EXPENSIVE BOOK KEEPERS.

The Marine and Fisheries Department of the Dominion Administration is struggling with its book keeping. It has a good many high priced book keepers and clerks but they seem to have got things into a bad jumble. About a year ago the Minister engaged Mr. Kenneth Falconer, a professional accountant, to supervise the work of putting the books in shape. He was paid $40 a day for his services, and by April of this year had received $3,071 though he had not nearly finished his work. The Department sent to New York for two other experts, paying each of them $75 a day. Still more expert work was required and Mr. W. F. Russell was paid $50 a day for 40 3-4 days, G. E. Fawcett $50 a day for eight days, two other gentlemen $30 a day each for 70 days work, still two others at $25 a day, one at $20 a day, and ten at the rate of $15 a day each. The total bills incurred in this book keeping school down to April of this year was $23,000, and the Minister at that time stated that the whole work would cost $30,000 to $35,000. The Marine Department is one out of a large number, and the Government was not able to explain last session whether the others were in any better shape.

The real trouble with the Marine Department has not been so much in keeping the books straight as in keeping straight the transactions of the Department. It was not bad book-keeping that loaded down the Arctic with her grotesque Hudson Bay outfit, and supplied the Montcalm ice-breaker with thousands of dollars' worth of table silver and cut glass. The book-keepers knew better than to pay the American middleman Merwin two or three times the right price for steam engines, pumps and other machinery made in Canada. It is not ignorance or stupidity that has made the Marine Department the hunting ground for plunderers of all sorts, and has swelled the expenditure in ten years from a little over one million to about five million dollars. The departmental books may be made right, but something more than expert accountants is required to keep out the grafters.

LITTLE POCKET PHYSICIAN

Hyomel is Guaranteed by C. H. Gunn & Co. To Cure Catarrh.

Thousands who have been cured by Hy-o-mel call the inhaler that comes with every outfit the "Little Pocket Physician," as it is so small that it can be carried in the pocket or purse.

There is really no excuse whatever for anyone having catarrh now, that Hy-o-mel is so readily obtainable. If you have any doubt about its value, C. H. Gunn & Co. will let you have a complete outfit, with the understanding that unless it cures catarrh, it will not cost you a cent. Do not delay longer the use of Hy-o-mel, if you suffer with catarrh. This is a purely local disease, and Hy-o-mel goes right to the spot where the catarrh germs are present, destroys them, soothes and heals all inflammation and makes a permanent and lasting cure.

The complete Hy-o-mel outfit consists of the "Little Pocket Physician" and a bottle of Hy-o-mel, and costs only $1.00, making it the most economical as well as the only guaranteed treatment for the cure of catarrh. Remember that Hy-o-mel cures catarrh without stomach dosing, applying the medication and healing where the disease germs are present.

WORSE THAN THAT.

Worse—she has evidently got talcum powder instead of baking powder in those biscuits.

JOHN MCCLARY A GREAT CAPTAIN OF INDUSTRY

To very few men is the privilege given of witnessing such a celebration as that of which Mr. John McClary, of London, was the centre during the week that ended on July 13. For during that week a series of splendid jubilees marked what was the sixtieth anniversary of the McClary Manufacturing Company. To only a few men is it given to see their business grow to such immense dimensions as that achieved by Mr. McClary, but fewer still are granted the happiness of enjoying, with undimmed keenness of intellect, the celebration of its sixtieth birthday.

This was Mr. McClary's pleasant experience, and in his enjoyment of it he has had the felicitations of his great army of employees and of friends from ocean to ocean.

This sixtieth anniversary is noteworthy, not only because it relates to the largest concern of its kind under the British flag, but because it has thrust before the attention of the people of Canada a man whose achievements make him one of the very greatest captains of industry this country has yet produced. John McClary is a Napoleon, but unlike the destructive leader of France whose career brought but desolation, he is a Napoleon of the arts of peace, who has made homes grow and brought prosperity and comfort to thousands of people.

To John McClary the past sixty years has meant a change from the control of a small tinshop to the possession of the largest establishment of its kind in Canada. The company's plant in London now covers two enormous blocks of land, while there are also important establishments in Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Vancouver, Hamilton and St. John. Over 1,300 employees are on the company's pay rolls, of whom over seven hundred are married men, supporting homes. More than $800,000 is paid in wages annually. These are a few figures which will give the reader an impression of the size of the plant as it is at present and of its importance to the community.

Mr. McClary has always been, and is still the guiding head of this tremendous business. He remains even at this present age a man of unusual and remarkable ability. A man of great business foresight and sound judgment, he was one of the first to see the approaching development of Western Canada and with it many years of prosperity for all Canada. He early backed his judgment in this respect by planning to meet this development, with the result that now where in Canada is the name McClary better known than in the newly settled sections of the West. He has always been and remains one of the most enterprising business men in Canada; sparing no money or pains to attain an end that his judgment told him could be won.

This is well illustrated in the magnificent advertising campaign this company has entered into in all the Canadian papers, which have made the McClary products known in all the homes from ocean to ocean.

Though the McClary Company is Mr. McClary's first and his success his greatest gratification, it is not the only successful company that shares in the benefit of his business acumen and experience. He is also President of the London Life Insurance Company, and the Ontario Loan and Debenture Company, and a Director of the London & Western Trusts Company.

It is not generally known that Mr. McClary is a descendant of one of the most famous families of the United States—the celebrated Adams family of Massachusetts, his grandmother having been a daughter of John Quincy Adams, the second President of the United States and first cousin of the sixth President, also John Quincy Adams. Another ancestor, General Stark, fought for England against the revolutionists. It will thus be seen that he comes of stock which is used to the accomplishment of big enterprises.

Mr. McClary's general health is so good now that he will undoubtedly enjoy many years more watching the continued development of the business he started sixty years ago.

Mirrors as Detectives. "It is not so easy to please the ladies," said an interior decorator. "That mirrors so abound in shops. They serve another and more important purpose. They help detect shoplifters. If you should study the various reflections in the mirror, you would find that they don't watch their reflections in the mirror. Of course their watching done that way is unperceived. The shoplifter glances at the watches, sees that his back is to her, seizes a pair of silk stockings in her stock, and the next moment she is an unfriendly and terrifying tap on her shoulder, and the watchman, who has caught her by the mirror's aid, bids her stately to accompany him to the office."

SELECT YOUR MEDICINE WITH CARE.

Lo debility and weakness medicine should be mild and far reaching. Many pills and purgatives are too harsh, are drastic instead of curative. Excessive action is always followed by depression, and knowing this, Dr. Hamilton devised his pills of Mandrake and Butterbur so as to mildly increase liver and kidney activity, flush out the elementary canal, tone and regulate the bowels. Thus do Dr. Hamilton's Pills eliminate poisons from the body, restore clearness to the skin, bring strength and that sweet restorer of health, sleep. Best medicine on earth, 25c. per box at all dealers.

MR. COLLINS MAKES GOOD

The following clipping is taken from the Vermillion Signal, Alta., and refers to the clever work of John Collins, formerly of the Chatham gas offices. He has been out in that country for the past four months and is meeting with decided success. He was very popular in musical circles while here, and his many friends will be glad to hear of his good work.

"The citizens' band discouraged sweet music in the park on Tuesday night. The organization has been strengthened by the addition of a new clarinet player and a new drummer. It is really remarkable the progress made since the instruments were put into the hands of the players, most of whom had never held one before a few weeks ago. Vermillion now has a band of which any town in the country might be proud. Great credit is due the talented young bandmaster, Mr. Collins, for his painstaking, hard work in instructing the players. He has spared no effort, and every available evening has been given to practice."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

LETTERS

MR. JONES EXPLAINS.

To the Editor of The Planet:

Dear Sir,—Would you kindly insert the following in your reports of last Monday's Council meeting. It was stated that the reason the plans for the electric station were not here was due to the procrastination of the Engineer, which I deny. I received a letter from Mr. Read asking certain information on August 12. I answered it on the 14th, giving Mr. Read the desired information. On the 21st Ald. Potter received a letter from Mr. Read stating that I had not sent the desired information, giving this as a reason the plans were not finished. The above are the facts, and I do not like being blamed when I performed my duty faithfully.

CLARIFIED AND BOTTLED MILK

To clarify and bottle milk is the only sanitary and up-to-date way to handle such an important product of the dairy as milk, for while it is one of the best, and most necessary foods we have it properly cared for, it is certainly one of the most dangerous if neglected or carelessly handled, and should never be exposed to street dust, as is done in the ordinary way of peddling milk from large cans with open measures.

The Steam Turbine Machine used to clarify all the milk sold from the

will certainly take all the impurities out of the milk, thereby removing the danger of many cases of sickness, especially among children, that can be traced directly to the milk supply. Don't take such chances this hot dry weather when you can get

Where the Flowers Came From.

"There was a teacher, teaching in a very poor neighborhood," said a New York settlement worker, "who received daily gifts of flowers from one of her pupils, a ragged little boy. The flowers were of all sorts, sometimes costly, sometimes simple, all fashioned garden flowers. As a rule they were somewhat faded. One day the boy brought the teacher a great bouquet of mauve orchids. To be sure, they were much wilted, but when she saw them she knew that they had come from a great deal of money. The ragged teacher, as she took them said: 'Timmy, where do you get all these flowers that you give me? You don't steal them, I hope.'"

"Oh, no, ma'am," the youngster answered, "father's an ash man."

Patti and the Wasp.

One of Charles Sandley's most amusing experiences occurred at Brockton when he assisted Mme. Patti in giving a concert in aid of the local hospital.

The prima donna appeared with Mr. Sandley in a duet. The vocalist had just recommended singing "wien, wien, wien" burst out laughing and left the platform. His companion almost immediately followed, although she attempted to continue. In response to loud cheers Mme. Patti returned and said, "The cause of all this merriment is that a wasp has been trying to get into my mouth, and we could not get on."—London Tit-Bits.
