boneless turkey.

Mr. Albert Breese, of Fernbank Farm, Brockville, possesses a fine Belgian rabbitry, and receiving many enquiries respecting his hares, he has kindly furnished the Reporter with the following information respecting them:

Origin—It is a fact hard to realize how few people in Canada have ever heard of the Belgian hare. The first question asked by visitors on entering the rabbitry is "What are they?" "Where did you get them?" Now the Belgian hare, from the name, originated in Belgium, but the original hare has been crossed with the English wild hare until we have to-day an ideal specimen of great beauty and a very delicate quality of meat. The American fanciers were not slow to appreciate the high points of this hare, and by importing the very best English prize-winners at enormous prices have placed before the American public a very high standard hare.

Housing—One of the reasons why the Belgian hare is gaining such popularity is the small space in which it can be successfully reared. Any yard or building, no matter how small, is sufficient to raise quite a number.

Feeding—What you feed is perhaps of less importance than how you feed. A doe with litter or youngsters until 3 months of age should have feed before them at all times, with these two exceptions: never feed more than will be eaten in one hour. Feed clean bright oats or wheat in the morning, a small piece of carrot, parsnip or the like at noon, oats or wheat and clover hay at night, clear water at all times, and a piece of rock salt placed in one corner. An excellent food for a nursing doe is bread and milk or a mash of bran and milk or water. If accurate in feeding, twice a day is sufficient.

Mating and Breeding.—This is one of the most important items in the raising of any stock, proper mating. Pedigree is almost of as much importance as individual quality. A good specimen backed by ancestors of known quality never proves a disappointment but can be depended upon to reproduce itself or if properly mated to produce young better than itself. Whether breeding for market or the exhibition room have a type in mind and make every mating with a view of securing it.

In selecting breeding stock to commence with, whether it be for meat stock or show specimens, the greatest care should be used, for from the first lot depend all future success or failure as the case may be. Get some good, healthy specimens from some dealer. Bear in mind that a few dollars extra for pedigreed stock is money well expended as the feeding costs no more, and your stock is graded 100 per cent better as you will be selling prize-winners and the highest grade stock.

Mr. Breese has now on hand about 350 Belgians, all pedigreed, and has decided to reduce his stock by sales to be held at Brockville about March 12, and at Smith's Falls two weeks later.

When here on Saturday, Mr. Breese had with him a Belgian skin that had been plucked and dyed, and both in lustre and compactness of fur it closely resembled Electric Seal. He is having a coat lined with this fur, and when completed we expect that the people of this district will be given an opportunity of examining it.

INTERCESSIONAL

The Japs are going to fight the bear—
God shield the right;
I guess they mean to pull his hair—
The bear will bite.
Many brave men will die in vain—
An awful sight;
Many good maids will suffer pain—
Cry ev'ry night.
What is't to gain? Men will be slain,
Wives lives to blight.
Poor men will doubtless starve, but then,
Such loss is slight
Compared with what there is to gain
By right or might.
Some land and subjects p'raps contain
A lot of spite.
God give to each country her share,
And give her sight.
Let brave men fear, through bloody war,
Thy Hand of Might.

How It Spreads

The first package of Hem Roid (the intallible Pile cure) that was put out went to a small town in the State of Nebraska.

It made the cure of a case of Piles that was considered hopeless. The news spread and although this was only two years ago the demand prompted Dr. J. S. Leonard of Lincoln, Neb., the discoverer, to prepare it for general use. Now it is being sent to all parts of the world.

It will cure any case of Piles. There is a month's treatment in each box.

Sold for $1.00, with absolute guarantee with it.

It is for sale by druggists.

PRESBYTERIANS PROGRESSING

At the meeting of Brockville Presbytery at Kemptville last week, in his report on augmentation, Rev. D. Strachan said:

There have been five augmented fields in the Presbytery the past year—Dunbar and Colquhoun, Merrickville and Jasper, Athens and Toledo, East Oxford and Bishop's Mills and Chester. These fields all received grants from the central fund to make the stipend of each minister up to $750 and a manse. The whole amount received last year was $790. The amount the fund received from the whole Presbytery last year was $790. A change in the figures came this year, however. Only $750 is asked for, while the Presbytery will probably give as much as last year. Dunbar and Colquhoun ask nothing this year and becomes self-supporting. Chester-ville asks $25 less, and Merrickville and Jasper ask for $25 less, a saving of $160, or as the convenor put it, a gift to the central fund of $5,000 at 3 per cent. All these fields have done splendid work the past year and gave for the general missions of the church about $600.

Catarrh

Called an American disease, is cured by an American medicine, originated and prepared in the most catarrhal of American countries.

That medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures radically and permanently, in that it removes the cause, cleansing the blood of scrofulous and all other impurities. It overcomes all the effects of catarrh too, and builds up the whole system.
