The War's Losses.

All the great wars of history, both sacred and profane, fade into utter insignificance compared with the present struggle in Europe. When Napoleon invaded Russia in 1812 with an army of half a million men this number was considered for these days colossal. The War of Secession in the United States of America 1861-65 was fought with roughly a little more than a million men on both sides, and this muster was looked upon as unprecedented in military history. The total of the belligerents to-day is a staggering one and consequently the casualties are in proportion to the bodies of troops engaged. As no official statement of all the war losses up to the end of the fourth year of fighting has been given out, and it is quite probable that it cannot be made with any real authority, the information hitherto published has been based on approximates. Great Britain publishes regularly her casualty lists and up to a certain date Germany did likewise, and then for reasons ceased. Neither France, Austria or Russia have printed any official figures. In the early days of the war the former country must have been hit hard, but was never, as many publicists declared, "bled white." Russia certainly endured tremendous losses, because though ill armed, her men were determined and in many cases fought the enemy barehanded, while those having arms held out and died by divisions. Italy's losses were not really serious and even after the reverse of her armies at Caporetto, the losses suffered were mostly in prisoners, and up to the present the real Italian casualties have been moderate compared with those of the other Allies. Up to a year ago, Belgium, Serbia and Roumania had severe losses, but since then their numbers have declined, there being a comparative absence of fighting in these countries. The Current History Magazine in the August issue gives an estimate of the total losses of the chief belligerents during the four years of war ending on the 4th of last month. In that estimate we find the United States credited with a total of 11,239, of which 4,482 were killed. Since the increase in the arrival of American troops at the front, however, their casualties have been enlarged in proportion. Britain up to July 1st of the present year has suffered 1,413,928, the death list including 434,744. To date her casualties have increased to nearly 2,000,000. France's total toll was 2,775,928, of which 1,375,069 were slain. The list of Russia is enormous, there being 2,762,064 dead. Italy's proportion was 160,356 killed or died of wounds out of a list of 490,000. Belgium counts 63,250 dead on a record of 246,148. For King and Country brave little Serbia's losses are 76,484 dead, her total casualty list numbering 337,654. Roumania's record is 350,000, of which the dead comprise 100,000. So far as the German losses can be estimated it is reckoned that out of 6,382,320 casualties, 1,812,500 were slain, and this list has been augmented largely since July 1st. The losses of the Dual Empire were 2,743,685, the dead amounting to nearly one million. Turkey had 553,096 casualties, with the slain totalling 182,844; while Bulgaria, which played the least noble part in the conflict, escaped with losses of only 30,452 men. The difficulty of reckoning the permanent losses will be easily seen, when it is estimated that sixty or more per cent. of the wounded return to the firing line. A summing up of the figures given will show the total Allied casualties reach the incredible number of 11,052,953, with a death roll of 4,976,484. The losses of the enemy for the same period were 9,709,583, the total dead numbering 2,970,836. In the grand total over twenty millions have been included in casualty returns with a death roll of 7,945,320, a number equal to the population of Canada and Newfoundland. The mind can scarcely grasp the magnitude of the slaughter which swept nearly eight millions of men out of existence, and the worst is that the butchery must continue until the objects for which the Allies are waging this righteous war are attained. Peace for the world will be dearly bought, but to make it permanent the mighty sacrifice of life will not have been offered in vain.

Proposed Educational Scheme for Labrador.

Outlined by Rev. Henry Gordon.

Rev. Henry Gordon, missionary for Labrador, gave an interesting and touching address on the great need for improved educational conditions in his extensive mission of 699 miles of coast line, at Canon Wood Hall last night. His Excellency the Governor presided, and in opening the meeting, expressed himself in sympathy with Mr. Gordon in his great mission work. His Excellency had been interviewed by Mr. Gordon, who submitted his plans for an improved educational system for Labrador. His Excellency thinking the subject was one that the Government should be interested in, consulted with Hon. M. G. Winter, Church Warden for St. Thomas's, and learned from him the inadvisability of seeking Government aid at present, or in other words the time was not opportune. His Excellency then introduced the lecturer, that intrepid Englishman who has done great work in a far flung mission along the bleak coast of Labrador, where he has labored incessantly to uplift and educate a people whose forefathers were of the same stock as the original settlers of Newfoundland, but through the lack of education and intermarriage with the natives, the generations that followed, down to the present day have lost many of their fine traits of character and in a great many cases their morale is exceedingly low. It is for the uplifting of those people that Mr. Gordon pleads for the support of the people of St. John's. On Monday next we hope to publish a complete account of Rev. Mr. Gordon's lecture. Mr. Richards, a returned and badly wounded soldier of the Royal Nfld. Regiment, followed, and gave a brief sketch of his work last winter as a travelling school teacher in the Cartwright mission. Mr. John Withers, at the request of Rev. Dr. Jones, spoke at length on the question of Education in general and much to the disappointment of those present threw, as it were, a wet blanket over Rev. Gordon's educational scheme. Mr. Withers thought it was a waste of money and that no good would come out of it. He suggested that the whole population of Labrador should be removed to some congenial climate on similar lines as that proposed (but not yet carried out) by the Canadian Government to remove settlers from off the Canadian Labrador to Western Canada. Rev. Canon Bolt representing the C. C. C. S. spoke briefly of church work on the Labrador and assured Rev. Gordon of all possible support from the Society he represented. In conclusion Rev. Gordon thanked his Excellency for presiding and also availed of the opportunity to put things right with the audience and to remove the unfortunate impression made by Mr. Withers in his discouraging remarks.

Rev. Gordon's great educational scheme is of the broadest type ever introduced in this country and is deserving of the whole hearted support of all classes.

Ralph Barrett R. F. C.

Yesterday, Mr. Geo. Barrett received a cable from his son Ralph, containing the pleasing intelligence that he had passed his examination with honors and had been given a commission as Lieutenant in the Royal Flying Corps. He will be leaving for home on furlough shortly, before taking up active duty in France. Lieut. Barrett is a brother of Lieut. Harold Barrett, of "Ours," who was killed in action August 16th, 1917. Amongst others the Telegram extends to Ralph hearty congratulations and as well to Mr. and Mrs. Barrett who are honored in having such brave and worthy sons.

Wednesday's Big Baseball Games.

A great difference of opinion exists among both players and fans alike as to who should comprise the personnel of the City baseball team, but in this respect it may safely be left to the manager, who for five years has been custodian of the Reid silverware, and during that period he has never let it slip from his grasp. Nevertheless the Major is up against it just at present as he has both the quantity and quality of material this season and the picking is rather difficult. However, the big weeding out will take place on Wednesday morning when all the favourites will be lined up in a clash to decide which nine are to have the honour and glory of journeying to Grand Falls to compete in the Inter-Town series. An exciting contest is therefore assured.

The main clash, however, is scheduled for the afternoon when this year's champs—the Cubs—will face the all-star City team. The youngsters will be up against some formidable aggregation, and if they can get away with it they certainly deserve all the encomiums that will be bestowed on them by the fans. It is thought that this will produce the classiest game ever seen here.

The morning game will start at 10.30 and the afternoon game at 3 o'clock.

EXPRESS PASSENGERS.—The following first class passengers are on the incoming express which left Port aux Basques this morning: Rev. H. T. Ranouf, R. E. Brown, J. Baxter, Miss E. Pike, Miss A. Pike, R. Bates.

Lieut. Goodyear Killed in Action.

Grand Falls, Sept. 6.—A message conveying the sad news that Hedley Goodyear, son of Josiah Goodyear, had been killed in action, was received here to-day, causing profound regret throughout the entire community, and the stricken family have the heartfelt sympathy of all. This makes the third son of the Goodyear family who have given his life that others may live, while two other brothers have been wounded. Hedley was a Lieutenant in a Canadian regiment, and at the time of enlistment was pursuing college courses and had already obtained the degree of Master of Arts.

H. F. FITZGERALD.

Killed in Action.

Yesterday, Mr. Eric A. Bowring received the sad intelligence that his brother, Frank H. Bowring, and cousin to Sir Edgar A. Bowring, had been killed while fighting Somewhere in France, on August 28th. Major Bowring, of the 2nd Battalion, King's Liverpool Irish Regiment, was born in Newfoundland, son of the late Hon. Chas. Bowring and of Mrs. Bowring, who now resides at Sifton Park, Liverpool, England. At the outbreak of the war, Major Bowring was a practising lawyer in the city of Liverpool, and although his was an extensive practice, the call of duty was not put in vain, and he at once enlisted for active service. To his mother, to Mr. Eric Bowring, to his brothers and to the entire family, deepest and genuine sympathy will be extended by all. However, theirs is a loss that amounts to a profit, and they can well feel proud of his memory, for Major Bowring died a hero and a gentleman.

Obituary.

REV. J. L. DAWSON.

Former Pastor of Gower Street and George Street Methodist Churches.

Halifax, Sept. 3.—The Methodist Church of the Maritime Provinces was deeply bereaved yesterday by the death of Rev. John L. Dawson, which occurred at noon at the residence of the sisters of his late wife, the Misses Lockhart, 43 Carleton St. The deceased, who had been in poor health for several months was one of the most widely known Wesleyan clergymen of Eastern Canada.

J. L. Dawson was born in 1851 at Tryon, P.E.I., the second son of the late Thomas Dawson. He joined the Methodist Church, and shortly afterwards decided to make the ministry of the Gospel his life work. After four years at Mount Allison and Boston Theological Seminary he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Mount Allison in 1875, but his health had broken and he was forced to spend the greater part of three years near Denver. In 1878 he returned to Eastern Canada, became a probationer, and after three years spent in Hebron, Yarmouth county, and Bailey's Bay, Bermuda, he was ordained at Granville Ferry in 1881. He had a more varied ministry than usually falls to the lot of Methodist ministers and was pastor of the following circuits: Sheet Harbor, Lockeport, Oxford, Halifax (Robie and Charles Streets), Windsor, St. John's, Nfld.; Sackville, Sussex, St. John, Mount Stewart, P.E.I., Charlottetown and York.

His wife (Grace A. Lockhart) predeceased him by three years. There are left to mourn their loss three sons—Kenneth L. and John C. of Halifax, and Wilfred T., who at present is a cadet in the school of gunnery, Witley, England. Also two brothers, George B. Dawson of St. Croix, Hant's county, N.S., and S. Edward Dawson of Portland, Oregon; and two sisters, Mrs. George Ives, of North Tryon, P.E.I., and Mrs. Chas. L. Wright, of Victoria, P.E.I. The remains will be taken to Tryon, P.E.I., for interment.

MARIE MURPHY.

At 6.30 last evening, a bright young life was brought to a close, when Miss Marie Murphy, eldest daughter of Constable T. J. and Mrs. Murphy, passed to her eternal rest at the early age of 22 years, after an illness of some months' duration. She leaves to mourn her, besides the grief-stricken parents, two sisters, Peggy and Kathleen, one brother, Thomas, of the Royal Nfld. Regiment, and a large number of friends. Funeral takes place on Sunday, at 2.30 p.m. from her late residence, 85 Long's Hill.—R.I.P.

C. E. I. Defeat Collegians.

In the final game of the regular Football League series at St. George's Field last night, the C. E. I. defeated the Collegians by a score of 4 goals to 0. The game however was fairly fast and had it not been for Noseworthy's good work in goal for the Collegians his team would have suffered greater defeat. The extra round to decide the championship was drawn after the game. The contesting teams in the opening game of the final round will be the C. E. I. and Star and will be run off on Monday night. The standing of the teams at present are:

Peace Terms on Which the U. S. Will Insist

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge delivered a speech in the United States Senate last week which has deservedly attracted wide attention, in the course of which he set forth the only terms of peace which will satisfy the United States, following this by a warning as to the immense task before the nation and the necessity for turning a deaf ear to German peace propaganda, and to the "whimperings of pacifists at home." Peace, he said, must be a dictated peace, and the victory making such a peace possible "must be won finally and thoroughly inside, and not outside, the German frontier." Such a peace, he asserted, can be won nowhere else. These are th terms upon which Senator Lodge says the United States will insist, and short of which there can be no permanent security for civilization:

Belgium must be restored.

Alsace and Lorraine must be returned unconditionally to France.

All areas where the Italian race is predominant, including Trieste, must go back to Italy.

Independence for Serbia and Roumania.

Greece must be made secure.

The great Slav populations, now under Austria, must be established as independent States.

The Polish people must have an independent Poland.

Russian provinces taken by the Brest-Litovsk peace treaty must be restored to Russia.

Turkey must be driven out of Europe, and Constantinople must be placed in the hands of the Allied nations as a free port.

Bulgaria and Turkey both must share the fate of Germany.

Palestine must never return to Turkish rule; the Christians of Asia Minor must be made safe.

Senator Lodge dismissed the arguments of those who favor a negotiated peace by saying they overlook the fact that this war is utterly different from any that the world has previously known. Because it is, the peace to come after it must be utterly different from any peace which has ever been agreed upon before. He declared unequivocably that the war must be carried across the enemy's frontier. He said:

"It cannot be a peace of bargain, of give and take and of arrangement. No peace that satisfies Germany in any degree can ever satisfy us.

"It cannot be a negotiated peace. It must be a dictated peace, and we and our Allies must dictate it.

"The victory bringing such a peace must be won inside, not outside, the German frontier. It must be won finally and thoroughly in German territory, and can be so won nowhere else.

"In no other way can we secure the safety for which we are fighting. In no other way can we justify the
