

Don't Delay Another Day!

The time to fix your roof is now—while the weather is warm.

If you put felt or rubber roofing on your roof in warm weather it will fit snugly to your roof, won't crack, won't bag and will give you greater satisfaction. DO IT NOW.

If your roof is in fair condition, just small cracks here and there, fix these cracks with LASTY-GUM—it stops leaks. Lasty Gum is sold in 5-pound pails, at $1.50 each.

If your roof is in good condition, give it a coat of Special Roof Coating, which will keep it good for another two or three years. Remember, Prevention is better than Cure.

Don't wait for your roof to leak; prevent it from leaking by coating it now. A 5-gallon can of Special Roof Coating will cost you only $3.50.

If your roof needs a new covering we recommend VULCANITE ROOFING, which we sell in full 36 inch size rolls to cover 100 square feet at $5.00 per roll; complete with nails and cement. Vulcanite is made and guaranteed by the Beaver Board Company.

We can also supply VULCANITE ROOFING in 18 inch widths, containing a double supply of nails and cement at $5.40 per roll, to cover 100 square feet.

Congo Rubberized Roofing full size rolls to cover 100 square feet, $3.75 per roll, complete with enough nails and cement to put on your roof immediately.

We can also supply you with Red or Green Sanded Roofing, but we do not recommend it. Vulcanite either 36 inch or better still 18 inch is more durable.

Hexagon Rubberized Shingles are better than wood shingles; they require no painting, won't turn up with the wind and are absolutely fire-proof; $13.00 per square of 100 square feet. You can see them on dwelling house No. 86 Duckworth Street; they're worth looking at.

We also have in stock Builders' Roofing Pitch in small barrels; Paving Pitch, Coal Tar in tierces and barrels; Pine Tar, Leptyne, a turpentine substitute, in 5-gallon cans for painters' use, at $5.00 per can.

We have just received one thousand rolls of Barrett's Red Seal Board Roofing Felt.

THE LOVE PIG.

"Love that asketh love again
Finds the barter naught but pain.
Love that giveth in full store
Aye receives as much and more."

I know a woman who is considered by most of the people who know her as extraordinarily selfish. And so she is in many ways. But on the other hand she is extraordinarily unselfish about one thing. You would never guess what it is. Not clothes, nor jewelry, nor any material possession. Not even about having her own way. The one thing this woman is selfish about is love. She is absolutely greedy about getting all the love she can.

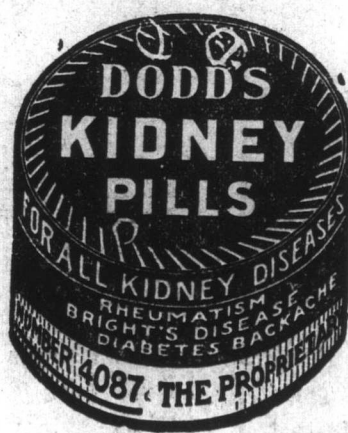

You don't call that selfishness? You call it a commendable ambition? I don't agree with you. I think it is impossible to cause almost as much unhappiness by love greediness as by any other kind. And I think this woman does.

Always Love Greedy.
It has always been so with her. If she had a friend she wanted all of that friend. She hated to hear that friend speak cordially of other friends; she hated to have her have a good time with other friends. She wanted not only to be first in her friend's affections but second and third and fourth as well.

In her family it was the same. She had a favorite sister and she did all she could to cut that favorite sister out from the rest of the family and have her for her own. I don't think she realized that she was doing it. But she loved her sister and was eager to do everything she could for her and in return she wanted an extraordinary amount of affection. And to attain this end she subconsciously (I know she would never have done it consciously) tried to make the sister feel that the other sisters did not care as much for her, and that she could not care so much for them.

She Would Think You Insane. She is married now and, as in inevitable, her love greediness has intensified. She concentrates on her husband. She will do anything for him, sacrifice herself in any way for him, and she doesn't ask self-sacrifice

What is News.

(From the "Musings of Moses" in Newspaperdom.)

Recently this question came up from one of these somebodies who want to know something more: "What is News?" The Bulletin of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association brought it to light by reprinting an editorial from the Nashville Tennessean. Dana's definition was quoted—"If a dog bites a man it is not news, but if a man bites a dog, it is." The Tennessean editor took issue with Dana, saying it all depended upon who the man was that the dog bit. Then there is the older definition that "news is any violation of the Ten Commandments," which is pretty accurate at that.

My definition of news, in a broad sense, is anything that arouses in the human breast those emotions that your good mother failed to teach you when you knelt at her knees. The people want to feed upon unclean fodder, and the papers give it to them. If you don't give folks what they want they will go to another dealer. Anything that stirs up the wigglers in the loins will find a far greater audience than anything that stirs up the molecules in the mind. It is sad to admit, but true nevertheless

Corns Go
Just say
Blue-jay
to your druggist

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in a colorless clear liquid (one drop does it!) and in extra thin plaster. The action is the same.

Pain Stops Instantly

that human nature is not inherently "moral," as that term is generally understood.

The biggest piece of news to the average man is his own name in print. A little item in the local column saying he has just returned from a trip to the next county, or has traded off his Ford and a cow for a new Dodge, is to him of far more importance than the Genoa Conference or the Irish farce.

After a reader's own vanity has been satisfied, he or she will greedily devour anything with a Hollywood date line. Hollywood is synonymous with nastiness, and a high percentage of modern news is so saturated with sex that it stinks. News also consists of calamity, pestilence, violence, crime, lawsuits, prize fights, scandal and the jargon of the flappers. It is news if somebody succeeds in cutting off an additional quarter of an inch from a lady's bathing suit without exposing the source of the human race.

Jack Dempsey wearing a monocle supplied by his press agent is a bigger piece of news than a proposed bridge across North River from New York Town to Jersey.

Henry Ford is news. He oozes it. You editors can no more keep him off the front page than you can silence Bryan, Ford, Bryan and Billy Sunday were formerly the triumvirate around which much news was built, but Sunday is falling. He is going because the superstition, ignorance and fear that he voices are already gone, and even Billy himself cannot revive a corpse.

HOMESICKNESS.

Some day, to soothe my homesick soul, I'll go to Punktown-in-the-Hole. I was born; by night I dream of Punktown friends, and when the happy vision ends I wake, distressed, forlorn. I yearn once more to walk around the Punktown square,

RESPONDENT

Editor Evening Telegram
Dear Sir,—As indicated
in the matter of the "Howling
Pack" from Bowring Park
has been used in such a way as to lead the public to believe that I am only come to pay duty to them within the park, I ask the editor
to please put the matter
to rest.

To do this, I had to publish all correspondence
between me and the editor,
and to give the public
the right to authority with reference.

On April 7th, 1922,
the Minister, as follows:
Regarding the "Howling
Pack" from Bowring Park,
Mr. Hall that the road
opened from Water
Molloy's Lane, I would
point out the advice
concerning the work up to Bowring Park.

Where, there is no road
for autos and horses
especially on Sunday
days, when we have a great number of women
which naturally claim
the right of way.

Trusting this will give your favorability
and will be of interest to the public.

Yours truly,
A. P.

which I received a letter, reading:—
The work to which the matter referred to the Citizens' Committee has been done as relief services of Mr. Hall at the disposal of the this connection. It will be necessary for
with the Committee
that Major Butler.

Very truly,
A. P.

held a conference
on the matter,
and to Mr. Hall,
who was a member
of the Citizens' Committee,
and for works. Meeting with Mr. Hall on the two later, I spoke
him, and he said that
Hon. Dr. Campbell, Chairman
of the Citizens' Committee,
had been at the meeting
three or four days ago, so that I had the time. My letter
