A Barrier Removed.—At no period in the history of the world has music been more critically studied and universally appreciated than at the present time. We can boast of distinguished composers and instrumental performers an honor to to any country or age. Almost every cultivated household has its musical instrument of some kind. The size and expense of the Organ has always been a bar to its becoming a popular instrument for general use, but the progressive improvements in the Estey Cottage Organs have fully removed these embarrassments. In these instruments the essential elements of the Organ have been combined with a purtable size and at a far less expense. The Estey Organs combine valuble improvements attached to no other musical instrument made. These instruments have the highest recommendation from those who are acquainted with them, and have never failed to give entire satisfaction. We invite musicans and the public to examine and test these organs before buying any other. They can only be obtained at the Arcade of Music, Guelph. A. C. Osborne, wholesale agent, Guelph.
