Austrian Parliamentary Report on Emigration.

Vienna, Nov. 3.-The Parliament subommitter on emigration adopted resolutions to-day tending to make Austria in-tions to-day tending to make Austria independent of the North Atlantic steamship pool, dissolying pools for the monopolization of the traffic, and ascribing the increase in emigration to economic causes. The report goes to the Reichsrath to-morrow.

It is generally regarded that the renort excherates the C.P.R., which was subject to much adverse comment on the charge that it was inducing Austrians to leave the country to avoid military service. The general feling that the company was made the scapegoat for the delinquencies of the other steamship companies was voiced in the Reichrath and in the semi-official newspaper Fredenblatt. It, is expected that Manager Foreigners in Mexico Nervous as to Outcome.

TO PROTECT FRENCH

Navy Secretary's Instructions to Admiral Cowles.

Mexico City, Nov. 3,-With the election of General Victoriano Huerto and General Aureliano Blanquet almost foregone conclusion, according to he official returns, the question as to what Washington proposes to do is keeping the foreign residents and the majority of Mexicans in a state of suspension. On the surface at least the Administration is giving little consideration to the sallect, seeming v taring the ground that the Mexican people have declared in favor of Huerta's coninuance in the Presidency.

Although it is openly charged in many quarters that it was official pressure that resulted in the relling up of the majorities for Huerta and Blanquet which are now being officially reported from all parts where the election forms were observed, the fact remains, : no it is pointed out that there is no possibility of going back to the returns, as there is no thought that any other candidate polled nearly enough votes to place the Huerta-Blanquet ticket in jeopardy.

In view of Washington's previous representations on the subject, the next may of the American Government is awaited here with no little ment is awaited here with no little misgiving. Many Americans have already packed their portable belongings preparatory to flight, and are facing the necessity of leaving their household effects to fate. They express little hope of finding anything left upon their possible return. The inadequate storage facilities are already overtaxed, and most of those who contemplate flight expect to leave their homes in charge of Mexican carotakers as the only alternative.

TWO GIRLS' FATES SPANISH ELECTIONS

Sheltered Home Bird Fell Through Ignorance.

Other, More Knowing, Has Chance in Life.

Montreal despatch: They were a strange contrast, Came first the girl from the good home, the girl with leisure, with her allowance of spending money, with good clothes and a fair education for her age. There followed the child whose home has been a house of ill-fame, whose mother was the keeper of it, the girl whose clothes were very poor, and who was so glad to get five cents to put aside toward the new dress she was to have some day.

The first girl went for a joy-ride and spent the night in a garage. The second, living in an atmosphere of immorality and degradation, came through clean.

Contrasts such as these, which seen to hit the traditions of the influence of environment and heredity a smashing blow, cause the social workers of the Juvenile Court to wonder sometimes pause, and ask, "why."

The first little girl, every feature re fined, her pouting tips pale, her dimple I face white, stood trembling before the desk of Judge Choquet, Her manner of standing straight, yet graceful, showed the convent training. Her brother, a member of the local police force, who had laid the complaint, stood beside her.

AUTOMOBILE TEMPTATION, She began her story in a hesitating way. First she told how she she began her story in a hestering way. First, she told how she and a girl friend had been walking along St. Denis street one night. An automobile drow slowly up beside the curb. The voice of the chauffeur, low and persuasive, invited them to jump in. At first they did not heed him, He kept the machine slowly along-side. They laughed slightly at the adventure. He persisted, and his friend also coaxed, Finally they did get in. A moment later they were being whirled upthe street. Their laughter floated back down the empty stretch of road.

But in the morning as they stele from the garage they did not laugh.

Judge Choquet asked them for all the particulars. She knew the men only as Jack and Bill, but she could tell where the greache is There will

The etner girl wore a faded "bath" towel" hat, a torn grey sweater coat, a cacap waite dies. She had no patent leather pumps on her feet. An officer from the Recorder's Court brought over word of the sentence on her father, her mother and her grandmother. The father, being unable to pay the fifty dollar fine, went to jail for six the fifty doilar fine, went to jail for months for selling liquor without a li-cense. The mother was fined a like am-ount for scepling a disorderly hope. The grandmother was given to the police ma-tron, who will see that she is provided
