

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., JULY 6, 1894.

The Acadia Dairy Co.

The Acadia Dairy Co.'s Creamery and Cheese Factory may now be considered as an established institution of the place. Two weeks of successful operation fully demonstrates the fact. The building and equipment is first-class in every respect. A gentleman of long experience in this country and the United States, who was in Wolfville a few days ago, pronounced it the best institution of the kind he has ever visited. Already quite a large amount of cheese and butter has been made, the latter being made first on Tuesday of this week. Both are of an excellent quality. President Starr has received notice from the secretary for agriculture that the Acadia Dairy has fulfilled the necessary requirements and is entitled to the subsidy offered by Government. The manager, Mr. Logan, appears to be the right man in the right place, and the company may congratulate themselves on securing his services. All that is now needed is plenty of milk, and the quantity will no doubt increase greatly as the farmers have a chance to add to their stock of cows. The amount of milk now received daily is from two to three tons. There appears to be no trouble in disposing of the butter and cheese as the company has already, we understand, been asked to supply an order 250 pounds of butter per week.

Mr. McKittick Wins the Scholarship.

Some years ago the commissioners of the London exhibition of 1851, out of a balance of funds in their hands, appropriated certain sums as scholarships, to be known as the Exhibition Science Scholarship, and to be competed for by graduates of specified universities in the United Kingdom and elsewhere. Nomination to one of these scholarships was placed at the disposal of Dalhousie university for 1890, and the senate of the university selected as a competitor Mr. F. J. A. McKittick, B. Sc., a graduate of Dalhousie, and a native of Kings County. Yesterday President Forrest, of Dalhousie, received a letter informing him that Mr. McKittick had won the scholarship. Mr. McKittick's success reflects credit not only upon himself but also upon his alma mater, and will be a source of pride to all friends of Dalhousie. The scholarship is valued at £150 sterling annually, is tenable for two years, and open to women as well as to men. Halifax Chronicle.

Make a Note of It.

The Advertiser.—"Merchants who don't advertise in their home papers, but buy a rubber stamp and stick on their stationery and wrapping paper, may save a few nickels a year by doing so, but what an impression of the town does it give out! What about the merchants who send out of town for their work, but who, perchance they can get it a shade cheaper, or who order bill heads, letter heads, envelopes, etc., from some commercial traveler who carries them as a "side line"? Perhaps printers can buy a suit of clothes that way too, but yet our merchants expect us to trade with them. Advertising with a "rubber stamp" is like advertising patent medicines on a board fence or a big rock—it reads, but it fears "shoddy," and the enterprising, bustling firms depend on the undoubted merit of "printers ink" judiciously used. Pictou Standard.

The I. O. G. T. Concert.

The I. O. G. T. Musical Tournament to be held in Kentville on Friday evening, the 13th inst., promises to be of unusual interest to all lovers of high class music. Mrs. Lear is spoken of in the highest terms possible by the leading papers in Halifax, St. John, Montreal, and other Canadian cities. One of the many notices which has appeared in the Halifax Herald reads as follows: "The singing at the concert last evening was appreciated by all, but Mrs. Lear captured the audience by her splendid work. Mrs. Lear is truly an artist Halifax may well be proud of, and to hear her is a joy forever."

The following is a clipping from the Boston Globe: "Mrs. Percy Lear then appeared and instantly created a most favorable impression, which was confirmed as soon as she began to sing. Her selection was E. H. Bailey's latest waltz song, 'Fleeting Days,' and its magnificent rendition gained Mrs. Lear thunders of applause, which was responded to with 'Glorious Dreams' which was also redemanded. Mrs. Lear is certainly becoming a great favorite with Boston music lovers, and justly so." This concert was in Music Hall, Boston, with 2000 people present.

The Evening Journal, Ottawa, Ont., May 13th, 1894, speaks of Mrs. Lear who sang at the Concert Opera House under the patronage of the Governor General, as follows: "Mrs. Lear of Boston, sang superbly, 'Voices of the Woods,' by Rubenstein, to the fine accompaniment of the entire orchestra. Her voice is a grand one and she knows how to use it. She was recalled twice."

Berwick.

The Yarmouth Orchard Company have now about 70 acres of land in one block, about distance west of the camp grounds. The "hunting" real estate agent, A. A. Ford, Esq., undertook the purchase of this land a little more than a year ago and was successful in securing the several lots which make up the block, at reasonable figures. Mr. Ford cleared and broke up for the company last fall, about 40 acres, the greater part of which was planted last spring, to fruit trees. The balance of the lot is being cleared this summer. Twenty acres adjoining the railroad is well adapted to pasture and will be utilized for that purpose next season. This is a business venture which gives ample evidence of being a safe investment and a good object lesson to induce others to do likewise. There are thousands of acres of first-class fruit land within an area of 3 miles of the station open to settlement, at reasonable prices. This is the watershed of the valley. The people are temperate and progressive, with good schools and churches. And according to present indications, its present population will be more than doubled in the near future. Persons wishing to see the place and its capabilities would do well, after arriving at the station, to take a team from the "Therapdyke" or "Central," and drive south to Sam Chute's plantation, then to the Banks—the old orchard of the late Sidney Shaw—thence north to H. Shaw's, W. A. Benjamin's, T. J. Shaw's and the Messrs. William Shaw's, thence to the Fisher's, Parker's, Bent's, Thomas', Rind's, Palmer's, Spicer's, Hildesley's, Bishop's, and Chute's, thence on to Weston to the Cox's, Power's, Sanford's, Skinner's, Woodworth's, Bent's, Selfridge's and West's estates, and the Weston nursery. Then return by the Carribou Bog road and take in the village and the Maple-Wood orchards and small fruit farms. Then to see the whole valley in panoramic view, drive to the top of the North and South mountains where also can be seen the basins of Annapolis and Minas, and Cape Blomidon, and intervening country and villages.

Rev. J. H. Fosdyke, of Yarmouth, is coming, with his family, to Berwick for a three weeks vacation, in August.

Local vs. City Trade.

Many merchants in towns and villages, feel very much chagrined and disappointed when they see their fellow townsmen venturing daily to "the city" for dry goods, books, etc., instead of patronizing the men who are the mainstay of the town. It is exceedingly lamentable to see a conscientious, upright merchant in a small town doing his best to give the people in his vicinity a chance to inspect a full range of the season's novelties, and then when they have fully inspected his stock, get a general idea of what they ought to buy, they send for samples from "the city," and finally order from there. We do not proclaim that "to the local visitor belongs the spoils," but we do maintain that the people of a town are following their own best interests when they patronize their home trade. Every store in a town pays a certain amount of rent, taxes, gas bills, etc., and the wages of employer and employee will amount to a snug sum every year. Another store occupied increases the price of real estate. Another store and one or two houses occupied mean few taxes on other property. Another store occupied and competing for trade means an increased number of visitors, rural and civic, and an increased circulation of money in this and a dozen different ways. The merchants of a town are its backbone. Take them out of any town and in three months it will be as dead as the proverbial "door nail." They are the sap of the town, and give it activity and life. One live merchant is worth ninety-nine retired farmers. Merchants talk up the town; they draw manufacturers into it; they draw residents; they invest money in it; they help it in a thousand ways. —From the May Dry Goods Review, (Toronto and Montreal).

Hantsport Items.

Hantsport, in common with other places in the valley, is enjoying a very pleasant summer. The town is looking very pretty just now with its many beautiful ornamental trees, which afford many a cool and cozy retreat for the comfortable hammock.

The Rev. Mr. Draper, from Lunenburg, Cape Breton, occupied the pulpit of St. Andrews Episcopal church last Sunday, morning and evening. His addresses were much appreciated. He is visiting his father here for a few days.

Monday being kept as Dominion day with many attractions at Windsor, Hantsport became quite deserted. There was also a picnic to White Rock, the party driving up through the Gaspeuse valley and returning through Wolfville.

On Wednesday morning excitement ran high, especially among the ladies, who, as the hour of nine drew near, assembled in scores to the Methodist church to witness one of those pleasing and attractive ceremonies which are so necessary to the prosperity of a country. It was the occasion of the marriage of Mr. Charles Eldarkin, of Wolfville, to Miss Clara Parker, of Hantsport. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, and needless to say, the bride looked charming. The happy couple left in the morning express for Cumberland via Kingsport, amidst the usual showers of rice and good wishes.

Mr. J. B. North's new vessel, the only one building here this summer, is progressing favorably and will be ready for launching sometime in September. Several other vessels are laid up here undergoing repairs.

We have a full stock of Bicycles on hand now and a bicycle track on the top floor of our new warehouse for intending buyers to try them.

Mr. Peter Lingley, Concessionary, Peterborough, Ontario, N. B., says:

"Oct. 11, 1892.—Last winter I had a very severe attack of the grip, which left me very feeble and reduced to zero. I had no appetite, and was so nervous I could not sleep. I was under a doctor's treatment for months, but received no benefit. My friends thought I had consumption and I got to hear that they were expecting my death at any day. At last I read of Hawker's Nerve and Stomach Tonic, and I decided to try it."

"I have My Life to its Virtues."
