Cause of Early Old Age

The celebrated Dr. Binkshoff, an authority on early old age, says that it is "caused by poison generated in the intestines."

When your stomach digests food properly it is absorbed without forming poisonous matter. Poisons being on early old age and premature death. 16 to 30 drops of "Steg's Syrup" after meals makes your digestion sound.

The Uses of Adversity.

A difficult and taxing job that must be done, a long and arduous way over which one must travel, responsibilities that try an individual and weary almost beyond endurance.

These are not all to be set down as afflictions to be escaped from and avoided in all legitimate ways. Through all the centuries of human history there has not been found any way of avoiding strong, brave, patriotic men and women save by their doing hard jobs and going long, rough journeys, and carrying responsible heavy loads.

For You and Me.

(By Wall M. son)

You and me the brave boys go to see a grim and deadly foe, to meet in darkness, cold and snow for good-byes, to suffer under tight grips, for you and me. They leave the world and peaceful grins: they go to the country's need to stand, and see their sleeping girls behind, for me and me. We are too old, too fat to climb the warlike Prussians, and so our boys must go to the front.

Proving the Value of Summer Pasture.

WHAT EXPERIMENT OF THE COMMISSION OF CONSERVATION SHOWS

A small field of summer pasture sown on the farm is very valuable in many ways. If the ordinary pastures are short and dried up during July and August, the piece sown for summer pasture will ride the stock over the dry pasture period. If the ordinary pasture is good, then the summer mixture can be cut for hay or allowed to ripen as a crop. It is an excellent crop with which to seed down, especially when pastured so early and may be sown after the regular spring seeding is completed.

What Thumbs are Worth.

Russia.

One has only to grasp a pen or a tool of some sort to realize that the different fingers are far from having the same value in regard to their usefulness in performing work. The most important is a thumb, for without it seizing or holding would be very imperfect. The hand is no longer a mere claw, but merely a claw, when deprived of the thumb. It may be estimated that the thumb represents fully a third of the total value of the hand. The total loss of the thumb is estimated by competent authorities as 15 to 25 per cent for the right and 10 to 15 per cent for the left hand, except for workers in art, when 40 to 50 per cent for the right and 45 to 50 per cent for the left hand comes near the value.

Running and Breathing.

It is hard to breathe after running, because your body requires more blood in circulation. The efforts of your heart, brain and lungs make breathing difficult. Your breath to take air into the lungs, where the blood which has once been through the arteries and comes back on its return trip to the heart, is exposed to the air in the lung before going back into the heart. The air which we take into our lungs purifies the once used blood and makes it into good blood again.

When you run, the heart pumps blood into your arteries faster to enable you to run, we are told by the Book of Wisdom. Thus the arteries send much more blood back to the heart through the veins, and this must be purified by the lungs before being sent back to the heart. To attend to purifying this extra amount of blood, the lungs need more air, and thus you are made to breathe in more air for the purpose.

Unless you are in good training, your wind is in poor condition, as we say—it is almost impossible for you to supply the lungs with enough air for the purpose, but whether you can do it or not the lungs call upon you for more air and cause you to try to get it, and that is what makes you get out of breath.

Sleepless Nights With Eczema.

Mrs. Link, 12 Walker St., Halifax, N. S., states:—After three years of miserable torture and sleepless nights with terrible eczema, and after trying over a dozen remedies without obtaining anything but slight temporary relief, I have been perfectly and entirely cured by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. After the third or fourth application of this grand ointment I obtained relief, a few boxes were sufficient to make a thorough cure.

"Do you know how rare times when it is positively terrifying to enter a church," observed a lady to the Bishop of Lincoln at a dinner party.

"That cannot be madam," returned the bishop; "pray explain."

"Why," said the lady, "it is when there is a canon at the reading desk, a big gun in the pulpit, when the bishop is charging his clergy, the choir murdering the organist and the organist trying to drown the choir."

In Zealand the women fill their mouths with water to keep silent if the theory is all right.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

"I was in a state of nervous breakdown and was unable to get on my feet for several weeks. I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of, but was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my personal opinion to publish this letter."—Miss Kelly, 478 St. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

Specific For Bronchitis.

The turpentine used in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is not the ordinary commercial article, which is little used because of the unpleasantness of its taste, but is peculiarly extracted from balsamic and spruce gum and so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be at the same time pleasant to use and wonderfully effective in the cure of affections of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs.

Lord Milner's Hint.

Lord Milner seldom speaks without saying something worthy of attention. His recent hint that the British Allies have spent too much time discussing peace terms while the war has yet to be won is good practice for the families left behind.

"Why, man, we're just plumb d'raughty 'til it's all," he concluded.

"And, I suppose, the war has caused the price of provisions to go up in Scotland as well as everywhere else?" commented the questioner with sympathy.

"Yes, man, ye're richt," agreed the visitor. "Provisions has gone up in price four shillings a bottle the one sort and sixpence a quart the 'ther."

But somebody has to get licked before there can be peace and our utmost effort must now be given to see that this somebody is the Kaiser.

Shipbuilding in Canada.

Through the Imperial Munitions Board since March 1, 1917, contracts have been let in Canada for 46 wood ships with a total tonnage of 128,000 representing $24,000,000 and for 43 steel ships, totalling 21,300 tons, worth $40,000,000 or a total value of $64,000,000. The value of the contracts are by provinces as follows: Nova Scotia, $1,340,000; New Brunswick, $1,000,000; Quebec, $1,700,000; Ontario, $19,540,000; British Columbia, $3,434,000. Already four steel ships are completed and four wood ships are launched. All the yards in Canada are busy and new yards have been opened at Wexford, Vancouver and Toronto. It is computed that employment is given to 25,000 men. If the steel was produced in this country, 25,000 more men would be employed. The war will have started the shipbuilding industry in Canada.

A special constable in a suburb of London relieved his mate at midnight, and to his astonishment found him in most deplorable condition. Both his eyes were in mourning, his nose was battered, his mouth was swollen, and his clothing showed further testimony of a terrific combat.

"Why, what's the relieving of?" asked the constable in a "grillable state. You're beaten up something terrible, ain't you? What's up?"

"Yes, you know that pretty little girl that lives down at the end of the street outside was killed at Gallipoli?"

"Yes."

"Well, 'e ain't."

"Father and son went for a stroll one evening. As they passed a window of her room the boy turned to his father and said lovingly: 'I wish you'd say me some ice cream, father. I do feel warm.'"

"His father gazed at him a few seconds in mild surprise, and then exclaimed:

"No, no, they, my boy, but I'll tell you what I will do, I will tell you some good stories 'till you make your blood run cold."

Heading to the inevitable is a case of tired politeness.

Everybody Knows

"Ever since I can remember, this has been the most valued book in the bookcase."—Mrs. B. Thompson, Smith Street, Kingston, Ont.

"Mother has had Dr. Chase's Receipt Book for 20 years, and I tell you it is a good one."—Mr. John Miller, 8 Main Street, N. B.

It may be safely said, without fear of contradiction, that there is no more useful book to be found in any home than Dr. Chase's Receipt Book. The proof of this statement rests in the fact that several millions of copies have been sold, and it is sometimes said that the circulation is second only to that of the Bible.

From the time he began the study of medicine it was a hobby of the doctor to collect all recipes and prescriptions of exceptional value. There is so much of the doctor's own experience and history woven into these recipes that you cannot use his book without feeling that you know him personally and appreciate his sterling character.

The Receipt Book was soon widely circulated, and aroused so much favorable opinion towards the doctor that he found the demand for his medicines far greater than he could supply. This led to the latest edition of Dr. Chase's Large Receipt Book, containing over 1,200 pages, will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, $3.75, by Edman, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

But the doctor has protected you by having his portrait and signature printed on every box of his medicines. By taking care to see these on the box you buy you can be certain that you are getting the genuine.

Dr. A. W. Chase's medicines are for sale by all dealers, or sent on receipt of price by Edman, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.
