AUTO DRIVERS COMMITTED.

Charles Hartman and Oscar Muntz Sent Up

Charged With Causing Bodily Harm by Overspeeding.

White Pleaded Guilty of Stealing Those Tools

This morning Charles H. Hartman, o Hartman's Hotel, Merrick and MacNab streets, and Oscar Muntz appeared before Police Magistrate Jelfs on a charge of overspeeding the former's automobile and through wanton and furious driving causing bodily injury to Miss Glady on Good Friday last. Many will remem ber the accident on that Friday when the two young ladies, who were driving east street, between Caroline and Bay streets, were thrown from their rig the horse running into a telephone pole at Bay and Main streets. H. H. Bicknell pleaded not guilty and declined to elect in the defendant's behalf. F. R. Martin prosecuted. Miss Zimmerman, who is a music teacher and lives at 49 Victoria avenue south, was called and said that the accident happened about 4.30 in the afternoon. The auto came along behind them with two men in it and seemed to be going at a terrific rate of speed. The machine was making a lot of noise and the horse took fright. It mounted the sidewalk just as the car passed them in front of Dr. Husband's house and dashed down the street at a smart gallop. The auto was going at such a speed, however, that it easily passed the maddened horse. The witness said she and the other young lady both pulled on the lines but were unable to check the horse. The beast dodged the pole at Bay street, which is on the outside of the sidewalk, but the buggy struck it and they were pitched over the dash board. This was all she remembered. Miss Plewes corroborated her. Dr. Husband, told a similar story and judged the speed of the auto to be at least 20 miles an hour. William Maggee, no of the Bauk of Commerce, Harry Carpenter, Barrister, Samuel McKay, liverman, Reggie Lumsden and Orville Walsh, boys, all corroborated this, All the witnesses thought the speed to be at least 20 miles an hour. The evidence as to identification was not quite complete, but as Mr. Maggee identified the men the Magistrate committed them for trial.

Bail was fixed in the sum of $200 and was put up at once.

He urged the convention to elect Mr. McEwen on the ground that the Liberals of the Province were up in arms and determined to overthrow the Government, the legislation of which during its four years of office had merely consisted of one boast of the Premier that a poolroom at Toronto Junction had beer closed. President Tapscott presided over the proceedings, which closed with cheers for Hon. A. U. MacKay, the candidate and Mr. Curry. The Liberals of the riding are not induging in any vain boasting, but are confident that South Brant will remain true to Liberal traditions and principles at the coming election, as it has always been in the past.

Street Railway Matters.

Engineer Kellett, of the Street Railway Company, showed the Times correspondent through the power house last night where the new electrical equipment using Decew's Falls power had recently been installed. The new motors and dynamos are running fine and sufficient power is now available for the local service. The construction work, including double tracking, and the extension of the city lines and also the securing of new equipment is still being held back on account of the financial stringency. President Verner is finding difficulty in securing a market for the bonds of the company, but the proposition is regarded as a good one and the officials are optimistic of carrying out the work this summer.

The only suitor whose name has not been mentioned hitherto is Bert Albert, of Huron, S.D., to whom she is said to have promised marriage, a plan that never was carried out because of his lack of wealth.

The tenth body was turned up by the diggers at the Gunness farm shortly before 9 o'clock this morning. It is apparently the skeleton of a man. Another body has just been found at the Gunness farm. It was just underneath the spot where the first body of to-day's was found. It is supposed to be that of a woman.

Mrs. Bella Gunness, high priestess of murder, who at the back door of her farmhouse kept a private grave yard, from which 9 bodies have been unearthed, is alive. This was established beyond a reasonable doubt yesterday. An ordinary tape measure proved the agent which may solve the perplexing mystery of the long series of startling crimes. Careful measurements were taken of the headless trunk of the woman found in the ruins of the burned hope, which at first was thought to be the body of Mrs. Gunness. This resulted in the astounding revelation that the dead woman was not more than half the size or weight of the siren who is supposed to have lured a score of men to their death.

In addition to the convincing testimony of the tape, half a dozen of the intimate friends of Mrs. Gunness asserted with the positiveness of absolute convicing the start of the s

What the authorities have declared was an attempt to disturb the nine bodies dug up on the Gunness farm, so that identification of the remains would that identification of the remains would be impossible, was made to-day. Two men, whose identity is not known, broke into the carriage house of the farm, where the bodies have been placed, but were driven away by a watchman before they could do any hazm.

The authorities are searching for the men.

The day watchman at the farm of Daniel M. Heston said that the men claimed to be doctors, and had attempted to justify their presence on the place on professional grounds. He ordered them from the premises, but they refused to go until they learned that Joseph Maxson, Mrs. Gunness' man of all work, had been sent to summon the sheriff. The men gained entrance to the carriage house by placing a ladder on the side of the building and forcing open a window.

Matt and Oscar H. Budsberg, of Iola, Wis., sons of Ole B. Budsberg, whose disappearance from the Guinness farm is one of the mysteries of the case, arrived here at 3.15 p. m. They brought with them photographs of their father and information of his movements before his departure from Iola.

"My father said before he left Iola that he was coming to Laporte to work a farm," Matt Budsberg said in broken English. "He brought with him all the letters which he had received from Mrs. Gunness, and also $800 in money After his arrival here he raised $1,000 by selling a mortgage note through the Farmers' State Bank of Iola. Helgelein told again of the secrecy with which his brother had shrouded his movements before his departure from South Dakota. Enough was evolved to show that advertisements for a matrimonial agency had been printed in Scandinavian papers in the Northwest. Helgelein asserting that a single sheet printed in Norwegian and full of such notices had been circulated among his acquaintances.

The circumstances lead the investigators here to believe that Mrs. Gunness established communication with her victims through this agency, such a promise accounting for her relations with Ole B. Budsberg.

Because of the heavy rain it was decided shortly before noon that no further digging would be done upon the Guinness farm to-day. The work will be resumed.

While the storm raged heavily on the say, it was not a circumstance to its wful magnificence at the Beach. It was awful magnificence at the Beach. It was an aweinspiring sight, and old timers who witnessed it say that nothing has approached it since 1886. To begin with, the water was on a level with the top of the piers all day, and washed over it all the time. Part of the pier out in the lake was washed away. The sidewalk leading from the rear of the Royal Hamilton Yacht Club to the piers is floating, and will have to be fixed up immediately.

The Toronto & Niagara Power Company is also having its difficulties. The foundations of the third tower on the north side of the canal has beeu washed away. It is but a short time ago since the second tower washed away. Down toward station 26 will be seen houses floating around in the water. The large number of houses that were moved at the time the Niagara & Toronto company put its power line in, to the bay side at station 26, were floating yesterday, and the house of Mr. Perkins was on an island. Below the power house, at station 30, the road was submerged to the extent of eighteen inches. The Radial tracks are all right, however.

The Radial was a sufferer, in that the water raised quite high in the inlet, flooding the tracks and making it necessary to have the people change cars at the Ferrie street bridge and walk to the Deering station to get another car.

Nearly every woman would feel better for a Cascaret every day. Women exercise less than men. That's why they need help most.

A woman moved into a new flat with a bath room, and she said to a visitor: "You don't know how anxious I am for Saturday night. I want to take a bath."

The way is to take one Cascaret just as soon as you know that you need it. The results are as pleasant as the dose. Those who exercise enough, and eat coarse food and plenty of fruit, don't need them. All others do need them. Cascarets do just what Nature does for those in salary is he always satisfied, even if it was what he asked for? Not always. It depends entirely how the advance was given. It is not merely the fact that you receive "more money" for your work that satisfies the average employee; it is the feeling, "Are your services appreciated?"

The successful business manager, we all know, is one who surrounds himself with a force of bright and energetic young men who execute correctly and promptly his ideas, and the most successful manager and the one who gets the best results is he who has that greatest of all requisites, tact, and can make his employees feel he is interested in what they are doing for his interest. No young man with any degree of manliness expects or wants-his employer to pat him on the back and say: "You're doing fine, John; keep it up."

But the greatest stimulus an employer or manager can give to his business is to let his employees know he appreciates their efforts and watches their work from day to day.

If you have a young man in your employ that is due for a raise do not see how long you can "bluff him out of it." If he has earned the advance give it to him without any solicitation on his part whatever, and when you do tell him what a pleasure it is to give the same and that you appreciate his efforts.

The advance might not be all that you would like to give, but is the best that can be done at the present, and thank him for his attention to business and loyalty to the firm.
