yesterday evening and watched our soldier lads marching along, and as soldier lads marching along, and as he looked a feeling of pride mingled with a tinge of sorrow coursed through his frame. There they were —our own boys, our own kith and kin und off to do their bit for King and Country and Empire. A jolly crowd they were, everyone of them full of life and vigor, their every movement demonstrating the pluck and energy that goes to stimulate the true sol-dier and help him to forget the ties that bind him to home and kindred. And as the Cute Man looked about him and gazed on the throng, the admiring friends who pressed forward to bid farewell to the lads, the thought occurred to him, how suddenly many of us realize that we are old and unfit for the herculean task of the warrior. There were men there who before the call to arms went forth, no doubt felt that they were as young and full of life as ever, but in a day that feeling was subdued and the realization of stiffness in the limbs ha taken place of the false idea of youtl fulness. The more he thought of the sadder the thought became, for is not a pleasing reality to force itse ret a doubt seemed to linger with the Cute Man, a doubt that seemed to suggest that he was a "slacker." Of ourse his teeth were not in the very est order, his sight, too, had becon mewhat impaired, but yet he felt imself admitting something akin to owardice. Oh, what a debt we owe those plucky fellows who have taken u pthe burden of fighting in order up the burden of fighting in order It is only at a time like this that we feel it keenly, and as the lads em-barked, he sent up a prayer that Peace may be soon proclaimed, a Peace that will mean the enjoyments of Liberty to the fullest extent, a Peace that will restore to us the ng to-day. This programme will clipse any previously shown at this popular house. Francis X Bushman, the people's favorite, will be seen in one of his strongest character por-trayals in the two reel feature: "Un-Royal Patronage." This renowned production is said to be the "last word" in two part subjects. Other photo plays to be shown include "The Parent Strain," a meritorious Lubin ffering; "Grouch-the Engineer," a drama of pronounced trength, and two comedies, one "The lumber's Picnic" and the other "The Fall of Muscle-Bound Hiscks." thur Priestman Camermon will sing one of his peculiar songs and the nusical programme has been placed in the hands of the talented young local pianiste, Miss Elsie Tapper.

MR. DUGUID SINGS INFILICE AND A DREAM.

A very attractive programme has en arranged for the Nickel Theatre his evening, and it will no doubt atact large audiences. Forbes Law has two more n and the other "A Dream" by Bartlett. With such excellent numbers on the programme large attendances are asured. There will be another epi-ode of "Our Mutual Girl" in which Maragaret is seen as a detective. "The Ferror of Anger" is a most attractive social drama. "The man from the Sea" is a powerful melo-drama. 'Stout Hearts but Weak Knees" is a Keysctone comedy. In to-day's pic-cure's the destruction of two automobiles is seen. One falls over a cliff and the other goes over a wharf to a river. Wednesday there will be e "Million Dollar Mystery," and on thich Francis X Bushman stars This Ladies' World contest in America relions have seen it in the States and all lovers of the Nickel here will want

BIG BILL AT "OURS."

There is one of the best programmes ever seen at "Ours" in the West End. The arrival of the new chipment of pictures was eagerly cooked for and they are certainly up to the high class of pictures shown at Rossley's; every film is an interest-ing subject, and all by the first class artistes. There are comedies, dramas, travelogues. The Western films that always hold the andience, Mrs. Rossley is giving all her sunshine girls their chance to make good as little rovelists, and to-day sees two other ways constitutions. other new singers that is new to Our.
