EXAMINATION RESULTS

The Athens High School Again Makes a Very Creditable Showing—A Harvest of Honors

The results of the midsummer examinations, as they appear below, were handed to the Reporter by Principal Massey yesterday. In view of the raised standard for Junior Teachers, the results are very satisfactory. Last year the percentage required to pass was 34 on each paper and 50 on the whole; this year, it was 40 on each and 60 on the whole. This increase will account for many failures throughout the province. The fact that seven honors were won here is highly creditable to both the students and their teachers.

The uninterrupted prosperity that has attended the great educational work done in the Athens high school has given it a prestige that is recognized far and near, and the attendance is composed of pupils from all parts of the county.

Board of rooms for students in Athens is very reasonable, and the tuition fees are comparatively low. In the high school district tuition is free, county pupils are charged $5 and non-resident pupils $10. Any particulars may be learned on application to the Principal or to H. H. Arnold, Secretary of the board.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

In a letter to Mr. G. W. Beach, Secretary of the Athens Public Library, Mr. Colquhoun, Deputy Minister of Education, calls attention to the following report of the inspector:—
"I find that the library has been closed for some months. The books are stored at the Post Office in charge of the former librarian. A member of the library informed me that a room intended for the library had been provided and that it was the intention to remove the library to that building, but want of funds had prevented any action being taken. The attention of the library board is called to the policy of this Department relative to libraries which are not engaged in active work, viz.—to remove the library after a reasonable time has been given the local authorities. I trust that it will not be found necessary to resort to such measures in the case of the Athens Library."

This is a report that calls for prompt action. While the government will be loath to remove this valuable library from the village, we are assured this will undoubtedly be done if the present conditions are allowed to continue.

A few years ago, the feeling in favor of reviving and strengthening the library was quite general throughout the village and the efforts of the library board were backed with money grants. In the reorganization scheme then adopted, a public reading room was associated with the library. This room was small, poorly ventilated, uninviting, and after a few weeks was given up each evening almost entirely to more or less noisy children. The reading room never met the expectations of the board in respect to the measure of
