An Educational Need.

We wish to-day to emphasize again the need of supplementing our educational system by some scheme which shall enable those who are at work either as apprentices or as journeymen to pursue studies which will fit them to live a fuller life as citizens and get on in their calling. We feel we cannot emphasize too much the singular lack of facilities in Newfoundland in this respect. Yesterday we gave a quotation from some remarks made by Dr. Robertson on what the Commission of which he is Chairman had observed in the home land. To-day we give another quotation of what he says about the new educational movement in Ireland and Scotland.

"Perhaps from no other country were we able to learn as much concerning efficiency in organization and in the carrying out of methods for the training of the workers as in Ireland and Scotland respectively. The municipal technical college at Belfast is a beautiful building and a model of well considered suitability for instruction in the principles that underlie the various trades, crafts and occupations followed in that great shipbuilding and textile center. This organization and instruction for the rural population in Ireland provides for all classes and all localities. Leaders are trained at the Royal Albert Agricultural College near Dublin. Farm schools with a one year's course for practical farming are provided at different centres, and a travelling pastoral instructor, who visits anywhere from four to twelve farms and farmers per day, spends his whole time in a small area settled anew by small holders under the congested districts board. We found such a man in charge of some two hundred and fifty 'colonists,' each having about twenty-five acres of land that had formerly been a large grazing estate. I was there three years after the first allocation. Many of the 'colonists' had put half of their area under tillage, and were growing fine crops of oats, barley, potatoes and other roots. A new spirit of confidence and hopefulness seemed to be replacing the old attitude of resentment at conditions in the beautiful, lovely, distressed island.

"From Scotland there is so much to learn that one is embarrassed in seeking for only a few examples that may be presented in a few words. Edinburgh and Glasgow, with the present provision for industrial training and technical education, have no reason to be ashamed of their effort in the presence of the best that is being done in Munich, Dresden or other German cities. They were probably twenty years later in getting started, but have made up more than five years of the leeway during the last eight years of energetic work. In the smaller towns of Scotland provision is made for technical education in a manner full of instruction for Canada. Particular instances are Dunfermline, Glasgow and Hawick. The latter has long been a garden city, before that name had been used to designate a movement for the more sanitary and beautiful housing of the workers. Among all the places which I visited, I think it stands easily first as a textile industrial center for the housing of its workers, well-kept appearance of its streets, and the everywhere abundant flower gardens, with throngs of children playing on the grass."

Makes the Hair Beautiful.

At last a remedy has been discovered that will positively destroy the pest Dandruff. That Dandruff is caused by germs is accepted by every sensible person. Dandruff is the root of all hair evils. SALVIA will kill the dandruff germs and improve Dandruff in ten days, or money back. 50c. a bottle.

Sports and Pastimes in Nfld.

"Sports and Pastimes in Newfoundland" is an excellent number and the publishers are to be congratulated on its excellent appearance. As the title denotes, it deals with the athletic life of the Colony. It covers curling, salmon fishing, golf, football, autoing, hockey, shooting, cricket, croquet, bowls, skating, re Bowring gift, swimming, running and walking, wrestling. The photographs include the officers of the Curling Club, its home and last year's banquet, the golf house, the officers of the Football League and the champions (Collegians), the Secretary of the Hockey League, William Duff, the champion walker and runner, and his brother John; Young Olson, wearing his championship belt; and many others. It will be on sale Monday. Messrs. R. Dowden and E. J. Penney are the publishers.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIS- TEMPER.

Science Says Alum is Unfit for Use in Food.

In Great Britain no one is allowed to sell Alum hidden in baking-powder, because the English law protects the people from this injurious acid.

Canada has not yet enacted a law against the use of alum, and as alum in baking-powder cannot be detected by its appearance, many manufacturers are using this condemned acid because it is a cheap adulterant.

It is a fact that alum in your stomach produces the same disagreeable results to the delicate organism as you will feel in your mouth by putting a tiny piece on your tongue. Science shows that alum reduces the flow of the gastric juices and weakens their power of assimilation, causing indigestion and the ill that follow.

No housewife should buy a baking-powder made by a manufacturer that is afraid to print the ingredients plainly on the label of each can, and wording should state that there is no alum in disguise inside.

Another Letter From Mr. English.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Is it not astounding that a man claiming to have had twenty years of journalistic experience, and who according to Sir Edward Morris is the one, "than whom I know of no body in the country better able to do the subject the fullest justice?" These words are from the "Foreword" to the incomprehensible bundle of errors, "Newfoundland in 1911." God help our poor country if that book is to be taken as a product of her best intellect. I am inclined to think that Sir Edward had regard to that part of the book only which treats so kindly of the Morris Administration.

There are people in this country of every whit as good judgment as Mr. McGrath, who do not see eye to eye to him in that respect either. It is no great credit to Sir Edward Morris to be the god-father of Mr. McGrath's book. I did not intend that this review should develop a political aspect, but one cannot help remarking the prominence given to the Morris Government by the author. Even the London Times comments on this phase of the book. It says, "Mr. McGrath also pays somewhat marked attention to the powers that be, for as the present Prime Minister of Newfoundland introduces the book and its author, so the author devotes a chapter to Sir Edward Morris as 'the Man of the Hour,' and another chapter to 'the Morris Government's Work.' Morris praises McGrath and McGrath praises Morris, forming as it were a kind of mutual admiration club. It is quite plain that the book was written not so much to forward this country as to boost Sir Edward Morris and party."

It would be too bare-faced entirely to issue a book openly to praise the Morris party, so recourse was had to the flimsy expedient of publishing a book with a kind of blind title. The tawdry raiment of pretended history cannot conceal that which is intended in a covert way to be the embodiment of the work. The man or party that finds it necessary to be treated to such fulsome flattery, especially to have that adulation insinuated between the leaves of what purports to be a treatise on Newfoundland, must be in desperate straits indeed.

The book is a rancid coating to a rotten pill. I have digressed somewhat from my original intention, let us go back to where we left off, our review of Mr. McGrath's geography of Newfoundland. I have proven that the compiler of "Caliban" has not much knowledge of the physical features of this country. I will now prove that he is ignorant of the exact position of Newfoundland in relation to other parts of the globe. If you will turn up page 22 of the reliable book you will see what I mean.

On that page we are told that "St. John's, near the southern extremity of the Island is in the same latitude as Paris, and its northern point at Belle Isle Strait, is in that of Edinburgh." The Scottish capital is in the latitude of Davis Inlet, just south of Nain, Labrador. The latitude of Edinburgh is somewhere about 55 degrees, 55 min. N., whilst that of Cape Norm is 51 degrees, 38 min. N. There are thus 4 degrees, 17 min. difference between the parallels of Edinburgh and the most northerly part of Newfoundland, a difference of 257 nautical or 291 Eng. statute miles, not a bad hiatus, especially if it could be taken up by Mr. McGrath's friends as timber limits. I had intended looking a bit into the natural history, game and inland fisheries, parts of the most reliable book, but on account of this rather lengthy digression I must allow that part to be over for another paper.

STILL SINGING THEIR PRAISES.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS DOING GREAT WORK IN SAS. KATCHEWAN.

Mrs. Emel Carlson tells how quickly and completely they cured her Kidney Trouble.

Colonsay, Sask., Dec. 8. (Special).—No remedy has done as much for the wheat growers of Saskatchewan as Dodd's Kidney Pills. They occupy a place in the family medicine chest on nearly every farm, and every day brings fresh evidence of the great work they are doing. One of the latest to sing their praises in this neighbourhood is Mrs. Emel Carlson. Here is what she is telling her many friends:

"For about two years I was sorely troubled with Kidney Disease brought on by a strain. My heart bothered me. My sleep was broken and unrefreshing and I was always tired and nervous. The least exertion would cause me to perspire freely, and my perspiration had an unpleasant odor. "Three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me. They are certainly the best medicine I ever used."

If you have any of Mrs. Carlson's symptoms your kidneys are wrong. Make them right with Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mary Brien, administratrix, summoned Wm. O'Brien and Mary Brien, of Topsail, for malicious injury to her property during the month of October. It appears that plaintiff put a fence around her estate which partly barred up defendants' property and they cut it down, repeating this when it was re-erected. Plaintiff claimed damages and defendants asked for right of way. After the evidence of several witnesses had been taken the case was adjourned sine die to enable the counsel engaged to visit the locus in quo.
