After feasting on the good things provided, the perform, Rev. H. McDiarmid, introduced the chief amagicars of the avaning Dr ne chief speakers of the evening, Dr. G. Brown, secretary of the Baptist preign missions, and Dr. W. T. Stack-A. 6. Brown, secretary of the Baptist foreign missions, and Dr. W. T. Stack-house, general secretary of the Baptist Laymen's Missionary Union. Dr. Brown, as the first speaker, outlined the mis-sionary movement 98 years ago, and also the commencement of the laymen's missionary movement two years ago. His address was helpful and instructive te all. Dr. Stackhouse spoke of the suc-cess of this movement throughout the whole of the Dominion where he has travelled, saying that it was also found that when foreign missions were pro-portionately so. He pointed out that over twice as much was spent on chew-ing gum alone than was given to mis-sions. His forceful and brillint address was listened to with great attention. At the close a brief discussion took place on missions.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 15, 1909

Therefore, I appear to the many friends and sympathizers of our city to help me with funds for this purpose. The piercing gusts of wintry winds seem to voice the pangs of poverty and remind us of the dead hopes of mothers with large families to care for—they often being robbed of bread winner through sickness, accident, death or other causes, while numbers of widows and orphans have a dreary future to look into. The work of the Salvation Army is now so well known and understood that lengthy explanations are needless, and years of experience in dealing with the destitute have taught us to discriminate between the worthy and those who are not. Last year we were able, through the generosity of a number of ladies and gentlemen, to supply a large number of baskets full of substantial provisions, and to clothe those who, but for these gifts, would have suffered intensely, and on their behalf I again thank you. This year the need is great, and to enable us to take food to those now suffering through keen want. I ask your most generous assistance, by sending either money, produce, or old but warm clothing. If you will kindy send a post card, I will have parcels called for. Letters, information or parcels to be addressed to Major Wiltkindy send a post card, I will have parcels called for. In the name of the poor, I thank you in anticipation of a hearty response to my appeal. A PLEA FOR MERCY. (Ladies' Home Journal.) I saw girls of 17 and 18 weeping ith pain and weariness at 11 o'clock at night, as with shaking fingers they made their counters attractive against the next day's brutal rush. I saw one girl drop in a dead faint after selling dolls to a fond mother of children. I say little boys fall asleep in rubbish corners at the noon hour, their untasted luncheons in their tired hands. That night, when I went to my sup-per I saw a boy, small for 16 years, sit-ting on a box, before the employers' ele-vator, for which he waited. He looked up at me, and with the craving for sym-pathy innate in children, he sighed softly: "Oh, my God, I wish 11 o'clock would come." Holmes

Pathetic, you say? Yes; but who is responsible for such suffering? The wo-men who delay their Christmas shopping until the last moment, for the above is an actual picture of worn-out and nerve-racked *fore clerks in Christmas week, when the thoughtlessness of thousands of women compel storekeepers to keep optn their stores in the evenings. What trait is it in woman that she will pro-crastinate in her Christmas shopping? Is it so strange that she is called heart-less and ioluman? Cannot the average woman realize that it is to their own advantage, to say nothin's of common human mercy to the shop clerks, to do her Christmas buying bé-fore December 15th? Every woman who does this does a Christlike act. BOMB FOR BISHOP.

Interesting Facts Concerning the Eskimo.

Boximo. "In all my experience I had never encountered a rougher, more difficult country in which to hunt than in Ellesmere Land. Ordinarily, I should have believed these mountain sides, with walls of smooth rock sheathed with a crust of have ice and snow, quite unscalable. In places they were almost perpendicular. Rarely did they offer a crevice to serve as foot or hand hold, and jutting points and firm-set bowlders were too widely scattered to be of much help. In this his native land the Eskimo has a decided advantage over the white hunter. His lifetime of experience has taught, him to scale these ice-clad heights with a nimbleness and ease that are astounding. He is quite fearless, and even the mountain sheep is not, his superior as a climber. As if by magic, and with little apparent effort, the two Eskimos flew up the slippery walls, far outstripping me. How they did it I you now lar it is from one point to an-other. On very many occasions I noted this peculiarity when traveling with them. Often when they told me a place we were bound for was very close at hand, it developed that we were far from it. This is something they are never sure of and cannot indicate. The Eskimos have a white man "stung to death." from every point of view. They not only can go to sleep promptly, but sleep soundly ond well as they tra-vel, when circumstances permit. They get sustenance, too, by eating hard-fr/czen walrus and seat meat or blubber. This I could never do, for it is so strong in flave: that it invariably nauseated me, though I did succeed very well with raw hare or deer's meat when I had it. --Harry Whitney, in January Outing.
