Bank of Nova Scotia Closes Its Branch At Loggieville.

NEW YEAR'S QUIET.

Miramichi Lumber Company Forbade Its Employees Going Home Christmas.

CHATHAM, Thursday. — The branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Loggieville, which was opened seven months ago, was closed on Monday night. The Loggieville branch had a number of accounts which had previously been held by the branch here, but it is understood that there was little new business offering. The best account at Loggieville is that of A. & R. Loggie and that is held by the Bank of Montreal. It is possible that the Bank of Montreal may open a branch at Loggieville.

There is keen rivalry between the two dime shows here. Yesterday afternoon the Dime Opera had the band play through the streets and up to the doors of the hall and in the evening the Happy Half Hour, not to be outdone, had the band parade and play up to its doors. There were good shows at both places of amusement and both were well patronized.

The Sours, acrobats and contortionists, are making a great hit at the Happy Half Hour. They are high class people and Chatham is fortunate in having them.

The only case at the police court this morning was that of a man who was charged with creating a disturbance in a house and beating his parents. He was fined $20 and costs.

New Years was a quiet day in Chatham. There was splendid sleighing and many teams were out in the afternoon and the Dimes attracted large crowds. The rink had a good share of patronage in the evening.

A week or so before Christmas the Miramichi Lumber Co. posted notices at its camps that any of the lumbermen who went out for Christmas would have to take a 20 per cent. cut in wages if they wished to return.

The custom of coming out for Christmas is general in the lumber country but the operators claim that that once the men go in they stay in for the whole season.

The Miramichi Lumber Co. is the first to tackle the problem and the outcome is watched with interest. It is said that a greater proportion of the Company's men came out than if no notice had been posted, that nearly all the men in fact came out and that they will not go back at the reduced rate. If this is the case it seems as if the company will suffer heavily. But the men will also suffer, for the other operators are said to have all the men they want and if the men do not go back to the Miramichi Lumber Co. they will have to go without work.

Trial Catarrh treatments are being made out free, on request, by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. These tests are proving to the people—without a penny's cost—the great value of this scientific prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by THOS. J. DURICK.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have their same controlling nerve.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much to weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this powerful prescription—is also directed to these weak and ailing nerve centers. It builds up the strength of the heart, gives it more heart help. If you would have strong Heart, strong stomach, strong nerves, strong energy—just take Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

ARRESTED FOR ROBBING HIMSELF.

Boston Merchant Took Money From Firm of Which He Was Partner.

Boston, Wednesday.—Yesterday afternoon the mysterious robbery of $4,000 in cash from the strong box of the Wilson Brothers Company in Scolley square was cleared up, the police claim, when John W. Wilson was arrested by Inspector Patterson and Detective Sergeant Norton, charged with the robbery. He was later released in $5000 bonds, which was furnished by a woman friend.

The arrest is the culmination of a series of interesting events in the course of which Wilson appeared at police headquarters several times to report his loss and to seek the aid of the police. Saturday night it was said in the store that $4000 in cash had been taken from the vault in some mysterious manner.

Sunday morning the arrested Wilson and his brother appeared at police headquarters after 3 o'clock to report his loss. Instead of acquainting the inspectors' office with the theft, he reported the matter to a reporter, thinking that the latter was a police officer.

In due time the matter became public property, and it was not until after a number of reporters had asked regarding the matter that the inspectors' office became acquainted with the fact that a robbery had been committed.

Mr. Wilson had appeared twice at it throws too great a burden on them the office to inquire what the officers were doing on the matter. He was assured that everything possible was being done and that if it lay in the power of the police an arrest would be made in a few hours.

It lay in their power but not as was expected, for Mr. Wilson's was the arrest in the matter. Considerable surprise and indignation was expressed by Mr. Wilson when the officers took him, and one of his first acts was to send for his counsel, Charles S. Hill, who arranged bail.

Neither the police nor Mr. Wilson would talk much regarding the case, but it was learned that the affairs of the concern have not been in the best possible condition for some time past. In fact it is but a short time since Willard D. Lombard, who owns a good deal of stock in the company, attempted to have a receiver appointed.

The courts decided adversely to Mr. Lombard, and as a result, no receiver was appointed. On account of this matter, Mr. Wilson alleges a conspiracy, and is prepared to prove an alibi. Through his counsel he announces that he will show that he has no more to do with the robbery than the man in the moon.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., LIMITED.

GENTLEMEN,—I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT from time to time for the past twenty years. It was recommended to me by a prominent physician of Montreal, who called it the "great Nova Scotia Liniment." It does the doctors' work; it is particularly good in cases of Rheumatism and Spains.

PRINTING FIRM IN TROUBLE.

Liabilities are $8,000; Assets Are Only $2,000.

MONCTON, Thursday.—The McCoy Printing Co. is in difficulties. The liabilities are estimated at over $8,000, and the assets at much less than $2,000. The creditors are in Germany, Great Britain, United States and Canada. A landlord's sale under a distress warrant was called for this afternoon and Constable M. S. Keith was opening the sale when Sheriff McQueen forbade the procedure, he also having seized the property under the absconding debtors' act. Mr. D. I. Welch represented several creditors including one British firm for $2,700. Mr. G. L. Harris represented Mr. E. R. Stiles who claims certain presses and plant under a lien held by the Printing Supplies Agencies who claim property in the plant. Mr. Stiles has also purchased with his own money the post card store and is running the job printing business as well. Constable Keith under the circumstances indefinitely postponed the sale as nobody cared to bid after the sheriff's protest. In the meantime Mr. Stiles is carrying on the business with the plant held under the lien.

Alex Green Found Guilty of Holding Up Night Operator.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Thursday.—Alex Green, colored, was found guilty before Judge Pinkie today of having been concerned in the holding up and robbing of Harry Malcott, night operator at the C. P. R. station here on Oct. 9 last. He was sentenced to five years in Kingston penitentiary.

THREE WEEKS IN LONE ISLAND

Prussian Seaman Wrecked on a Rock Far South of Cape Horn.

A PHYSICAL WRECK.

Went Through an Experience Far Worse Than That of Robinson Crusoe.

BOSTON, Thursday.—On a barren islet far to the south of Cape Horn, where the waters are raked and carded by icy gales from the white vaults of the Antarctic, Herman Harke, tossed up there on the rocky shore with wreckage from the 1200-ton American bark Prussia, went through an experience, as the modern Robinson Crusoe so harrowing that those who heard his story from his own lips yesterday at the East Boston dock where he had arrived on the steamer Hortensius from Montevideo, wondered how a man could endure such sufferings of body and mind and come out of it anything more than a rumbulating maniac, a human mockery.

For three weeks, which seemed to him as many centuries, Harke led an existence in which hunger rivalled thirst, hope strove desperately with despair, and delirium conjured up false shapes which, by their vanishing only intensified the horrors of his situation. Harke had companions, a pitiful few, to be sure, but without them he probably could not have provided himself with sufficient shelter to keep the howling winds from biting through his vitals. Nor could he, alone, have fashioned the boat which eventually bore him for six agonizing days over the bleak seas to the lighthouse whose blinking beacon had caught his misty eye and pointed out the path of salvation for himself and the others.

Harke was an able seaman on the bark Prussia when she called from Norfolk, Va., for Port Townsend, Wash., last March with a cargo of coal. When the sturdy vessel passed out by the Virginia Capes, on her long voyage, Harke was a giant in stature and strength. From his awful experience on that lonely lump of rock in the South Atlantic, he emerged a pathetic wreck of his old self. Months of nursing have not restored to him the splendid health and physique of which he was so proud.

Wedding Bells.

CARRUTHERS-ANDERSON.

NEWCASTLE, Thursday.—The marriage of Miss Clara M. Anderson and Mr. Gordon Carruthers of Orono, Me., formerly of Douglastown, took place at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. J. M. Anderson, on Wednesday evening, December 25. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. Brokie of the Congregational church, Orono. The bride wore a dress of white Indian lawn with trimmings of Valenciennes lace and insertion, and was given away by her brother, Mr. J. M. Anderson. After the ceremony supper was served to a number of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Carruthers received many beautiful and useful presents. They will reside in Orono for the winter.

GOVERNOR GENERAL'S LEEVEE

Ottawa, Tuesday.—There was a large attendance at the Governor-General's New Year Levee today, which was held in Earl Grey's office in the eastern block of the Government building.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation even to very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountain shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It cures the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, no nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a delicious plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. For sale by THOS. J. HAVE SIXTY DAYS IN JAIL.

Spiritualist Fortune Tellers Who Told Stories to Policeman go to Jail.

Manchester, Tuesday.—By handing out to Patrolman George P. Riordan, the surprising information that his parents were dead, when in reality they were both alive and well, and then accepting a price for it, Mrs. Albina Warren and Mrs. Leonora Marsh, two prominent Spiritualists and "seers" of this city, drew a full sentence of sixty days when the municipal court wheel was given its daily whirl this morning by Judge Heath. Denouncing fortune-telling as a "film-fam practice" and declaring his determination to stamp it out, the judge refused to give the women the option of paying a fine. They appealed and are now under $100 bail, waiting for the session of the Supreme Court next month. This is the first prosecution under a new State law making it unlawful to tell fortunes for money.

For a long time Manchester has been full of these so-called priestesses of fate. Finally Chief of Police Healy decided to make a campaign against them and sent out Riordan, a new man on the force, to get evidence. And Riordan got it, as was made evident by his testimony in court to-day.

Going to the homes of Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Marsh, he asked them to tell his fortune. Both said they would have to go into a trance first, and Riordan avers that Mrs. Warren did really seem to lose herself for a spell. With Mrs. Marsh, however, it was different. Every time the door bell was yanked she promptly came back to earth. After giving the butcher's boy an order for a yard or two of sausage links or shooting a sassy book pedler down the steps, Mrs. Marsh would return and resume her trance.

Both women, Riordan said, told him a lot about Indians and other things he wasn't interested in, and that's about all he could remember having heard them say, except, "the price, please," at the finish.

MANITOBA HOUSE OPENED SESSION.

Investigation re Wood Case Demanded By Press.

WINNIPEG, Thursday.—The twelfth annual legislature of Manitoba opened to-day with fourteen opposition and twenty-eight government members. Sir Daniel McMillan, Lieutenant-Governor, read the speech from the throne.

The feature of the session promises to be an attack on the government based upon the now famous Wood case. Wood was the president of a notorious bucket shop with headquarters in Winnipeg and with branches all over the west. Following numerous complaints of Wood's refusal to pay claims he was repeatedly arrested and finally left the province leaving a sum of money estimated at from ten to twenty thousand dollars with the government to pay claims. It is for this alleged compromise and the mystery surrounding the deal that the opposition is making a fight.

The Free Press demands an investigation and claims that either there was a scandalous injustice done to George W. Wood by the government who, please other parties, persecuted this man, blackened his character, arrested him on various occasions and charges, published scandalous statements about him in their organ, while the case was subjudice, and finally blackmailed him to an unknown amount out of which certain unknown claims of political friends were satisfied while claims of others were left unpaid or else the attorney general compounded a felony.

COUNT BONI IN BRAWL.

PARIS, Thursday.—Count Boni de Castellane and his cousin Prince Holle de Sagan had a fierce altercation today outside the church of the Aue de Chailot. The men pummelled each other and rolled in the gutter attracting a great crowd. Count Boni spat in the Princes face and this started the combat. Count Jean a brother of Boni separated the tilted scrapper.

The row was held during a service in memory of Lady Errington, a relative of both men. Prince de Sagan has been mentioned several times as the suitor of Boni's divorced wife, formerly Anna Gould, and it was this that caused the trouble.

The coal mines of the United States are killing three times as many men per 1000 employees as those of most European countries. In the last 17 years 28,840 men have given up their lives in the mines of the United States.

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused It to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert their mother, combined forces to restore the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their women friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the "edible" were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until to-day Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but not till she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of woman's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equaled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up. With woman assistants, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health" freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound: made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.

Yours for Health

and investigating mind, an earnest seeker after knowledge, and above all, possessed of a wonderfully sympathetic nature.

In 1843 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home medicines from roots and herbs, nature's own remedies—calling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and experience many of them gained a wonderful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs.

Mrs. Pinkham took a great interest in the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics and power over disease. She maintained that just as nature so bountifully provides in the harvest-fields and orchards vegetable foods of all kinds; so, if we but take the pains to find them, in the roots and herbs of the field there are remedies expressly designed to cure the various ills and weaknesses of the body, and it was her pleasure to search these out, and prepare simple and effective medicines for her own family and friends.

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured and it became quite popular among them.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.
